Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun, WASHINGTON July 1.

The Mayor's Nominations-Disturbance at the American Meeting and Assault Upon been raised at Lexington, Ky., but that the Mayor and Officers.

My dispatch last night on the Mayor's nominations stated that Mr. Joseph Cross, commissioner of the Eastern Section, and Mr. Wm. Wise, commissioner of the western section of the canal, were confirmed. The types say "rejected." This is the more more hearty concurrence than these. The Mayor sent in the following nominations : For Board of Health-1st ward, Dr. Hagner, J. B. H. Smith; 2d ward, Dr Stone, L. Cotoman ; 2d ward, Dr. Berry, Joseph Bryan; 4th ward, Dr. Johnston, Jacob Gideon; 5th ward, Dr. Gardner, John P. Ingle; 6th ward, Dr. Walsh. John D. Brant; 7th ward, Dr. Morgan, George Mattingly. For Guager and Inspecter-Florian Hitz. For Inspector of Flour and Salted Provision .- Washington Bruner .-From the indications of the first day's sitting on the appointments it is fair to presume we shall have cooler weather before they are concluded.

Mayor Magruder remained on business in his office until after the assemblage of dering herself and others happy and comthe great meeting last night, and to a friend remarked that, as the chief executive officer of the city, he should be as prompt and energetic in his efforts to check any disorder which might possibly appear from any quarter as if the meeting was in honor of his own party. In his official position he knew no distinction of parties. With how much success this determination was carried out may be judged from the following account taken from the Evening Star:

"The mayor was promptly on the ground at the know-nothing meeting on Monday night, as was his duty, to preserve order, and while in the exercise of this duty he came across a party of boys and boyish men who were gathered on the steps in the vicinity of the speakers' stand drinking whisky from a bottle and making a general disturbance, being a portion of the same party of Sam's followers whom Mr. Bradley had occasion to rebuke so pointedly for disturbing the speakers by their maudlin rowdyism. The mayor very properly attempted to check the disturbance, and while doing so was assaulted by these rowdies, who were encouraged by men was unusually great, and about half past REPORT on Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakstanding by, who, too cowardly to incur seven o'clock, when all were in the height sexual Organs, with an account of the errors and the odium of the dastardly act themselves, urged on these boys and rowdies to attack the mayor. The chaste rallying cry or 'Gumballs' and 'Chunkers' in the meantime was raised, and a large crowd of these gathered round the mayor, striking him with fists, stones and slung-shot, shouting hurrah for 'Sam' and swearing like so many demons. " i he police officers and members of the auxiliary guard, who endeavored to penetrate the crowd, were resisted by the gang of rowdies. The mayor, while endeavoring to seize and carry away a person who had struck him with a stone was disabled momentarily by a stroke from a slung shot upon the back of the neck. The mayor. accompanied by some of the officers, made his way with difficulty towards the guard house, and on reaching the market was bodies were recovered ; one other was savjoined by Captain Mills, whereupon the ed after it had fallen into the river. Edskulking slung-shot rowdies made way for ward McMann loses one child, whose bohim to pass. "A fellow with a fiddle now followed the mayor, scraping away, at the instigation of these brave 'Samites,' whereupon Captain him in the side. He was conveyed to his Mills attempted to arrest the fiddler, but residence, in Front street. was struck on the back of the head with a slung-shot, and the prisoner escaped. The crowd continued to follow the mayor until believed to have perished. he entered the Kirkwood House. "The rowdy gang lingered here, shout ing, throwing stones, firing pistols, &c., for a while and then dispersed. The mayor reached his own residence about midnight. dard.

Great excitement was caused in the southeastern section of the city, last evening, by the announcement that a frightful accident, attended with loss of life, had occurred at the foot of Reed street. The rumors were found to be but too true, and upon inquiry we learned the following particulars :- At the foot of Reed street is $3 50 and $3 per ream ; also, 50,000 Buff Fnvel situated the extensive wharf of Merrick & Son, the well known machinists. It was constructed upon marshy banks, and though substantial in appearance, was always liable to give way, owing to the yielding character of the ground. She had been passed over the road, from Salisbury, free of charge, as an act of char- ertions of some young men who came to ity, and on her arrival here, rented a small back room from a tenant of Mr. John Kane's. She had no visible means of providing herself with the commonest neces- sons. Those having them in charge desaries of life and had not, she said, a penny in the world.

The attention of the neighbors was soon attracted to her and she became at once the recipient of their sympathy and bounty. Her health, however, rapidly declined, and she was gratuitously attended by Dr. W. H. McKee, and pecuniary assisted, also, by him and others; but on Monday last, at noon, death ended her sufferings.

After her death, in searching among her miserable rags, making arrangements for her interment, a large sum of money and the evidences of other property to a considerable amount were discovered in an old barrel. In two or three filthy bundles was found, in gold and silver, the sum of $2,500; also, amongst her papers, the scrip for 20 shares of stock in the New Albany railroad-letters relative to her plan. prompt paying customers ; "and, these" who are not willing to settle their accounts once in twelve tation in Kentucky, and a mass of other property both curious and valuable.
