NEWS.

From the Baltimore Sun of Wednesday. THE BOSTON PUCITIVE SLAVE EXCITENENT The Boston papers are filled with ac-counts of the doings of the rioters in that city, bu: nearly all the main facts have been on Sunday, Theodore Parker, previous to delivering his usual sermon, at Music Hall, where there was a large crowd, indulged, at some length, in his characteristic style in denunciation of slavery, the Nebraska bill, and the U.S. officers. As a specimen of what he said, we quote:

'I deliberately charge it upon you, Edthe county of Suffolk, United States Commissioner, before the citizens of Boson, on this Ascension Sunday, assembled rship God-I charge you deliberately rith the murder of a man on Friday night ast I charge you with putting in peril the lives of nine men, who were arrested, the marks by which the claimant professes charged with that murder. I charge you with filling Boston Courthouse with one hundred and eighty-four hired ruffians, and alarming not only our own citizens, but stirring up the whole population of this Commonwealth, and filling them with in dignation, the results of which no man has yet seen the end. That, my friends, is my morning lesson-let us sing the 168

On the other hand, some of the papers dell Phillips should, by all means, be ar-from most of the pulpits of the city on Sunday, in relation to the fugitive and the exstement. Col. Suttle, at one time, agreed to sell the fugitive for $1,200, which was raised, but it is alleged he considered the natter, and determined to test the law, and see if it could be enforced by the authorities, in defrance of the mob.

At the examination on Monday, Mr. Wilham Brent, of Richmond, to whom the fugitive was hired, testined to his identity, and to the fact of his being the slave of Col. Suttle. We have already given the substance of his testimony. He stated that Burns, the fugitive, told Col. Boston, May 80 .- In the case of Burns, to-day, Mr. Ellis, counsel for the defense, introduced his testimony. The first witness swore most positively that he saw Burns, the alleged fugitive, in Boston, on the 1st of March, and employed him on the 4th at Mattapan Iron Works, South Boston. His testimony was confirmed by Mr. Drew, the book-keeper at Mattapan Iron Works.

Both witnesses were closely cross examned, but their testimony remains unshaken. The testimony so far is convincing that Burns was in Boston three weeks before the date of his escape, as alleged in the complaint. The general opinion is that he is really the slave of Suttle, but that a fatal error in date has been made in the

James G. Whittemore, a member of the common council, and formerly director in the Mattapan Iron Works, Stephen Mattock and B. M. Gilman, employees at the same works, and John Favor, a master carpenter, also testified positively to seeing Burns in Boston before March 8th. The three first named notice particularly to identify him. Horace Brown, a police officer, formerly employed at the Mattapan Works, testified to the same effect. The testimony for the defense here closed, and the court adjourned till to-morrow.

ASCENE IN THE SANCTUARY. Trinity Church presented a somewhat unusual scene on Sunday afternoon last. A great many Germen and Irish emigrants the most of them said to have just arrived contend that Theodore Parker and Wen from one of the ships stranded on the coast -came into the aisles en masse. The most rested to answer the charge of inciting the of them were clothed in the most grotesque riot which led to the murder of an officer apparel—some of the women with caps on, in the discharge of his duty.

It is said that sermons were preached and some without; the men in jackets and dren looked so sunburnt and weather beaten and altogether in so sorry a plight as to excite one's commisseration. The group halted immediately under the organ-gallery, while some of them proceeded up the middle aisle in the direction of the chancel, and, though not joining in the external services of the sanctuary, it needed but little discernment to discover that the motive which brought them together under that On being conveyed to the watchouse, a loaded revolver and a dirk-knife were found upon his person. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were formerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all other physicians now ad-sertising in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; therefore, persons afflicted with diseases of the above nature, no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be," would do well to call on Dr. Smith, at his office. No. 16, South Frederick St., and if not effectively. tably relieved no reinuneration will be required for his services. His medicines are free from Mercury and all mineral poisons; put up in a neat and com-pact form, and may be taken in a public or private house, or while travelling, without exposure or hin-drance from business, and except in cases of vio-ent inflammation, no change of diet is necessary.

STRICTURES. - Dr. Smith has discovered a new method by which he can cure the worst form of stricture and that without pain or inconvenience to the patient. Irritation of the uretha, or prostrate glande, or neck of the bladder, is sometimes mistaken cr strictures by general practitioners or charlatans.

and others afflicted with Seminal Debility, wheth er originating from a Certain Destructive Habit, or from any other cause, with train of bedity and mental evils which follow, when neglected, should make an early application, thereby avoiding much trouble and suffering, as well as expense. By his improved method of treatment, Dr. S. can safely guarantee a speedy and perfect cure in all cases of this complaint.

TO FEMALES. All discases poculiar to Females (as also Suppressions, Irregularities, &c.) speedily and effectually removed. The efficacy of his remedies, for the cure of the above affections, have been well tested n an extensive practice for the last twelve years.

Persons at a distance may consult Dr. S. by a letter, post-paid, describing case, and have medicine securely put up and forwarded to any part of the United States, always accompanied with full and explicit directions for use. Messrs. A. B. &, D Sanns: Gentlemen.—Having witnessed the most beneficial effects from the use of your Sarsaparilla, it gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. In the spring of 1848 he took a severe cold. and after eight weeks of severe suffering the dis-ease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven ulcers formed on the leg and foot at one time. We had five different Physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so emaciated and low that he was winter found him so emaciated and low that he was unable to leave his: ed, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle verying from one half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery, but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and appettic began immediately to improve, and so rapid was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure.

Well, here I am, after once more in the village where I was torn. The sun is up now; and ablitue brightly. Things appear the same, and yet different. How is it? There was a big tree used to stand at the corner; and where is the Carteris cottage?

Three days ago I landed at Portsmouth. It was on my birth-day. For ten long years have I been sailing about on the sea, and wandering about on the land. How things come over me! I am a man; but for that I could sit dawn and cry like a for that I could sit down and cry like a child.

It seems to me as yesterday alone I ran away from home. I got up in the morning at some wife, while my father and mother were asleep. Many and many a time had I been undutiful to my poor mother and unkind to my father, and the day before he told me how wrong it was He spoke kindly and in sorrow, but my pride would not bear it; I thought I would leave home. What is it that makes me tremble so how?

so now? My father coughed as I went by his door, and I thought I heard my mother speak to him; so I stood a moment, with my little bundle in my hand, holding my breath. He coughed again. I have seemed to hear that cough in every part of the

When I had unlocked the door, my heart failed me; for my sister had kissed me over night, and told me she had something to tell me in the morning: I knew what it was; she had been knitting a pair of garters to give me on my birthday. I turned back, opened the door of her little room and locked at her; but my tears fell on the bed clothes, and I was afraid it would awake her. Half blinded I groped down stairs. down stairs.

Just as I had gently closed the door, the casement rattled above my head. I looked up and there was my mother. She spoke to me, and when I did not answer, she cried aloud to me. That cry has rung in my ear ever since, aye, and in my very dreams.

As I hurried away, I felt, I suppose, no Cain felt when he murdered his brother.— My father, my mother, and my sister had been kind to me, I had been unkind to them; and in leaving thus, I felt as if was murdering them all.

Had I been a robber, I could not have felt more guilty. But what do I say that for? I was a robber! I was robbing them of their peace. I was stealing from them what the whole worl! could not make up for them; yet on I went. Oh that I could bring back that hour.

The hills look as purple as they did when I used to climb them. The rooks are cawing among the elms by the church. I was wondering if they are the same rooks!-There's a shivering comes over me as I get nearer home. Home! I feel that there's no home for me.

Here is the corner of the hedge, and the old seat, but my father is not in it. There is the patch of ground that my sister called her garden, but she is not walking in it. And yonder is the bed-room window; mother is not looking out of it now. 1 cry! that cry!.

I see how it is. There are none of them here, or things would not look as they do Father would not let the weeds grow in this fashion, nor let the thatch fall in, and my mother and sister would never suffe that straw through the broken panes.

I'll rap at the door, any how. How holdow it sounds! Nobody stre. All is night as the grave. I'll peep in at the window. It's an empty house, that's clear. Tendong years! How could it be otherwise? I can bear hard work and thirst, but I can't The elderberry is in blossom as it was when I ran away; and the woodbine is as fresh as ever, running to the window which my nother opened to call after me. I could call after her now loud enough to be heard a mile, if I thought she could hear me.

It's no use stopping here. I'll cross the church yard to see if the clerk lives where he did; but he wouldn't know me. My cheek was like the rose when I went away, but the sun has made it another away, but the sun has made at another color. This is a new gate. How narrow the path is between the graves! The old sun-dial I see standing there yet. The last time I was in that church my father was with me, and the text was—"My con, hear thou the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother." Oh what a curse we bring upon us when we what a curse we bring upon us when we despise God's holy word!

My uncle lies under the yew trees, there, and he had a grave stone. Here it is .-FOX & POLHEMUS,
