MISCELLANY.

DOCTOR KANE. One day, eleven years ago, there was a rowd gathered on the top of a burning mountain in the far off isle of Luzon. There vere Chinamen there, and copper-colored ndians; small, fierce negroes, and wildad said he would go down into the crater of the burning mountain. 'But,' said the rough Indians and negroes, the bad spirits dwell there; no man who goes down into We shall see that,' replied the youth, smil-

Some of the negroes, who thought he had insulted their gods, attacked him soon afterwards and tried to kill him. But the slim youth made such work among them with his sword and pistols, that they very quickly fled, leaving ever so many of their companions dead on the ground.

From isle to isle in the great Indian ar chipelago, this bold youth roamed, under the burning sun by day, and the deadly dews by night. Whatever nature bad planted there that was rarest and strang-, he saw; for he had a fierce passion for knowledge, this youth.

A few months more, and you might have seen him among the jet-black Nubians on the distant borders of Egypt-rooting out queer old relics of the times of the Pharaobs, and roving through the deserts, where few white men have ever trod, and on the dusty ruins of the great Greek cities, groping through the vine leavs and the moss for some traces of the valor and the genius that had once shone there.

Yet another year, and the youth was on ' the coast of Africa a surgeon in a United ought to hear no more bragging from Con-States vessel. Not far from the cruising ground were the native slave mars, where the wild African kings sell their subjec's at about a doffar a head. Thither, said pistol shots is certainly a performance wor h the youth, 'must I go.' And he went 'On ie way he caught the deadly African le ver, and every one said, poor fellow, it will be his last cruisel

While they were weeping, the youth-his name is Elsha Kent Kane-stole down to Washington, and went to see President Polk. He looked so baggard, with his rembling limbs and shaven head, that peoole wondered what he came to do there -He let them know. He wanted to serve in the war against Mexico. The President sent him off directly with dispatch-

On his way to the army he fell in with a party of Mexicans, attacked them at the head of his escort, and made them prisoners One he had nearly killed with a sword-thrust in the fray; it was hardly over, when Dr. Kane was leaning beside him, tying up his artery with a piece of pack thread. But the brigands who composed his escort were not willing that any lives should be spared. They said they must have the prisoners to put them to death. Dr. Kane defied them. Standing between them and the prisoners, he shot the first brigand, and looked so fierce, with his revolver, first pointed at one, then at another, that they fell back scowling, and the Mexicans were saved.

A few more years, and the roving youth. now a strong, cool, and learned man, is anong the eternal ices of the polar regions He is surgeon of the Grinnell expedition, in search of Sir John Franklin; and where ever knowledge is to be gained, or risk run, or strange sights seen in those wild ice worlds, there you may be sure he will be found, as bold, as smiling, as active as

COMMODORE ABBOTT.

Advices from Hong Kong, dated the 16th of December, announce the death of Commodore Juel Abbott, commander of our East India squadron. This officer en tered the navy in June 1812, and received his commission as Captain and Comman der, in October, 1853 Out of the firty four years that he was in the service, he only passed thirteen years at sea, ten years and nine months having been spent on shore and other duty, and twenty years and six months without any employment.

BEAR HUNT. Two young men, residing in Granville. Vermont, a few days since, traced several bears to their den in a cave upon the Green mountains. While one of the hunters stood guard, the other, named Robbins. sixteen years of age, entered the cave ar med with a double-barreled pistol, and succeeded in killing three bears without receiving a wound himself. After this, we necticut about Old Put. Young Robbins should take the old fellow's cocked hat and regimentals. Killing three bears with two boasting about .- Boston Post.

COWHIDING.

Dr. W. Wood, of Cairo, was, on Salutday week, the receipient of the most genreel cowhiding we ever witnessed. If the facts, as stated to us, are correct-and we have no reason to doubt their truth -it was a most just and righteous punishment -Several days since a little girl, about eleven or twelve years of age, daugh er of one of our cutzens; was sent to his store for some articles, and while in the store Dr Wood shut the door, caught her up and kissed her, making use of the most indecent language and the most indecent ad vances toward her. His object was, doubtless, to commit a rape upon the child, but his design was frustrated. The father, justly incensed, went, cowhide in hand, and admisistered the longest and most severe hiding we ever heard of, which was submitted to in a meek and saintly manner seldom equaled. Tar and feathers would have been a light punishment for such conduct - Cairo Times and Delta.

THE CRITERION: LITERALY AND CRITICAL WEI KLY JOURNAL. 16 pages, 410.

VAS commenced on the 3d of November, 1855, Vand his thus far received very general approached. Anxhous to extend its influence, and place upon a automatial basis of support, the Publish r desires most carm atly to direct the attention of he thinking public of America to its claims upon hell con-ideration.

The main feature of the CRITERION is its neviews of Curr at Literature. In this department are given there use and she criticisms of all the nost important Books as they are issued, printing out their chief characteristics, and indicating herrmoral tendencies, thus keeping its readers informed of all new publications which deserve heir attention. It also contains— Copious Intelligence of Affairs in the Literary

Gossip concerning Books and Writers, Announcements of contemplated Publications, and Lists of New Books issued in America and Europe. The Drame, Music, Fine Arts, and Science, alecrive attention, and several columns of carefull selected and agreeatle mat er are given in each number. In addition to the above there is a de-puriment of Miscell-new for reading of an enterining character, care fully relected from rew books and the ablest reviews, and a weekly collection of ores and Quaries, which contains a great variety

if curious and valuable information
It is confidently believed that a journal such as he CRIPE (ION enmot fail to have a good office) ipon our national literature, and t some extent opon our national character. It will be found esrecially valuable in directing the attention of vonth works of real excellence, and encouraging an oppreciation for valuable reading which is being upidly destroyed by the circulation of superficiand sophistical books. To the reading man the terrary into ligence alone must render it very deir thie; and to all who wish to promote an improvenent in taste, the encouragement of merit, and an uncompromising condemnation of victors style rise cannot—at least, should not—be indifferent. To members of Historical, Litera y and ≈cienti ic Societies, Lycrums and Debating Clubs, the subjects discu-sed in this poper will at all times prive of pecular interest, and it is the design of he editors to thoroughly canvass from time to ine those important philosophical que, tions which ightate ullinquiring minds, correcting false theolies, and encouraging profitable investigation.

The CRITERION is published at $3 per angitate ullinquiring minds, num. payable yearly, half yearly or quarterly in advance. Specimen copies supplied on application to the Publisher, CHARLES R. RODE, No. 113, Nassau street, New York Jan. 12.

A BOOK FOR EVERY SOUTHERN METHODIST Early In 1856, probably in the month of Februry, I expect to publish a new work to the particular features of which I beg leave to call your at-

The Annals of Southern Methodism, for 1855, will be a 12 mo volume of not less than 360 pages, well printed, from stereotype plates, upon good paper. It will contain all available statistics in every department of the operations of the METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH. The design embraces the Plan of Episcopal visitation; accounts of the sessions of all the Conferences held in 1-55, the appointments, numbers, &c; a summary of all reported revivals, notices of the dedication of new Churches; reports of College Commencements, with all else connected with our educational movements; a resume of our Missionary operations, embracing whatever seems of general interest in that department; the movements of the Tract and Sunday School Societies; whatever apportains to our publishing interests, with an-neuncements of all New Books published by our Concern, or written by Southern Methodists; what distorteal and Biographical Essays; interesting p rsonal r miniscences; and a miscellany of in portant facts and incidents.

THE "ANNALS." It is believed, will be a fair and full daguerrectype of the progress of Southern Methodism. It will occur to you at once, that if I have succe ded in preparing this votume with any reasona-ble amount of skill, it will not only be a very ugree-able book for present reading, but that every year will add to its value as showing the posture of Southern Methodism at this particular juncture of its history. THIS DIGEST Will be specially valuable as a Book of reference. in whatever question of general in crest may arise in a gord to the events of 1855, it is hoped that a satisfactory answer will be found in the Annals. while it is believed that the Ministers in our Church will desire copies as soon as they can be obtained, I have paid regard to the what I supposed the tastes of general readers. The older members of the Church will find sketches that carry them back to their earlier compeers, as in this department I have not restricted myself to the history of the year, but have collected whatever has up-peared during the year, which, as h story and biogaphy, preserves the memoirs of the olden the The work will be published at One Dollar a copy Phose who subscribe in advance, shall receive the first copies issued from the press. This Company has received a charter giving advantages to the insured over any other Company.

The 5th Section gives the Husband the privilege to insure his own life for the sole use of his Wife and Children, free from any claims of the representa-tives of the husband or any of his creditors.

Organized on purely mutual principles, the life members participate in the whole of the profits which are declared annually. Besides, the applicant for life, when the annual premium is over $30 may pay one half in a Note. All claims for insurance against the Company will be paid within ninety days after proof of the death of the party is furnished.

Slaves are insured for one or five years, at rates which will enable all Slaveholders to secure thi class of properity against the uncertainty of life.

Slave insurance prosents a new and interestin feature in the history of North Caroline, which will prove very important to the Southern States.

The last four months operation of this Company shows a very large amount of husiness—more than the Directors expected to do the first year—having already issued more than 200 Policies.
