MISCELLANY.

The Triumph of a Travelling Mesmerist in a D'ficulty.

The author of 'Sam Slick,' observes in the course of a work he has just published, that the trials to which traveling Mesmerists are put in America, are, at times, humiliating and painful enough, albeit they | place. afford infinite sport to the unbelievers .-One poor fellow, on arriving at a town in Detroit to lecture, was surrounded by severnl citizens who told him there was a theumatic patient up stairs, who must be cured, or he himself would be escorted out of town, astride of a rail, with the accompanying ceremonies. We had better give the rest of the story as it was related by the disciple of ME MER himself:

.. Upstars I went with 'em, mad as thun. der I tell you; first at being thought a humbug, and next, that my individuoal share of the American Eagle should be compelled into a measure, by thunder. I'd a gin them a fight, if it had'nt ben for the science, which would a suffered anyhow. so I jest said to myself, let 'em bring on their rheumatiz! I felt as if I could a mesmerized a horse, and I determined whatever the case might be, I'd make it squeal, by thunder!

"Here he is,' said they, and in we all bundled into a room, gathering round a bed, with me shut in among 'em, and the cussed big on-enligh ened heathen tast did the talking, drawing out an almighty bowle knife at the same time. 'That's your man,' said he. Well, there lay a miserable-looking critter, with his eyes sot and his mouth open, and his jaws got wider and wider as he saw the crowd and the bowie knife, I tell you. 'That's the idea,' said old Big ·Rise up in that bed,' said I, and I tell you what, I must a looked at him dreadful. for up he jamped on eend, as if he'd jest get a streak of galvanic.

Git out on this floor,' said I, with a wuss look, and I wish I may be shot if out he didn't come, lookin' wild, I tell ye!

"Now, cut dirt, drot you! screamed I. and Jehu Gineral Jackson!-if he didni make a straight shirt-tail for the door, may I never make another pass. After him I went, and after me they cum, and prchaps there wasn't the orfullest stampede down three pair of stars that ever occurred it liff at Ipswich, on a charge of having six Michigan! Down cut old rheumatiz wives! The build asked how he could through the bar-room-out I cut after hum be so hardened a villiam, as to delude so both on us. MURDER WILL OUT.

eently come to light, and which was perpetrated in December last, upon a Mr Thomas Eastabrook, of Reading, Vt., for merly of Ene County, New York. Mr. Eastabrook was on his way to Michigan, to marry a lady of that State, and reached a tavern within two and a half imles of the residence of his betrothed. This was the last that was heard of him, until a few weeks ago, when a man who was arrested for largency in the county where Mr. E. disappeared, confessed that he was one of the munterers, and detailed the circumstances. It seems that two men met Mr E. at the tavern in question, and engaged to take him to his destination; that on the way they encountered three other men, the prisoner being one, with a wagon and two horses. The latter party stated that they were going to the same place with the others, and invited them to get in and ride. which they did. They snon stopped the vehicle, knocked Eastabrook down, stabbed him to the heart, divided his money. some eight hundred dollars, among them. divided also his clothes, and buried the body under a stump The body was found as described. Two others of the murderers have been arrested. It appears the five ruffians had learned that Mr. Eastabrook had purchased a place in the neighborhood. and would have money with him, and accordingly deliberately planned this revolting crime, to get possession of the funds.

Albany N Y., July 21. PIG WAR.

The municieal pig war rages here at present, much to the dismay of our adoptel 'citizens.' Various stratagems are re sorted to on the part of hog-owners to evade the edict which casts out the swine into suburban quarters The local reports give some rich scenes. Yesterday an Emeralder made himself conspicuous, in his et forts to assist an M. P. in capturing pigs in order to prove himself on the law's side.' Many were the porkers laid sprawhing by his stalwart hand, but, all at once, in the attempt to capture a mammoth grun ter, he was observed to hang back. But the animal was brought up nevertheless, and thrown on his back.

'Och murther,' cries Paddy, 'What 'as What's the matter?' asked the M. P. 'Sure it's mesilf that's cotched me own pig. Be jabers-yez made me a soocide." 'All right,' cried the relentless officer and pork was immediately carted off, while Paddy, scratching his head, va ated at once the office of assistant-hogreeve.

An old crone in Water-street had hoisted her swinish family into an attic chainber, bestowing them, as she conceived quite out of danger.

Where are your pigs, ma'm? demanded the officer.

'Gone where ?" Och to boord in the country, sure. The erethurs 'nd be takin' the cholery in the

'It's no go,' answered the officer, and immediately proceeded to the upper room, where a whole litter of piglings was concealed in a box under the "childer's bed," and the old sow grunted behind the fire

CHILDISH SINCERITY.

A lady who was quite in the habit of dropping in at her neighbor's about mealtimes, in the hope of obtaining an invitation to partake with the family, was recently completely nonplussed by the unhesitating rankness of a child.

Knowing that a neighbor's supper hour was five, she called in about 4, and settled herself down for a long call. "It takes two to make a bargain," and the lady honored with the call had no idea of giving an invitation, if it was in her pow-Accordingly, the hour of five brought no idications of supper. Time wore on, the sun was near its setting, and still the same. A little girl, the neighbor's daughter, began to grow quite uneasy. At length, her mother having gone out for a moment the

and friends.

Point of Roaks, Frederick Co., Mp., } June 5th, 1851. DR. SWAYNE: Dear Sir - Believing it a duty D I owe to the public, and in justice to you, I have thought proper to make known one of the most extraordinary cures, or my own case, that has ever been truly recorded. In the month of October last, I was afflicted with a severe garherand also communicated to my jungs and very much afflicted them, and discharged large quan tities of corruption, external end internal. My oreath could also pass through my lungs and out through the eavity of my breast with apparent ease, attended with a violent cough day and night, less of appetite, and extreme debility, so that my abysicians thought my case extremely hopeless and beyond the power of medicine. I remained n this wretched condition for a long time, until I as wasted to a mere skeleton, and there seemed be no hope for me, but, having read in the pui-papers of the many wond rful cures performed YOUR COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILL HERRY, I immediately sent to Baltimore for five bottles and commenced its use, and, to my creat satisfaction and that of my anxious family he abscess or opening in my lungs began to hear. and the cough subsided, and on using ten notifes I was restored to perfect health. I feel very grateui, and firmly believe that in your medicine, un for the blessings of Divine Providence, I am in debted for this great change and am happy to say but I am now enjoying a good health as I ever

MISCELLANY.

From the New York Day Book of July 28. THE DEATH OF MISS FILLMORE. We published yesterday the melancholy idings of the death of Miss Abigail Fillmore, only daughter of Ex-President Fillmore, at Aurora, in Erre county, in this State, on Wednesday morning last, after a sickness of a few hours from the cholera. She had left Buffalo the previous day, in apparently good health, to spend a few days among her friends at the village where

Mis Fillmore was an amiable, interesting and educated young lady, and at her decease was some twenty two years of age. Some years ago, and, we believe, while her father was a member of Congress, she emcounty of Erie. She thus gave the best and most truly exalted promises in her early girlhood of her future usefulness as an active member of society. And her brief and simple history, in connection with the highest official honors with which our State and our country have invested her worthy father, furnished another illustration of the simplicity, and majesty, and nobleness of

she only went to die.

our republican institutions. In her life, and in that of her father and his family, we have another of the many examples that "useful employment" is the crowning attracte of the American character and or American society, and the surest and safest passport to the highest so-

During Mr. Fulmore's official residence at Washington as President of the United States, his deceased daughter resided with him at the White House, and from her doassuming manners, her native intelligence, and gental and kindly disposition, won the respect and esteem of all the visiters with whom she was brought into contact at the Executive transion, or among the social circles of Washington, and especially those of her awn sex. She was there betrothed to a deserving young lawyer. Mr. R. G. campbell, of this city, who died here some eighteen month ago. He had been the private secretary of the President, and from the intimate associations with the Executive family attendant upon this confidential official oposition, the happy agreement beween the two young people was doubtless consummated.

In his death, her bright anticipations of the future here were overshadowed, and now so suddenly herself called away beyoud the narrow boundary which divides us from E ernity, we may feel assured of the more enduring realities of bappiness which she has chieved in that better land beyond the grave. We sympathize with the bereased father in his affiction. It is but a short time since that we had to lament the death of his universally respected wife. But death knows no distinction of persons; and in the percavements of Clay, Webster Calboun, has, and others among the hi, hast in their fficial promotions and successes, we are orcibly reminded that even the Path of glory leads but to the grave. The career of the youthful subject of his notice was brief, unobtrusive, simple and quiet, but the sphere which she filled was one of usefulness-beamiful, and honorable, and true-and worthy of imitation by the proudest of her sex.

She was a modest, interesting young American woman, in the true sense of the term, carrying out by her own example. her faith in the dignity and the glory of an educated people, and in the equality which our institutions recognize among all our deserving citizens. "She will sing unto the angels the final triumph she has won." FUNERAL OF MISS FILLMORE,

BUFFALO, July 27, 1854. The funeral of Miss Fillmore took place this morning. It was attended by a large concourse of the leading citizens. More deep felt and general grief has been seldom witnessed than was manifested throughout the city. Miss Fillmore was exceedingly amiable in her disposition, and was beloved by everybody. Every heart feels as though it had suffered personal bereavement. Her loss will long be felt, Mr. Fillmore feels it keenly, and his spirits are much broken.
