MISCELLANY.

Suffering Amongst the Poor in N. York. The extreme cold weather and the vast number of mechanics out of work in New York, are creating much want and suffer-ing in that city. All the papers have more or less to say upon the subject. The ominous gatherings in the Park, premonitory symptoms of the great flour riot some years Opinion of Judge Dean on Naturalization. ago, are noted. The Sun speaks of them 'as a dangerous excitement,' but calls the attention of labor to what charity and hu-manity are doing on all sides. A number of short speeches were made, appealing to the sympathies of the community, denouncing speculators and exporters, demanding the right to labor, and advocating land reform. One of the speakers at the meeting advocated the prevention of the export of corn. Another advocated a 'mass rising to treat the officers of buncomb and insolvent banks to a coat of tar and feathers." Many of the leading working men, however, disavow these sentiments, and allege that they were uttered by men who care more for their own than the interest of the mechan-
