SCANDAL IN NEW YORK.

The following bit of gossip appears in the New York correspondence of a Philadelphia paper:-Cossip here has had, as the Bible says of sin, a 'sweet morsel' to 'roll under her tongue,' in the shape of scandal, for a few days. The gentleman concerned in the contretemps is a Mr. F., about nineteen, and the son of one of one of the firm of the important silk house of F-& Co. The ladr is, or was, a Miss Bisset, or Bishop, a danseuse at some of the theatres. Mr. F., rumor assures us, becoming enamored of the face or feet of the fair Bayadere, disguised himself in shabby clothing, and, applying to the property man of the theatre, secured an engagement as a 'supe,' in order to be near the object of his idolatry. Such devotion could not be without its effect The lady and her cher amie were soon seen riding out together on the High Bridge, dining in the priday week the two lovers visited Brooklyn in company and were married. Three days after, the energed papa of the bridegroom discovered the inde himself the object of universal laughter, frut by threatening to prosecute the whole theatre for a conspiracy to ruin his son, and next by ing the most ridiculous means to obtate the laly's certificate of marriage, under the belief that If he could once destroy the document in ques tion, the union would be annulled. The old genman's folly has filled the streets with comments, course. In the meantime, the lady helds on to one day in his father's attic, and the ut in his bride's arms-a refreshing alternation

The real originators of the meeting of this ernoon—the only people who have anything to gain by it-are such men as Seward, Garrison and Greeley. They have thrown argument to the dogs long since. Reason will suit their cause no more. They must have other weapons. At Washington they are trying to wear out the patience of their adversaries, and to call in hunger and sleep to at dark last evening. This is a rule that has been their aid. Conceive the justice of a cause which requires the aid of such schemes as forcing the House to sit for thirty-six hours! Here, we have all manner of panaceas for the case. Seward thinks nothing can save the country but his Presidency. Garrison will be satisfied with nothing but disunion. Greeley goes for all of these, but superadds the notion of burning the Capitol and destroying its inmates. It is with a view to carry out this scheme that the meeting of this afternoon has been called. The shocking injustice about to practised on the North will be dilated on in the cars of an inflamed multitude, and Mr. We have received the April No. re-publication Greeley's scheme will not lack sympathizers. We have incendiaries enough for the purpose here. A body of men could easily be organized to start in the first train for Washington, so as to burn four. $8; Blackwood's Magazine, 8; Blackwood the Capitol on Monday evening. They might be allowed the clothes and property of members as their usual fee in such cases. The Capitol in ashes, and Congress dissolved by the destruction of its members, it is considered that Mr. Seward's Presidency, and Mr. Greeley's Secretaryship would be as good as settled. It is for this that the meeting of to-day is called."

MR. CRITTENDEN.

The Frankfort (Ky.) Commonwealth, publish n the town where Mr. Crittenden resides, thus explains the "volunteering" of Mr. C. in the defence of M. F. Ward, who killed Professor Butler:

" Mr. Crittenden is not at home, and in his absence it is not easy to obtain all the facts connected with his appearance in the case, nor do we feel entirely at liberty to use, without his knowledge or consent, such as we have obtained. We will. however, say thus much: Several months ago it was communicated to Mr. Crittenden, from Mr. Ward, that he wished to engage his professional services in the defence of his son. Mr. Crittenden was not at liberty to refuse, if he had felt ever so much inclined to do so; for it is a settled principle with the bar and bench that an application to appear in the defence upon the criminal prosecution is never to be refused if compliance be possible and consistent with previous engagements. This principle is grounded in chief upon these reasons : First, every man accused of crime, whather

Mr. Ward wished to secure Mr. Crittenden's professional services for his son. Mr. Crittenden was not at liberty to refuse; he was bound to appear in the case, and, so far as appearing in it was concerned, he was no "volunteer." One question only remained, Should he accept a fee, or should he render the services gratuitously, as an act of friendship towards the father of the accused, who had been his intimate personal friend for many years? He decided on the latter; he would take instant. We suppose the Lecturers do not make no fee. One of his friends understands that a very liberal one was intimated or offered to him. PAID OFF AND ROBBED.

PHIGADELPHIA, May 18. On Thursday last, the crew of the sloop of war amestown were paid off, and as sailors are fond of spending money they must needs, some of them at least, have a land cruise to dispose of their hallast. As usual, a number of land sharks were on the look out to plunder the tars, and the well filled pockets of the latter were in several instances relieved of some of their contents. A good natured fellow, named James Williams, obtained over $380 pay, and after depositing about $200 of the amount with his landlord for safe keeping, men suppose him to be guilty or innocent, has a started off for a spree; by night he had become well fuddled, and while in that condition he fell in with three young fellows who accompanied street, and while there was relieved of his surplus funds. SPAIN-MR. SOULE. A dispatch from Washington to the New York

The imminent danger of war with Spain cannot be over estimated. It is believed that before 30 matters to this extreme, but that the instructions with which he was armed were based upon the idea that Spain would be frightened into listening to propositions for the purchase of Cuba.

Private letters have been received here stating that Mr. Soule has lost the good grace of the fickle Queen of Spain, who is completely in the hands of her Cabinet. As for the Cabinet, they are represented as the supple instruments of Eugland and France; but not only the purchase of Caba, but also the acquiescence of Spain in the demands so strongly put forth by the United States seem further off than ever. On the other hand, Mr. Soule has established the most friendly rela tions with the Queen Mother, and she is as warmly in favor of the sale of Caba as the Queen and her Ministers are opposed to it. Thue the matter nd as long as the present Spanish Cablnot hole together, English and French interests
