FOR GOVERNOR, THOMAS BRAGG, OF NORTHAMPTON

New Hanover County Democratic Nominations. FOR THE SENATE. OWEN FENNELL.

FOR THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, SAMUEL A. HOLMES, ROBERT H. TATE.

MR. BUBLINGAME'S SPEECH. We invite attention to a very sensible article on our fourth page, on the Speech of Mr. BURLIN-GAME, of Massachusetts, in the U.S. House of Representatives, from the Boston Courier.

We were present during most of the time of the discussion between Messrs. Bragg & Gilmer, on Thursday last. A very large crowd attended, perhaps nearly, or quite one thousand persons.

We do not know that an analysis of the speaking on this occasion will be necessary. Gov. Bragg avowed the doctrine we sustain, and very mistakes in regard to Gov. B's course, and particularly on a charge that he had opposed free himself, so far as we could observe. We do not care to discuss the merits of the parties, more than simply to say that Gov. Baage had decidedly the advantage of his opponent, both in regard to facts and their exemplification. He is a very powerful speaker, and has the capacity to rivet the attention and convince the understanding. We are very much mistaken if he did not cause the scales to fall from the eyes of some who were his opponents at the beginning of the discussion. Mr. Gilmen is a strong man when on the right evident that he felt it to be so. Both-gentlemen are of much private worth and entitled to the respect of their fellow-citizens. It would be well for some of our political snarlers and brawlers, if they would take example from the deportment and manners these gentlemen exhibited towards each other, in their animated side. But his was an up-hill business, and it was

If we rightly understand him, Mr. GLMER is is therefore heatile to the chief points of our political faith, as well us that of the National De-ly, because it would cheer the hearts of the Black Republicans to find a Governor of N. nature-true to the home of my maturity and to Carollon not constitutionally orthodox, but willing to secode in some degree from the only ground of our security and safety.

We do not, however, look for any such result ity, and quite answerable to reproach if they do not cause it to exceed ten or twelve thousand. We hope our friends will not wait till November. when the coup de grace is to be given to their opponents, but make a handsome turn-out in August, to encourage our friends abroad.

MILITARY COURTESY.

The German Volunteers, under capt. VonGLAHN. and the Rifle Cadets under capt. BLANEY, paraded on yesterday morning, and escorted Governor Wharf, while taking his departure from our town. The whole affair was exceedingly well conducted, and after the escort the companies paraded about town in very handsome style. There were discharges of artillery from Costin's wharf, on the opposite side of the river, and the military also fired salutes when the boat started on her way across the river to the Cars of the Wilmington & Manchester Rail Road. We look upon this affair as highly appropriate and as a courtesy properly due to the Commander in Chief.

MR. GILMER. We understand that while we were absent for candidate for Governor of North Carolina may Tyre B. Ray and Mr. George Jackson. not indulge in a little episodical facetia, he would have a very dull time of it, we guess.

he is and always was.

In cander and justice to Mr. Gilmen we must say that we believe he thought Mr. Brase was among the "boys" when he said so-and moreever, we believe he would have said so, whether dept in this village. At 25 minutes to 1 o'clock, he thought so or not.

ANOTHER AUXILIARY. The London Correspondent of the New York Tribune, states that the leaders of the European has been half demolished by the explosion. The general fight ensued, in which Dr. E. H. Martin, Democracy "unanimously desire the success of boiler, which was a new one, was rent asunder in of Savannah, son of Hon. Edmund Martin, was the Republicans in our approaching Presidential every part, and carried perhaps 100 feet in the Election, and deprecate that of the Slavery-ex- air, passing over the roof of a three slory sash tending Democracy." MR. BROOKS DEFENSE. The following is the defence of Mr. BROOKS, before the Court at Washington City:

May it please your Honor: I appear in person before this honorable Court simply to receive its judgment. I would have preferred that the person upon whom the assault was committed had been present to answer whether or not his speech which libelled my State and my blood was pripted before its delivery in the Senate. I feel confident that under oath he could not have denied this fact, which, with due deference to your Honor, I regard as material to my defence, insomuch as a libel is contrary to law, and to that extent would operate in extenuation of my offence would like to have inquired of him, in person as to the degree of his personal injuries, and to have been informed in what way he could reconcile that part of his statement as to the words used by me when the assault was made with the sentence which immediately succeeds this language in his testimony before the investigating committee, and which is as follows: "While these words were passing from his [my] lips he commenced a succession of blows with a heavy cane on my bare head, by the first of which I was tified me had he been compelled to answer under oath as to the violence of the first blow, which I aver was but a tap, and intended to put him on his guard. But, sir, he is conveniently and deliberately absent and on travel, notwithstanding but six days ago this case was postponed on account of his extreme indisposition and the materiality of his testimony; and yet, with all these disadvantages, I prefer to receive the judgment | About 800 persons were present, all armed. of the Court than to continue in suspense.

It is not my purpose to adduce any evidence in defence. I have already accomplished more than half of the journey of life, and this is the first time that it has been my misfortune to be arraigned before any judicial tribunal as a breaker of any law of my country. I confess, sir, and with-out shame, that my sensibilities are disturbed by my novel position, and I have but to express my profound regret that, in discharging a duty imposed upon me by my own sense of right and the enfiment of the gallant people it is my pride and honor to represent, I am constrained as a consemaker of the law.

In extenuation of my offence permit me to say that no extraordinary power of invention is reably and clearly defined the true position of par- quisite to imagine a variety of personal grievanties. He convicted his opponent of some few ces which the good of society and even public morality require to be redressed, and yet no adequate legal remedy may be had. So also are those cases which may fall under the condemnasuffrage; he put Mr. G LMER into a very awkward tion of the letter of the law, and yet like consiposition, from which he was unable to extricate derations will restrain its penalties. The villain who perverts the best feelings of the better sex, rewards unsuspecting devotion with ruin. may bid defiance to this honorable Court: but where a sister's dishonor is blotted out with the blood of her destroyer, an intelligent and wholesome public opinion, embodied in an intelligent and virtuous jury, always has and always will control the law, and popular sentiment will appland what the books may condemn. It is the glory of the law that it is founded in reason .-But can that reasoning be just which is not regardful of human feeling? Sir, no one knows better than yourself that such a reproach does not rest upon our jurisprudence, for even the stern letter of the law touches with tenderness the husband who slays in the act the usurper of his bed. The child who kills in defence of its parent is excused by the law, which is ever regard-ful of the virtuous impulses of nature. By a parity of reasoning patriotism is regarded by every nation upon earth as the cardinal political virtue. Sons are made to reward it and to perpetuate the names of those who are its exemplars; and can it be expected, will it be required shall patiently hear and ignobly submit while my anti-Nebraska, and in favor of Compromises-he political mother is covered with insult and obloquy and dishouor, while her character is slandered and her reputation libelled? Sir. the substance which I have been gathering for my children may be squandered, my body may be con-We should look upon his election as a public signed to the common jail, my life itself may be forfeited, but I will be true to the instincts of my the mother that bore me.

The first political lesson which myl ripening faculties fully comprehended and appreciated was the high moral and social obligations of every citizen to bow himself to the majesty of the law. The Democracy must be very relax, indeed, if In obedience to the precepts of my youth, which are sanctioned by the experience and judgment they do not give Gov. That sentence is that the defendant pay a fine of $300."

Sumner-Convention at Topcka. Sr. Louis, July 9th .- Advices from Topeka, Kansas, to the 4th, says that a convention met there on the 2d instant, and passed resolutions in favor of the Republicans, and denunciatory of the Democrats, appealing to the friends of free Kansas in Congress to stop voting supplies until stunned so as to lose sight." It would have gra- Kansas shall be admitted into the Union under the Topeka constitution. Mr. Donaldson and Judge Elmore read the President's proclamation of February last, and Governor Shannon's proclamation; and one Woodson read a note from Col. Sumner saying that he would prevent the meeting of the Legislature, but they were unbeeded.

> On the 4th both branches of the Free State Legislature met, when Col. Sumner entered the town with 200 U.S. dragoons and planted two cannon at the head of Kansas avenue. The troops were drawn up before Constitutional Hall. Col. Sumner told the citizens that he would not disarm them or break up the convention, but had orders to dissolve the legislature, and did so.

Col. Sumner repaired to the Hall of Representatives, and said: "I am ealled upon to perform quence to approach you as a violator and not as the most painful duty of my life. Under the authority of the President I am here to dissolve the Legislature. In accordance with my orders I command you to disperse. God knows, I have no party feeling in the matter, and I will have none while I hold my present position in Kansas. I have just returned from the border, where I have been sending home Missourians; and I am herewith instructions to disperse the Legislature. I again command you to disperse."

Judge Schuyler asked if they were to understand that they were to be driven out at the point of the bayonet? Col. Summer replied that he to enforce the orders. The House then dispersed. to judge for ourselves. A similar scene was enacted in the Senate:

France-Christening of the Imperial Prince. The christening of the Imperial Prince had taken place. The procession to the church was gaudy and magnificent. The Moniteur describes the scene at the church ; New aisles had been creeted, with a vaulted roof of cerulean blue, bespangled with golden stars The lancet arches were peaked out with that I, with a heart to feel and an arm to strike, green, yellow, crimson and gold. Windows of an ephemeral character, but so admirably done that they almost yied in beauty with those that were really painted, helped to fling a soft light of rich harmony over a scene which would take half or your columns adequately to describe. The centre of the cross which constitutes the edifice had a high altar erected, over which was suspended from the top of the blue vanited roof a rich purple canopy, spangled with bees.

On one side a row of graduated beaches sat the, 84 bishops of France in their gorgeous robes .-There were the four archbishops on a fautenil by themselves. The cardinals, in crimson, on another opposite. In front of the altar, with a font between, was placed a throne for the Emperor light on the nave of the church. The sun shot paptismal veils, were all assembled, the effect of this light was beyond measure enchanting.

The Emperor and Empress and the Prince Imperial entered with a fanfaronade of trumpets .-The Cardinal Legate received them. All the congregation rose, and the church from the roof to the floor, was one wast mass of human beings in their habits of ceremony. The imperial child was presented to the font, and as the Papal Legate raised it in his arms amid the deathless silence, of all, it uttered a long, loud, sharp, but still plaintive cry, which attracted the sympathy of all present. Every one helped to break the silence, storms which passed over it on Saturday evening and make some exclamation indicative of human sympathy. The Emperor smiled, and the Empress, spite of the solemnity, bent her head over

Then took place attestation, the Emperor doing so first; the Princess Mathilde and the other Princesses doing the same magnificently saluting their Majesties, as, passing before them withtheir superb trains, upheld by their retainers. they proceeded to the desk where lay the great book of State.

The babtism over, the equerry exclaimed: -Vive l' Empereur ! Prince Imperial !" The congregation caught it up, and the church from all points rang with the glorious cry. Many were in tears. The words were caught up, and an airexpressly composed for this occasion was chanted by the whole choir, with the words: " Vige l' Empereur! Vive, Vive le Prince Imperial ?"

The Savannah Georgian states that a public meeting was held in St. Peter's Parish, S. C., on the 3d instant, Hon. Edmund Martin in the chair. When the committee to prepare business was about to retire, Mr. Jesse Peeples, a member of the House of Representatives of South Carolina asked Mr. Martin why he had not placed him on the committee. On Mr. Martin stating that he had not thought of him, Mr. Peeples gave him severely cut, and Mr. Peoples was killed.

Mr. Glingman agreed with Mr. Cobb. He hought the assault too much magnified, and conended that there was no breach of privilege. -Men of courage were rarely abusive but those vho falsify were generally cowards. He believed Sumner was closely allied with Garrison and Phillips and was for disunion. If Sumner wanted to degrade the country and Senate he might indulge in such things. Mr. Bingham replied.

Mr. Brooks expressed gratification that Mr. Singham disclaimed any personal unkindness and asked him whether he understood him corectly as saying that he (Brooks) was guilty of the moral turpitude of perjury. Mr. Bingham denied such assertion and Mr. Brooks expressed imself satisfied.

Mr Ovr deprecated the fact that an attempt ad been made to impress the public mind that Summer was stricken down while pleading in behalf of the people of Kansas. Such was not true Sumner was punished for a libel on South Caro lina, and slander on Mr. Butler. It was not true that Mr. Sumner was stricken down with a bludgeon. It was proved that it was an ordinary walking cane an inch in thickness. When Mr. Orr concluded the House adjourned.

A sad accident occurred at Claremont, N. H., on the 5th. The Mascoms Fire Co., of Lebanon, on a visit to Claremont, was passing over a suspension bridge of the Claremont Manufacturing Co., when it broke, and they, were precipitated into the water. All escaped with their lives but one named Wm. Griffin, of Hartford, whose back was found to be broken, he being dead when taken out from the ruins. The regular marching step of a body of men is the severest test that can be applied to any structure to which the slightest vibratory motion can be given. If the ompany had marched by the rout step without music, the accident would not have occurred. Boston Herald.

The Editor (Prof. Hubbard) in his Preface to Number 1 deems it proper to allude to a few of the peculiar advantages aimed at by the Superintendent of Common Schools while making efforts to have this work completed. These are 1. THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF A FEELING OF SELF DEPENDENCE, and the enlistment of popular sentiment in behalf of the State, and its stitutions It was not thought important how ever, to have more than one number of the Rea ders of merely local interest. 2. TO REMEDY THE EVIL EVERYWHERE COMPLAINED OF IN COMMON SCHOOLS, OF A PERPETUAL CHANGE IN TEXT BOOKS : an expensive habit, and one which injures Schools by preventing the children from being classified. A series of home Readers, it was supposed would be certainly used, and this grea evil thus avoided.

3. E ONOMY, the popular system of Readers being too long and being made so often merely to add to the profits of authors and publishers. This series is to consist of fewer numbers that those generally used and it is believed that these numbers are sufficient, while if the system were universally used in the State, the sum saved to parents and children would amount to several housand dollars annually.

4. TO PUT IN THE HANDS OF CHILDREN

50,000 DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION.

Would perhaps be a small estimate for the rarages of this dreadful disease in a single year; then add the fearful calalogue of those cut off by inflammation fthe Lungs, Hermorrhage, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, nfluenza, Bronchitis, and other diseases of the Lungs and Liver.

And the list would present an appaling proof of the fatality of these two diseases. But it is important to know that nearly all of this dread waste of haman life might have been prevented by a imely use of DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP

OF WILD CHERRY.

Violent Cough, Bloody Expectoration, ctc. MILHEIM Centre Co., Pa., Oct. 9, 1850. I not only take pleasure, but deem it a duty owe to suffering humanity, to certi'y publicly to the great power of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. I was taken with a violent cough, and bloody expectoration, great wasting away of my ficsh, all the symptoms of fixed consumption. After trying various remedies without any relief, and hearing of the great virtues of your Syrup, I com-menced its use; and to my great satisfaction, and astonishment of all around me, my cough began to abate, appetite improve, and in fact I have become as healthy and fleshy as evet. Some twelve months have elapsed since the disease was first arrested, and I have every reason to believe that it
