MISCELLANY.

SHOPLIFTING & PRECOCIOUS MATRIMONY A singular instance of female depravity has recently been brought to the notice of the police. For the last 18 months a girl named Mary Ann Galway has been in the employ of Mr. Baum, in Eighth st., above Arch, of Mr. John Kiehl, in Arch st., between Seventh and Eighth, and during the last four weeks in the dry goods establishment of Mr. Geo. Fryer, in Chesnut st., bear low Tenth.

During these eighteen months, Mary Ann seems to have had very costly clothing for herself, and to have made numerous presents to her dressmakers and acquaintances. On entering the store of Mr. Fryer, she presented his child with a beautiful handkerchief, the value of which is J. HATHAWAY, estimated at $45. Mr. Fryer naturally inquired how she came by such a costly ar cicle She said that her mother held a very responsible and lucrative situation in the Girard House, in this city, and her aunt the same kind of a situation in the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, and that one of them had given her the handkerchief. As she was a poor girl, she said, she did not like to keep such a handkerchief. This explanation was received as satisfactory at the time. But on last Saturday night Mary Ann was detected in the act of secreting some fine laces, and the explanation of the affair only induced Mr. Fryer to have the young lady taken into custody. Since months, this young lady has been carrying on shoplifting by the wholesale, and with a success almost unparalleled by a female. She has taken from the various stores in which she has been employed, patterns, silk dresses, merinos, laces, handkerchiefs and other goods, amounting in value to hundreds of dellars. Her plan of action was to represent to her companion saleswomen that the goods had been purchased, and were to be sent for.

The packages were laid aside until boys called and transferred them to the houses of acquaintances of the young lady, to whom she had made them presents. Goods, amounting in value to from $250 General Igent. Forwarding & Commission Merchant. to $350, have been recovered by the police,

But this is not all the story Mary Ann exercised her fascinating powers over a mere lad, 17 years of age-a clerk in one of our well-known jewelry stores-secured his affections, and lastly they were, upon false representations of age to Alderman Thompson, united in marriage. The lad belongs to a very respectable family, who cannot but grieve deeply at such a con-

The case is an extraordinary one, and must excite the public attention.

CRIME BY A CATHOLIC PRIEST The Nonpareil, of Springfield, Ohio, has an account of a crime committed by a Catholic priest of that place, M. How-ard, in breaking open a letter directed to his care, and abstracting therefrom a fifay dollar check on a Springfield bank, sent to a lady of his "charge," from her husband in California, The priest also cut out a part of the letter, in order to obscure the fact of the remittance of the check. The woman took advice, and obtained assistance from a prominent citizen of Springfield, and finally obtaied the check and the letter in its mutilated condition. The Nonpareil says the whole facts are well authenticated, and quotes the laws both of the United States and the State of Ohio, which entitle his reverence to a berth in the penitentiary

And for the suppression of Quackery.

R. I. B. Smith has for many years devotedhis whole attention to the treatment of Private complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were formerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all other physicians now advertising in Baltimora, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; therefore, persons afflicted with discuses of the above nature, no matter how difficult or long standing the case may ba," would do well to take the properties of the shore nature, the medicines are free from Mercury and all mineral poisons; put up in a neat and comhis services. His medicines are free from Mercury and all mineral poisons; put up in a nest and compact form, and may be taken in a public or private house, or while travelling, without exposure or hindrance from business, and except in cases of vioent inflatomation, no change of diet is necessary.

STRICTURES.—Dr. Smith has discovered a new method by which he can cure the worst form of stricture and that without pain or inconvenience to the patient. Irritation of the uretha, or prostrate glands, or neck of the bladder, is sometimes mistaken ler strictures by general practitioners or charlatans.

YOUNG MEN

and others afflicted with Seminal Debility, whether originating from a Certain Destructive Habit, or from any other cause, with train of bodily and men-tal evits which follow, when aeglected, should make an early application, thereby avoiding much trouble and suffering, as well as expense. By his improved method of treatment, Dr. S. can safely guarantee a speedy and perfect cure in all cases of this com-plaint.

TO FEMALES. All diseases poculiar to Females (as also Suppressions, fregularities, &c.) speedily and effectually removed. The efficacy of his remedies, for the cure of thenbove affections, have been well tested cure of thenbove affections, have been well tested in an extensive practice for the last twelve years. Persons at a distance may consult Dr. S. by a letter, post-paid, describing case, and have medicine securely put up and forwarded to any part of the United States, always accompanied with full and explicit directions for use. Communications considered strictly confidential. Office arranged with separate spartments, so that patients never see any one but the doctor himself. Attendance daily, from 8 in the morning till 9 at night. N. B.—Persons afflicted with any of the above complaints, will do well to a rold the various NOSTRUMS AND SPECIFICS.

SANDS SARSAPARILLA. IN QUART BOTTLES. For Purifying the Blood, and for the Cure of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Stubborn Ulcers, Dyspepsia, Salt Rhoun, Fever Sores, Erysipelas, Pimples, Mercurial Diseases, Culaneous Erus tions, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Consumption, Female Complaints, Loss of Appelle, General Debility, dec.

IN this preparation all the restorative properties of the root are concentrated in their utmost strength and efficacy; but while Sarsaparilla Root forms an important part of its combination, it is, at the same time, compounded with other vegetable remedies of great power, and it is in the peculiar combination and scientific manner of its preparation, that its remarkable success in the cure of disease depends. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the circulation and the bowels; and thus three processes, which are ordinarily the result of three different kinds of redicine, are carried on at the same time, through the instrumentality of this the same time, through the instrumentality of this one remedial agent which gently stimulates while it disinfects and expels from the stomach and howels all that is irritating, and at the same time estores vigor and tone. Many other preparations imitate in pearing the name of Sarsaparilla, and in that their resemblance ends, being often prepared from worthless and inert roots, and of course possess no healing or curative properties, and patients in making choice of which they will use, should take no other, but that one entitled to their confidence, from the long list of cures it has effected on living witnesses, whose testimonials and residence have been published, and who are still bearing daily testimony to its worth. the same time, through the instrumentality of this

ASTONISHING CURE. ASTONISHING CURE.

PATTERSON, N. Y. 20th, 1851.

Messrs. A. B. &. D. Sands: Gentlemen.—Having witnessed the most beneficial effects from the use of your Sarsaparilla, it gives me pleasure to send you the following statement in regard to my son. In the spring of 1848 he took a severe cold, and after eight weeks of severe suffering the disease settled in his left leg and foot, which soon awelled to the utmost. The swelling was lanced by his physician, and discharged most profusely; after that no less than eleven ulcers formed on the leg and foot at one time. We had five different Physicians, but none relieved him much; and the last winter found him so emeciated and low that he was unable to leave his led, suffering the most excruciating pain. During this time the bone had become so much affected that piece after piece came out, of which he has now more than twenty-five preserved in a bottle varying from one half to one and a half inchea in length. We had given up all hopes of his recovery, but at this time we were induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and with its use his health and appetite began immediately to improve, and so rapid was the change that less than a dozen bottles effected a perfect cure.

With gratitude, I remain truly yours.

WANTED A HOME. Among the advertisements in one of our yesterday's papers, you might have noticed the following:

"Wanted, a home for a very nice little girl, with a lady, where she would be in-structed in her book and sewing. She will be found perfectly useful, as she is an ex-cellent little girl and of decent parents.— Please call at 375 --- street, fourth floor."

Those who have no occasion for the services of such a little giff need not accompany me to the place in person. They have but to travel in mind to 375 street, and ascending the four weary flights of stairs, they will find themselves in a room forlorn enough, but scrupulously neat. Bare of furniture, to be sure, and of everything in fact that goes to make a comfortion are the evident marks of a gentle and refined mind.

And by the one dormer window sits the mother, the presiding genius of the meagre abode. Pale and wasted to a shadow is she, and clad in the sounty, faded garb of poverty; but about her, as about her room, reigns that unmistakeable air which speaks the lady-not the conventional creature of fashionable life, all flounces, feathers and folly, with a heart as hollow as her own empty cologne bottle—but the lady-born, one of nature's gentle-women.

Patiently has she struggled with the lit-tle ones left her, the offspring of the stout young laborer who won her true affections, who, after scraping together a comfortable little home, was suddenly struck down by a fatal fever, leaving her to the mercies of a hard world, with four helpless young things to provide for. Through all has she worked and clothed and fed them as bes she might, until the "hard times" of la winter and the gradually increasing hard times of the present summer have driven her up into the desolate garret.

One by one of her pieces of furniture, telics of her happy home, when the mechanic-father of her babies was alive, were obliged to go, and still she could not make any headway against the cruel pressure of no money and no work which bore so bad-ly against her. Two of the little ones, Ka-tie and Jimmie, the next to the eldest and the next to the youngest, have fallen victims to disease consequent upon insufficient diet and impure air. And that they as gone is a comfort (strange comfort) to th lonely widow. And now Isy (the "nice little girl" of the advertisement) must go too, not to the grave, but almost as bad to the heart-stricken mother-out to service. There is no help for it, do her best, she could not make enough to pay the rent of the room, mean as it is, and buy bread for

A richly dressed lady, all satin and jew-elry, has mounted the long stairway, and puffing and panting, sits down in the only chair of the room, to ask the anxious mother a few questions concerning the "nice little girl." The questions are hard and abrupt. The lady objects to her name. Isabel is not a proper name for a servant girl. "She was named when we had plenty around us, and when we did not dream of her having ever to go out to service," replied the sighing mother.

The lady objects to the paleness and thinness of the little girl. She will pick up and grow stout as soon as she has proper food and enough of it, patiently responds the trembling mother.

The lady objects to the age of the little girl. The mother sighs for an answer. But at length the lady concludes up taking her, is unwilling, to pay any thing for the services of so small a girl, although she is willing to hear her read and spell "once in a while," at the same time assuring the mother that "she shall be kept steady enough at her needle." It will not do. The mother pleads for ever so little a week, and finally concludes that she can lot part with her lsy unless she can get a few shillings a week for her services. . The stout lady goes off in a pet, mutter-ing about the insolence of "them that hasn't a rag to their backs." The bundle of satin, selfishness and lace has no sooner gon than her presence is supplied by a plainly dressed Quaker lady whose mild, serene countenance expressed nothing but love and human charity.

This visit proves a true God-send to the needy widow. The "wanted bome" is found. The little Isabel's pale cheeks will soon bloom out with the roses of health.— The weary mother will find work enough to do at a fair price to keep herself and "baby." The "book" will be taught to the young Isabel, and wholesome precept and example taught with it. Let us bless God there is still some good left in the world, and let us pray that many more like the benevolent Quaker lady may be raised up to comfort the down-trodden
