From the New Jersey Herald. "NEVER DESPAIR."

When the cares of to-day fill the spirit with sor

And the burden of life seems too grievious to bear, Let the bright sun of hope shed her beams o'er the morrow-

Hope on, hope forever, but never despair !

When fiercely the darts of the wicked assail you And the tempter endeavors your soul to ensuare; Gird on hope's shining armor, it never shall fail

Hope on, hope forever, but never despair!

Though adversity's billows rage madly around

And your soul is o'erwhelmed with an ocean of The joys of prosperity yet shall surround you-Hope on, hope forever, but never, despair !

Though friends shall forsake when affliction comes o'er you.

And none shall be near you your sorrows to share; Be not overcome, the wide world is before you-Hope on, hope forever, but never despair!

And so when the portals of Heaven shall open, The loved ones stand ready to welcome you there; The Angel of hope to your spirit shall whisper-"In Heaven's bright kingdom there is no despair!" Deckertown, June 3, 1856.

MISCELLANY.

Mr. Breckinridge's Letter of Acceptance.

JUNE 13, 1856 SIR: The National Convention of the democratic party, which recently assembled in Cincinnati, unanimously nominated you as a candidate for the office of Vice President of the United States.

You have already informally accepted the nomination, but we deem it appropriate, under instructions of the convention, to communicate the information officially in their name. We also solicit your attention to the resolutions adopted by that assembly as expressive of the views and policy of the democratic party in relation to the important public questions involved in the approaching presidential election.

The convention have associated your name with that of an eminent an experienced statesman, under the conviction that, although your public career has been brief. yet that it has commanded the confidence not only of your party, but the country, and that your talents and patriotism will essentially aid in illustrating the principles and in firmly establishing the wise and generous policy of the democratic party.

We tender to you personally our sincere congratulations upon this distinguished proof of the public esteem, and remain, with assurances of profound respect,

Your fellow-citizens, JOHN E. WARD. W. A. RICHARDSON, HARRY HIBBARD, W. B. LAWRENCE, A. G. BROWN, JNO. L. MANNING JOHN FORSYTH. J. RANDOLPH TUCKER, HORATIO SEYMOUR, W. PRESTON.

Hon. JNO C. BRECKINRIDGE.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 28, 1856. GENTLEMEN: I have received your letter of the 13th inst., giving me official information of my nomination by the Democratic National Convention for the office of Vice President of the United States. I feel profoundly grateful to the democracy for this distinction, so far above my merits I shall exert whatever power I possess to discharge them with fidelity.

The convention wisely selected for the first place in the government an eminent statesman whose character and public services furnish a guarantee that his administration will command confidence at home and respect abroad. The platform adopted by the convention has my cordial approval. I regard it from early dawn to a late hour of the as the only basis on which the Union can night. A great number of apprentices be preserved in its original spirit. Adopted, have learned their trade under him, as it was, by the unanimous votes of the and he did not consider that his duty delegates from all the States, it shows that was done by them unless they could amidst the distractions of the times there but up, in good order, 1200 ems per remains one united and powerful organization whose common principles extend over every foot of territory covered by the federal constitution. After the recent repeated and deplorable failures of other parties to present to the country a national organization, we may justly congratulate the States upon the unanimity which marked made every effort to seduce him into the proceedings of the democratic convention; and the patriot may point to the fact, them where he learned his trade; he as a pledge of constitunal union, that the had never met with such a sober printer delegates from Maine and Texas, from before, and wanted to know where he South Carolina and California, were as was trained. The "jour" replied, "I thoroughly united upon every question of learned my trade with a man who al principle as those from neighboring southern States of Tennessee and Kentucky, or those from the neighboring northern States of Wisconsin and Michigan.

This community of sentiment, this feeling of brotherhood, gives hope of perpetual Union. It has been the happy fortune done mostly by young men who learned of the democratic party, by adhering to the constitution, which was made to protect us all, to avoid the geographical and could be found who would do the same sectional issues against which Washington amount of work, in the same time, solemnly warned his countrymen; and we have every reason to believe that it is yet equal to the high duty which now devolves on it of preserving the constitution, and maintaining the rights of every portion of the confederacy. If the unsound elements which troubled it for a time have sought congenial associations elsewhere, the loss has been more than supplied by accessions from the flower of the old whig party; and thus reinforced, it will be the destiny of democracy, under the lead of their distinguished chief, to maintain the high position of our country before the world-to preserve the equality of every class of cit-science-and to secure the peace of the Union, by rendering equal justice to every

With sincere acknowledgment for the friendly personal sentiment contained in your letter, I am, respectfully, your friend and obedient servant.

A MAGNIFICENT NIGGER.

Dickens gives the following description, in a late number of the "Household Words," of a dandy darkey he encountered in Paris restaurant:

I would have borne half a hundred disppointments similar to this dinner, for the sake of the black man. Legs and feet, he was a character! He sat opposite to me, calm, contented, magnificent, proud. He was as black as my boot, and as shiny .-His welly head, crisped by our bounteous mother Nature, had unmistakably received a recent touch of the barber's tongs. He was perfumed-he was oiled-he had moustaches (as I live!) twisted out into rats tails, by means of Pommade Hongroise. He had a tip; he had scarlet Turkish cap, with a long blue tassel; he had military stripes down his pantaloons; he had patent-leather boots; he had shirt studs of large circumference, pins, gold waistcoat buttons, and a gorgeous watch-chain; I believe he had a crimson under waistcoat; he had the whitest of cambric handkerchiefs, a ring on his forefinger, and a stick with an overpowering gold knob. He was the wonderfulest nigger that the eye ever beheld.

He had a pretty English wife-it is a fact, madam, with long auburn ringlets, who it was plain to see was desperately in love with, and desperately afraid of him -It was marvellous to behold the wrapt, fond gaze with which she contemplated him as he leaned back in his chair after dinner and refreshed his glittering ivories with a tooth-pick. Equally marvellous was the to cat her dinner in his august presence, and suffered her to tie round his neck a great emblazoned shawl like a flag.

The mangled remains were discovered in a bag floating in the river, by a young man who was fishing. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his or her death by means unknown to the jury. The publication of the result of the Coroner's inquest met the eye of a farmer residing in the vicinity of Brockville, and at whose house the young woman had stopped for about three weeks before she was murdered, and whither she had killed her. He immediately repaired to Mirricksville, had the body disenterred, and fully identified it. The ears had been cut of to remove the ear drops, by which she might be recognized. PROSPECTUS OF THE

"SOUTHERN SENTINEL,"

A Democratic and Missellaneous Journal, to be published weekly, at Wilson, N. C. I'HE externs condition of political parties, and of partizal crife, naturally suggests the establishing of such a journal as the "Southern Sentinel" proposes to become. The present, indeed, is a crisis in our political history, never witnessed become. fore. The Constitution has been invaded; the laws trampled and spat upon; religious! therry assailed; trampled and spat upon; religious liberty assailed; ballot boxes broken and burnt; the landmatks of our political ancestry partially effaced; the wisdom derived from a time-honored experience unsented; strange and questionable men have been pushed into high positions; and fanatici-m, unchained from its axe and its faggot piles in the North, is heard to how among us in the South. These evils, so far as it humble abilities shall serve,

THE SOUTHERN SENTINEL Will endeavor to arrest. It will endeavor to incul-cate a reverence for the laws as they exist, and for the Constitution, as it has been interpreted by the wise men of the past and by the Fathers of the Democratic faith. It will defend not only political but religious liberty, and will do battle against every political heresy that may appear, whether hatched in caves or culverts, or open convention. The Sentinel will also, to relieve the monotony of polities, devote space to literary topics, original and selected, as well as to miscellaneous subjects which shall include Agricultural and the latest Com-mercial intelligence. In brief, no efforts nor expenses will be spared to make the Sentinel one of the most useful and efficient journals in the South. The first number of the Sentinel will be issued about the first of the next month, and sent to subscribers at the rate of $2 per annum: $2 50 at the end of six months, and $3 at the end of the year .-Discount made in behalf of clubs, who shall take five, ten or more copies.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, Londont graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known Many troubled with ringing in the cars and head when asleep, great nervousness, being slarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfutness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A CERTAIN DISEASE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the needs of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance such as alcerated sore threat diseased nose, foothral pains in the sore throat diseased nose, footdiral pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, biotches, on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. Johnston pledges thisself to preserve the most inviolable secresy; and, from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful complaint, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and cither send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of life misuntimely grave, or else make the residue of life mis-TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences.

These are some of the sad, and melancholy effects, produced by early habits of youth, viz:—Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous irritability Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory. Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings. Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Ballitude. Timidity, &c. are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their decilining health. Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIG WEAKNESS.

By this great and important remedy weakness of By this great and important remedy weakness of the organs are speedily cured and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most Nervous and Debilitated individuals who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to MARRIAGE Physical or Mental Disqualifications, Nervous Irritability Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Dr Johnston.

Young men who knye injured themselves by a certain practice induiged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asieep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible and destroys both mind and body, should an immediately.

impossible and destroys both mind and body, snowled apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit.—

Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE. Should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote contable happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the pros-through life becomes a wears pilgrimage; the pros-pect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melan-choly reflection that the happiness of another be-comes blighted with our own. OFFICE NO. 7 SOUTH FREDERICK-ST.,
