KATIE AND THE CHOLERA.

BY PAULINE.

I had been for several days endeavoring to trace the whereabouts of Katie S, a girl who had for several years faithfully performed her duties as nurse to an dged mother, supporting both herself and parents by dress making. Katie had a neat. tasteful way with ther needle and scissors. that gave great satisfaction to those who were so fortunate as to gain her services, Katie's mother died, and the lonely gir married a man who had long hung around her, but whom ner mother did not exactly approve. He was a free-handed, thought less young fellow, a clerk in the House of -, a wholesale wine merchant.

From that time, Katie watched day by day his gradual departure from all that constitutes a man, into the lowest degradation of utter bestiality. press says that a slave named William, belonging to Mr. Hines, was tried at Surry Courthouse last week for the commission of a rape on the person of Mrs. R. Rogers, a very pious and excellent lady, and sentenced to be hung in October next. The evidence of Mrs. Robinson proved about the following facts :- There being a "corn shucking" in the neighborhood, her husband left home in the afternoon to attend it. Shortly after he left, William, the prisoner, made his appearance at the door Dec. 13 of her dwelling. She desired to know what he wanted. MISCELLANY.

From the Baltimore Clipper

Some of the leading politicians are loud their myectives against the "Know Nothings." The most insidious and malignant hatred of their supposed principles are being inculcated. The opponents will find it no easy task to satisfy the public mind of the truth of their assertions. The Know Nothings" are not to be thus easly entrapped by a set of politicians whose motives are dictated by purely selfish con-siderations. The great mass of the people are being rapidly impressed with the importance of guarding sacredly American rights and privileges. The feeling is ripe for a bold and manly resistance to foreign aggression. Apart from the entire body of politicians, it may be affirmed that there are a goodly number of Whigs and Democrats (Americans in heart and sentiment) who will never turn their backs upon a party whose motio is, American protection gainst foreign aggression. We have plenty of clear-headed, honest and industrious citizens eminently fitted to grace with dignity and character, the councils of the nation-competent to make for her good and wholesome laws. Why should not the interests of all classes be represented equaly on the floor of Congress, and in the legslatures of the respective States ? Who are your political leaders? They are all lawyers with few exceptions. Who als ap-pointed to the best and most luchative offies in the gift of either State for General and also communicated to ney lungs and very -Government? They too are buwyers. If 1 am in error 1 am open to conviction. This being true, the people, the source of all power, have contributed much towards brough the cavity of my breast with apparent ase, attended with a violent cough day and night, recting upon our soil an aristocracy-the most permicious of all aristocracies-that of political power. It may be safely affir med that from the foundation of the government 19-20ths of all the offices worth having have been monopolized by this class of our fellow-citizens. In no government on earth is such monstrous doctrine either. practiced or entertained. Kugwledge of he law is very good in its place, but it is not the sina qua non for fitness for office .---Let those who doubt the correctness of what is herein stated, direct their attention to those who are in office and they will find 1 am right. The very breaking out of a war is even made the basis of the perpetration of this odious and unjust feature.

Take, for instance, those who were appointed to the highest military honors, they were all of them lawyers. Cushing, Pierce;

Congress the vast sympathy manifested in behalf of the "Know Nothings." With every fresh laurel acquired that sympathy is augmented. It would be both wise and politic for the "Know Nothings" to ana!"

yze that mystic word of politicians, before they entrust to them the carrying out the principles which form their creed. They have a great battle to fight, and certain vic-tory awaits them in '56. Will they con fiele the establishment of their principles to the allied forces, or will common prudence dictate that success is nevel so sure as when the battle is waged by generals of their own faith and making?

There is one feature in the homestead bill which of ittself, is calculated to give additional stimulus to the exertions of the Know Nothing party;" and cause its tanks rapidly to augment. It is an un-disguised overture to conciliate the foreign vote ; and its passage will secure this result. Look at the operation of it! A rapid increase of emigrants to our shores, which under the present rule of naturalization, would in a few years add upwards of a million of votes to the party which originated it. Tho next step will be to lessen the perion of naturalization. To guard agains this manifest inversion of American interests and rights, every true hearted American should present a firm breastwork and deal a blow that would lay it prostrute forever. "Measures consefvative in their nature can accomplish the work. The principle of the homestead bill, which deals so kindly with ahens, is a gross infraction of every principle of the constitution. True, Congress is empowered to make rules, &c. for the territories-either expressed or implied to rule it for the benefit of aliens. The territory is the property of the people of the United States.

It is placed in the trust fund of government for their sole benefit and use. It was the purchase of their blood and treasure.

Who are the citizens of the United States?

They are those who are born on the soil of being naturalized, have sworn to support the constitution-none but such are entitled to the free use of the territory. The whole scheme is to catch votes; and the American people are not to be deluded.

"Take me to your mother and I will see what can be done," said I

The place was wretched in the extreme I found Kate the ghost of her former self but she recognized me with a convulsive scream of delight, as though she now hoped for consolation in her trouble. Lying upon the floor in a most horrible condition was the man who was once the dapper young clerk to whom Katie in her inno cent love, had given her happpiness, some years before.

"I could not get any one to help him up on the bed for me; they are all so afraid of the cholera," said Katte. "There is where he fell when he came home intoxicated "hast night." I left the room to send some lers by the late trains. one without for a doctor, and when I returned Katie said-

"I could not get a physician to come, al though I sent little Frank several times -No one would go for me, and I could not leave my poor baby."

I had seen much of the practice of celebrated physician in Philadelphia at the time the cholera was here five years ago This physician avoided all mineral drugs, and used water very freely and with great success. I could not have gathered sufficient nerve to apply any of these remedies to that loathsome object on the floor. Partsnebs, N. Y. 20th, 1851. Messrs A. B. & D. Saxner Gendemen. - Hav ing winnessed the most beneficial effects from the use of your Sarsapatilla, it gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. In the spring of 1848 he cook a severe cold. and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven uleers formed on the 'eg and fost at on time. We had fived iff rent Physicians, but none relieved bim much; and the last winter found him so emacinted and low that he was unable to leave his ed, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle varying from one half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery, but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and oppetite began immediately to improve, and so rapd was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure. With gratitude, I remain truly yours DARIUS BALLARD.
