RELIEF IN SEASON.

We have always thought that it is the duty of those who feel an interest in the welfare of their kind, to afford seasonable relief to the needy :that is uphold the falling, and not wait till they have fuller before help is afforded. The Ballimare Clipper of Tuesday, in some remarks on the Association for alleviating the wants of the poor in that city, expresses our views on the subjectas follows: "Respectable females should be the first objects of consideration, for they are the most helpless, and should be withdrawn from all temptation to fall. They appeal to us with great emphasis, and the appeal should be met with kindness and liberality. The man who assists to re-Maker with more confidence of having his petition granted. We are taught in the Good Book. that " charity covereth a multitude of sins;" and that it is among the first of our moral duties-let every one then perform this great duty on the present occasion, and the blessings of the poor will ascend to Heaven in requital of the benediction. To clothe the naked; to feed the hungry; and to comfort the sick, is a privilege which should be embraced by every one who seeks a quiet conscience and undisturbed rest."

THE JOURNAL-THE KNOW NOTHINGS. Our attention has been directed to an article in the Journal of Wednesday, under the head of "Running things in the ground." The quoted the thing too far." Some remarks are made on the Temperance question, which it is not our present purpose to discuss. We notice only, the atgreat deal about the matter.

prejudice," &c.

Mr. Jergerson was inaugurated, to the existence of "the present Administration."

But we have to attend to a different proposition. The American organization is accused of being bigoted in its religious tone. Was the like ever heard or known or dreamt of before? A party composed of Episcopalians, Baptists, Methodists, Unitarians, Lutherans, Latitudinarians, Deists and all the varied opinions that are entertained by men in this land of freedom-all excepting, perhaps, Mormans and Roman Catholics, should be bigoted in regard to religious tenets!!

That such an organization should have a unity of principles; a conformity of rites, and a schedule of doctrine applicable to all the purposes of life; to all the incidents of death; and all the prospects of eternity-can be believed only by those who love not the truth; be desecrated by those only who labor under a gross delusion; or else, for the sake of money, or political honor, or some private end, would shut the light of truth from the mind of man, and obliterate its recordings from the heart!

The expression, "lawful citizens," means the Roman Catholics, or it means nothing. Does the Editor intend the word "lawful" to apply to their demeanor at the Church, in the Confessional, or at the polls, on the streets, and other places, where they assault and murder those who differ from them in religious opinion? Does the Editor mean that they are peculiarly known as lovers of law in unlawful acts? This is somewhat a delicate like, and so free from bigotry !!

daughter of Jethro A. Jenkins Esq., of Portsmouth, Va. She was one of the most gentle, docile, and beloved of the pupils of St. Mary's School, in that city. Though called so soon and so nnexpectedly from her earthly studies, she had learned the lessen for which life was given, and for which alone it is of value. A devout communicant at the altar of her Reedeemer, her maffected piety shone in her assiduous and cheerful performance of all her duties. Such recoffections, while they enhance our sense of her loss, are fraught with the only consolator-and blessed be to God, it is full and rich-to the hearts that mourn under such a bereavement

5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tore )

THE present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually inter-tating during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily writte news-irems, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have pa sed away. It is to those Puspodicula that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of curren events, and as such, in addition to their well-earth-lished literary, scientific, and theological coursets. we arge them upon the consideration of the read-
