MISCELLANY.

Progress of Cant, Humbug, and Fanaticism. Reformed drunkards, gamblers, and prostutes have figured so profitably before the public that numbers are tempted to go into these branches and qualify. The area, too, of reformation is widening, with the demands of the public Mr. Samuel Head, "the reformed burglar and robber," an accomplice of the notorious Henry Wyatt, and a leader of the gang headed by John A. Mund, who has spent twelve years of his life in the prisons of the different States of the Union, is now lecturing to crowded houses in the county of Livingston, N. Y. The Rochester Democrat, a paper of the slang-whang school, annuunces that the Great Reformed and most illustrious lect urer intends to favor that city with a visit, and deliver a course of lecturers, in which he will give his views on the present prison discipline and management. He will also give a true history of his crumes committed in this and the Western States." Albany Atlas.

TALLEYRAND. noble French exile, then in America, es one day passing a little shop in Philahia, when, observing a man with his hirt-sleeves rolled up his arms, grinding offee, whose resemblance to the ex-bishop of Autun was very striking, the former entered the pigmy shop, where he found the veritable Simon Pure keeping a small grocer's shop, and making a living that way. "I pity, indeed I pity you," said the Duke de R.—. "I pity you," replied Talleyrand, "that your soul should be reduced, or not to be surperior to such a state of feeling. For my part, I have long since brought my feelings and mind into such tranquilli y of thought and action, that I can turn a coffee-mill or an empire with equal composure."

PURSUIT OF FELICITY. An anxious restless temper, that runs to meet care on its way, that regrets lost opportunities too much, and that is over painstaking in contrivances for happiness, is foolish, and should not be indulged. Many run about after felicity, like an absent man after his bat while it is on his head or in his hand. Though sometimes small evis, like invisible i sects, inflict great pain; yet whe chief secret of comfort lies in not suffaring evils to vex one, and in prudently cultivating an under-growth of small pleasures, since very few great ones are let on Established in order to afford the Afflicted sound and scientific ...edical Aid., and for the suppression of Quackery.

DR.1. B. Smith has for many years devoted his whole a stending to the treatment of Private complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were framerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all other physicians now adversising in Estimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; the refore, 278 King Street, between Wentworth and Society

ANFONISHING CURE.

Mesers A. B. & D. Sands: Gentlemen.—Having witnessed the most beneficial effects from the use of your Sarsaparilla, it gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. In the spring of 1848 he took a severe coldand and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disense settled in his left leg and foot, which soon swelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than elevan ulcers formed on the leg and foot at on time. We had fivediff-rent Physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so cinacinted and low that he was unable to leave his. ed.; suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected that ploce after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle, varying from one half to one and a half inches in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery, but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and appetite began immediately to improve, and so rapit was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect sure.

With gralified in the arts and selences, Probably no other journal of the same character is so experienced with Engravings, and the Patents are published regularly in its columns as they are I-sued, thus making it specified to leave the much; and the last winter found him so cinacinted and local many the more than twentile to the week of the claims of all the Patents are published regularly in its columns as they are I-sued, thus making it specified to the edition in published regularly in its columns as they are I-sued, thus making it specified to the edition of published regularly in its columns as they are I-sued, thus making it specified to the edition of published regularly in its columns.—It is the edit and

SELLING DRY GOODS. People generally think that it is a very easy matter to stand behind a counter and retail dry goods; but a week's experience in the business would convince the cleverest man that it is much more difficult and est man that it is much more difficult and laborious than the task of turning a grindstone twelze hours per diem. The office of salesman embodies, in its duties, necessity for the shrewdness of a politican, the persuasion of a lover, the politicans of a Chesterfield, the patience of Job, and the impudence of a pickpocket. There are salesmen who make it a point never to lose a constant. a customer. One of the gentlemen who is in a store in Chatham street, not long since was called to show a very fastishous and fashionable lady, who 'dropped in white going to Stewart's,' some rick wilk cloaking. Every article of the kind was exposed to her view—the whole store was ransacked—nothing suited. The costly was stigmatized as trash stigmatized as trash—everything was comunon and not fit for a lady. She guessed she wound go to Stewart's. The salesman pretended to be indignant.

'Madam,' said he in a tone of injured in-

Madam, said he in a tone of injured innoceace, I have a very beautiful and rare piece of goods—a case which I divided with Mr. Stewart, who is my brother inlaw, but it would be useless to show it to you—it is the only piece in the city.'
'Oh, allow me to see it,' she asked, in an anxious tone, and contined, 'I had no inthe merits of your wares." The salesman, who was now watched in breathless silence by his fellow clerks, proceeded, as if with much reluctance, and

There ! exclaimed he, beginning to fold it up, 'I knew you would say that.'
'Stay! stay! don't be in so great a hurry " she cried-'I'll give you twenty shil-

'O! that is very high.'

· Madam you insult me again.'
· Cut me off—— yards, and you can make up the deduction on some velvet which I require for trimmings,' almost entreated the fair shopper.

The salesman, after much persuasion. sold the lady the vesting, for which they had in vain sought to get five shillings per yard, at the price above indicated. The profits of the sale, on vesting and velvet, amounted to $33! out of which the clerks were permitted to pay for a supper of oys-ters. The best of this brief tale of dry goods is to be told. The lady had her cloak made, and one or two of her friends, delighted with it, bought the rest of the vesting at the same price.

There is a moral to this anecdote, which we leave to be discovered by the ingenuity of our lady readers who occasionally go a shopping-Noah's Messenger.
