

MISCELLANY.

SWEDISH IMMIGRANTS.

The Boston correspondent of the Independent writes that a highly respectable company of Swedish passengers, numbering 309 persons, arrived in that port on the 31st Aug., by the 'Great Britain,' from Gothenburg. On the following Thursday they marched to the Worcester depot, and took passage for the Far West. It was a most gratifying sight, the men marching in front with muskets, two American flags, and a banner with this inscription, 'Hail Columbia, Land of the Free! We will be no burden to Massachusetts! the women following, and wondrous with children and baggage, bringing up the rear. They had farming implements, mechanics' tools, spinning-wheels, &c. and money for the purchase of lands, all of which is better, they were temperate, well clothed, robust, and looking the very best of a free soil. We are not how many ships freighted with such a class of immigrants, come to our shores. They are Americans at heart and in principle. Retaining of course a feeling of affection for their native land, and we respect them for it, they have yet torn themselves away from their native soil to plant themselves in our soil, and be henceforth American. They are, we suppose, descendants of those brave men who once battled with Rome, and are therefore Protestants. We shall have such as co-workers in a common cause, for indeed all true Protestants of whatever land are one in heart, against a common foe. These immigrants come from the land of the great Gustavus Vasa, whose wisdom secured the firm establishment of the Reformation in Sweden, and of the greater Gustavus Adolphus, the champion of Protestantism against Popery in the Thirty Years' War. We recollect having met with a similar company from Sweden or Norway several years ago, and discovered a "Life of Franklin" among them, which no doubt had helped to kindle in their breast a desire to see America. Such a welcome band of immigrants came, a few years since, from Holland, and settled in Michigan, where they are now in a flourishing condition. They were fugitives from religious oppression, seeking freedom to worship God, and are true-hearted, intelligent Protestants, of the Dutch Reformed order, and of the same stamp with the early refugees from Popish tyranny, whose descendants, of mingled Dutch and Huguenot blood, now form a substantial part of the population of New York and New Jersey. No more uncompromising enemies to Romanism are in our country than this same Dutch and Huguenot population. They may be relied on in the pending struggle as true to all the sad or glorious recollections of the past. PERSECUTION OF CATHOLICS. "The papists do really, and it is very laudable, begin to whine about persecution."—We may next look to hear Satan making an outcry about his manifold trials. One would think that, with the blood of innocents for long centuries staining their garments, these papists would be silent about persecution. But there is no end to Rome's efficiency. She can broil, boil, burn, roast, torture, in all the methods devised by a horrible ingenuity, those whom she deems heretical, and then, on the least show of resistance or righteous indignation against her outrages, can put on the air of a meek sufferer with the most charming sang-froid, and cry out that she is persecuted. But we tell her that something more dreadful than an occasional popular outbreak, condescended by the great mass of our sober population, and especially, something very different from the uprising American movement, must occur, before her hypocritical moans can receive much attention. Our people know her too well to be drawn into a false sympathy for her. They only wish that she would cry, in good earnest, with sincere penitence for her horrible crimes against God and humanity. Why, this clerical, instead of whining about her sufferings from these "godless" Americans, ought to be thankful for our Protestant and Republican clemency. We do not wish to hurt her. We only mean that she shall not hurt us, not, if we can prevent it, but her miserable dupes. And, indeed, what treatment has she received at our hands? She has been courted, flattered, bowed down to, by politicians, until she begins to fall strong and to show her true spirit; and now, what wonder that the people should have some feelings of respect, and should bid her keep in her place. The Catholic population of this country is to the Protestant population as 1 to 12. Had Rome this numerical ascendancy, would she exhibit the same forbearance towards the then Protestant minority, that is now extended to her? We regard it as a remarkable and significant fact, indicating the true spirit of Protestantism, that with such a large numerical superiority in its favor, and with the existence at the same time of a very deep and general a dislike to popery, there should be manifest among our people so great a respect for law, for the personal rights of papists, and we may add, for it is the truth, so fixed a determination to proceed with the American movement in a lawful and tolerant way. Let Catholics look and wonder at American and Protestant forbearance, and shed no more crocodile tears. Let "the church" go out and "weep bitterly" over her betrayal of Christ, and then may she with more propriety claim connection with Saint Peter. —E

MEDICAL HOUSE.

DR. L. B. SMITH has for many years devoted his professional talents to the treatment of Private Complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, and his wise and judicious use of the remedy, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 25,000 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all other physicians now advertising in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure. It is therefore persons afflicted with diseases of the above nature, no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be, would do well to call on Dr. Smith at his office, No. 14, South Frederick Street, and if not effectually relieved no remuneration will be required for his services. His medicines are free from Mercury and all mineral poisons; put up in a convenient and safe form, and may be taken in a public or private house, or while travelling, without exposure or hindrance from business or company. His mode of treatment is simple and perfect cure in all cases of this complaint. No other case of this nature is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure.
