WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 6, 1855.

MISUELLANY.

THE INQUISITION AT WORK-STARTLING FACTS.

We take the following narration of facts. in connection with the Post Office Department, from the Gettsyburg Star and Banner, of the 21st inst:

The Barringer and Rayner exposition, showing the Papal Nuncio in Spain to have known of the appointment of Mr. Campbell before the same had been officially announced in this country, was highly suggestive, and degrading in the extreme to the present administration; but, the facts detailed below show that the high office in the government accorded the Roman Catholic Church for its efficient aid furnished the Democratic party in 1852, is already being prostituted to promote the ambitious designs of that body. We hope these out-eages of Mr. Pierce's Jesuit official may open the eyes of many hitherto standing aloof from the American movement, uncertain as to their duty. Every man, except the wickedly selfish, must wish his country well; and the revelations given below, it would seem, were enough to withdraw every honest, reflecting man from the support of a party and an administration countenancing the prostitution of one of the most important offices in the government to the ambitious purposes and projects of an institution that has everywhere, and in all ages, been the enemy of civil and religious liberty:

Appointment by the Postmaster General .-Daniel Keefauver, to be Postmaster at Greenmount, Adams county, Pa., vice John Weikert, removed.

What's in the wind now? Mr. Wiekert has uniformly been esteemed one of our most honest, courteous and efficient Postmasters-so much so that he has been continued under successive National Administrations. Although a consistent Democrat, he has conscientiously refrained from active participation in politics. Why this sudden removal?

P. S.-Since writing the above we have learned that some two or three weeks ago midnight prowler in St. Giles or the Five a gentleman, representing himself to be a Mr. Ellis, Editor of the "Organ," a Know-Nothing paper published at Washington, drove up to Mr. Weikert's store, and professed to be very solicitous to gain accurate Forneys, the Campbells, and the Gutherinformation. The stranger wanted to know ies. The thief respects his brother vaga-how much maney might be used to advanhow much money might be used to advantage in the approaching political canvass? this country is at present cursed do not treat wrote to the Postmaster General to inquire the cause of Mr. W.'s removal, and the appointment of Mr. Keafauvre in his place; but before Keafauvre got possession of the office, Mr. W was reinstated. Whether he will accept the office, our correspondent is not informed.

Such are the facts in this most extraordinary case of fraud, insolence, falsehood and Jesuitism. McGuire, as many of our readers are aware, is a resident of this city -and a worthless Irishman, as the records of the U. States Marine Corps prove. He is a sworn office of the Post Office Department, and was appointed to the place because he was an Irishman and a Catho-

His duty is to investigate depredations upon the mails. But, in direct violation of this duty, though doubtless with the connivance, if not the positive instruction of the Postmaster General, he travels through the country under an assumed name, falsely purporting to be the editor of this journal. Under this name he presents himself to a Democrat Postmaster and unfolds his budget of lies; he pretends to be anxious to direct certain documents to certain-members of the Amer can party in that vicinity -and when the Postmaster gives him the only answer that an honest Postmaster could give him, he, with Jesuitical malignity, denounces him to the Department and procures his removat: The whole procedure is tinged with Jesuitism from beginning to end; and for insolence and cunning combined, should secure for McGuire the highest honors of the "Holy Brotherhood."

And now let us inquire if this be a specimen of the tactics of the Administration ? Is Mr. W. the only Democrat who has been approached by McGuire and other agents of the Department in the guise of honest men ? Is it a "part of their system" to represent themselves as editors of American papers and to inquire how much money can be used to promote the success of the American cause ? Talk of "dark lanterns" after this! Why, there is not a Points who would not be ashamed of such disreputable conduct. For there is honor mong thieves, although there does not ap-June 19 pear to be any among the McGuires, the the votes of our people could be influenced by money-that they were generally inbe bought. The latter was then asked it party. whether he would promptly deliver any Know-Nothing papers that might be sent to the office--- to which he replied that of course, as Postmaster, he would regard it as his duty to deliver all papers sent to his office with names endorsed on them.

Whereupon the stranger drove off, not, however, without having had a conference with Keefauver, the accomplished successor of Mr. Weikert This "Mr. Ellis," who, by-the-by, has a rich Irish brogue to betray his mission, had a companion with him, who, however, did not make his appearance during the conference with Mr. Weikert, but rejoined the buggy a few hundred yards from the store, and the two drove off. Since the above was in type we have re. ceived the Washington Organ, with the following article on the subject:

Pat McGuire in a new Character-An Irishman Disguised as an American. We received yesterday a letter from Emmittsburg, Maryland, which conveyed the infor-mation that "a Mr. McGuire, a secret mail Horse Powers of various patterns; Rice Field Pumps and Engines; Mill Irons; Leavitt's Corn and Cob Crushers; Rice Thrashers; Shingle Maagent," had been passing himself off in that vicinity as "Mr. Ellis, of Washington, editor of the American Organ."

The facts as related by our correspondent, are as follows :

There is a Post Office between Emmittsburg and Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the Postmaster of which is Mr. Weikert, Mc-Guire suspected of being a member of the American party. He accordingly adopted the following notable plan for procuring his removal. He stepped at Mr. W.'s office and stated that he was Mr. Ellis, of Washington, editor of the American Organ. He then inquired how the American party was getting along ? Mr. W. told him he did not know, as he was not a member of the party. Pat then asked Mr. W how much money could be used to further the objects of the party. Mr. W. replied that money could not purchase votes in that county .----Pat then said he had a number of Know Nothing names, and he wished to know how many papers advocating Know-Nothing principles could be secretly distributed. W. replied, "as many as were sent, provided the names were put upon them, for, as Postmaster, he was bound to deliver all that came to that office."

Here the interview ended, and McGuire went to Emmittsburg, and swore he would have W removed from office. In a week sale by or two thereafter W. was removed. His removal caused much excitement, as he

Mr. Weikert replied that he did not think with ordinary courtesy the brother Democrats who have stood by their side on many a hard-fought field, and who have devoted may be found with Mr. S.
