The Know Nothing leaders of this State some time ago took occasion, in letters addressed to their Virginia brethren, to declare their innocence of all sympathy with the Anti-Slavery feeling of the North, especially as exhibited in the re-election of Senator Seward. In this they only said what was notoriously true ; and they might have added. with equal veracity, that they were resolved to devote their humble abilities to putting the Order throughout the country on the some Pro-Slavery platform with themselves. How their services in this direction and how the general tendencies of the Order are appreciated by Southern statesmen, may be seen from a recent speech by Gov. Smith, of Virginia.

" In other words, the Know Nothing move ment is the best defense which the Elick Power can desire, for it will arrest the growth the North, and make Freedom as weak as Slavery. Can a slavedrivet desire any better reason for regarding the new party with . approbation ? It turns back the industrious thousands, ' with instincts against Slavery who would otherwise come to increase the population of the Free States, and render he contrast between their prosperity and the decay of the slave States still more glaring.
