VALUABLE INFORMATION. The Journal of Tuesday, in an article inviting the democrats of New Hanover to the baby is bribed with a lump of sugar to rally and stand firmly together, says :- keep the peace, and father's business face "When a man becomes a Know Nothing relaxes not a muscle, and the little group he ceases to be a democrat." We do not know whether this is intended as a piece were prohibited by the statute book, and of news, or as a denunciation. If the for- the children creep like culprits to bed, marmer it is exceedingly valuable because of velling that baby dare cry so loud, now its truthfulness, being a fact that every one that " father has come." believes and no one denies. If intended for the latter, it is quite amusing, for a free American will care just about as much for window panes, and a bevy of rosy lips democratic denunciation as he would for claim kisses at the door, and picture books the squealing of a pig. To such a man, the authoritative tone of party reprehension, is like the roaring of a "sucking the paternal whiskers with the most feardove," spoken of by the gentleman in one less, 'abandon,' and Charley gets a lovepat of Shakespeare's plays. "

The democrats are spoken of as being carried captive into the " Fedaral Camp," by the operations of the Know Nothings. This is the old party slang, unmeaning as it is perversive, and will answer only for those who have no will of their own, but are the mere slaves of party leaders.

The Journal speaks of the party as being "as true as steel to the principles of Jefferson, of Jackson and of Polk." This from the London News, that he has just been is another misfashion of sense and reason, and gives mere unmeaning works for doctrine. The slave girl who escaped from Richmond in the steamer Jamestown, to New York, was not ecovered by the Captain, and he had to go back without her. The penaltics for carrying off a slave from Virgicia are very severe-a fine of two thousand dollars and imprisonment for five years. When he arrived at Richmond, he found that the girl's owner, a lady, had not yet become aware of her escape. The captain related all the facts to the owner, and she let him off on paying $1,250 The lady imputed no blame to the captain, as the girl secreted herself on board, and was not discovered until she had left the boat at New York.

Scebers, a young man of good character and the misfortune, last summer, in Memphis inder the operation of a city ordinance, to busenenced to the chain-gang in atonement for somtrivial offence waere with he was charged. Whilst working on the bluff, with a chain around his inkle, a heavy pile of dirt fell on him and broke his leg. Thereupon he brought suit against the city, claiming $50 000. We learn from the Eagle and Enquirer that on Wednesday last, the trial of the case, which had occupied the Common Law Court for several days, was brought to a close, the jury finding a verdict for the plaintiff and awarding him $25,000 damages. The Eagle and Enquirer says:

We have understood that the ground on which this verdict was obtained, was this; that the Board of Mayor and Alderman have failed to pass a vagrant law, and there being no such law in existence, the City Recorder had no power to subject the plaintiff to confidement at labor as penal ty for any violation of city ordinance; and that his confinement being illegal, the corporation is liable for all damages resulting to his person in consequence of such confinement. 2
