Mr. BURRITT is renowned as a gentleman of fine talents and great acquirements. He is better known to most of our readers as "the learned Blacksmith," and has acquired his present high standing without the aid of schools.

GREENSBORO' FEMALE COLLEGE. The Greensboro' Patriot gives a very gratifying account of the proceedings of the Commencement of this College, which took place last week. The annual semmon was preached by the Rev. N. F. Betn, preacher in charge at this place. The Patriot speaks in high terms of this sermon and also of the address before the two literary societies, by C. H. WILEY, Esq. Professor EVERHEART pronounced an original Poem, of great merit, on commencement day. Prof. Jones conducted the exercises in the absence of Prof. DEEMS, and delivered a fine address on the occasion. Nine young ladics received Diplomas of Graduation. The Institution is very well conducted and is in a highly flourishing condition.

A RUMOR.

A Washington letter writer of the New York Herald says : Orders have been sent by the Secretary of the Navy to delay all vessels of war under sailing orders, and hold them in readiness for immediate service. This precaution has been taken in view of our present critical relations with Spain. Doubtful. We do not think Uncle Sam is apt to be scared before he is hurt.

THE "GRAPE SHOT."

There was a report brought by the Europa, that the American barque Grape Shot, which was some time ago freighted at New York with muskets, by Mr. GEORGE LAW, had turned privateer, and wrong, from the massacre of whole communities captured a French vessel off the English coast. This turns out to be a mistake. It was a Russian street-preacher in our America. frigate that captured the French vessel.

MANNERS AND FASHIONS.

The last Westminster Review has an article of some length on Manners and Fashions. After enumerating the details and formalities which attend fashionable society and formal associations, the writer speaks to the understandings and the heart, as follows: "How delightful a Pic Nic of friends, who forget all observances save those dicly startled. tated by good nature! How pleasant the little unpretending gatherings of book-societies, and the like; or those purely accidental meetings of a few people well known to each other ! Then, inand congratulates the country upon the prospect deed, we may see that a man "sharpeneth the countenance of his friend." Cheeks flush and eyes sparkle. The witty grow brilliant, and even the dull are excited into saying good things .-There is an overflow of topics; and the right thought, and the right words to put it in, spring up unsought. Grave alternates with gay: now serious converse, and pow jokes, anecdotes and playful raillery. Every one's best nature is shown; every one's best feelings are in pleasurable activity : and, for the time, life seems we'l worth having. Go now and dress for some half past eight dinner, or some "ten o'c'ock at home," and present yourself in spotless attire, and with every hair arranged to perfection. How great the difference !'

It is very difficult to get at the true position of Mr. Sours, and to find out what he is really saying and doing. On the arrival of the special messenger, Mr. Window, with instructions, Mr. Soule prepared and sent to the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs M. Calderon de la Barca, a very calm, clear and firm demand, containing two propositions: first, indemnity; secondly, guarantee for the future, by the appointment of a diplomatic agent at Havana, with powers to meet these cases. This was delivered to M. Calderon, with a request for a prompt response, but not specifying the time which was allowed to make the response. At the end of twenty-four hours, Mr. Soule, receiving no reply, another note was sent, in substance the same the first, and adding that if at the end of twenty-four hours a response was not received, he should take it for granted that the Spanish government approved the action of the Cuban autherities, and he should act accordingly. This stitution, "the purchased tools of an infamous was delivered by the Secretary, Mr. Perry, in person. When M. Calderon had finished reading the note, Mr. Perry coolly drew out his watch and said :

"Your Excellency will please observe that it is now 12 o'clock ; at 12 o'clock to-morrow, precisely, I shall be here for a reply.

"Holy Virgin ! young man, what do you mean?" exclaimed the Minister " holy week and a Sunday intervening : it is impossible !" Mr. Perry left. Before the termination of the twenty-four hours, Mr. Soule received a response from M. Calderon, stating that it was out of the power of the government to act in the matter, inasmuch as they had received no official intelligence from Cuba to guide them in their negotia-tions, and adding that the manner of Mr. Soule clearly indicated that the government of the United States was much more anxious for a difficulty than for a settlement.

To this Mr. Soule responded, again reiterating his first demands, and adding—rather imperti-nently, it must be admitted—that he was satisfied that full information had been received from Cuon, and that in reference to the designs of the United States, they sought only a prompt settlement of the difficulty in order to preserve the ful relations which existed between the two tries; that the continued insults which the inban authorities had offered the United States had so exasperated the people that a prompt set-tiement would be found the surest guarantee of Four Fires at Richmond within Twelve Hours.

The following is a letter to the Petersburg Express, Dated May 21

My dear Archbishop, I feel constrained to say that during your lordship's absence that strange orginization of extraordinary patriots-the "knowdiary is busily at work in this city, and we have nothings"- has been making great progress among us. I fear that we have not seen anything more than the commencement of this great movement.
