MISCELLANY.

LOVE, DESERTION AND DESPAIR. About six months ago, says the Chicago Bulletin, a well-dressed and gentlemanlylooking individual, arrived in this city upon the Cleveland train, and registered his name at one of our principal hotels as R. W. Flemington. After remaining a couple of days, he settled his bill, and remarking that business would probably command his attendance in a neighboring town for a short period, he left without t king his luggage. which consisted of a trunk and portman-

The next day, however, he drove up to the private entrance of the hotel, accompa- burden of happiness. nied by a lady who he represented as his wife, and who was as such registered .-The femule, who was in the first tender loam of womanbood, was but seldom seen during their stay at the hotel, save by those whose avocations enabled them to enjoy this privilege, who pronounced her to be of surpassing beauty.

Time passed, and a month had been added to the vortex of the past, when one of those sinister billet down, in the shape ofnot a bill of fare-but a bill for tare, was presented Mr. Flemington. On his promise to settle the matter in a day or two, another week passed, and quid pro quo for boarding, lodging, and et ceteras was not forthcoming. The landlord became impor-tunate, and the guest finally told him that he would go to Milwaukie, where he had funds, and return with the means to liquidate the debt. He took his portmanteau, and after bidding his beautiful companion an affectionate, though apparently short adieu, he departed. The sequel is soon told; he never returned, and the victim of his treachery soon found that she was deserted by him for whom she had sacrificed the most precious attributes of woman-her honor and fame; concealment was no longer possible, and the humiliating admission was confessed, that after a short acquaintance in Cleveland with her seducer, she had forsaken the protecting roof of a confiding father, for one who, under promise of marriage, had first destroyed her innocence, and then left her to the cold scorn of an unpitying world .-No persuasion, however, could induce her to return to, or even avow, the name of her family. She might have suffered from want of food, had not some compassionate procured her employment.

became apparent. She was about to become a mother, which, blessed and boly event of woman's existence, was to her fraught with terror and dismay. No anxious husband would hang with tender solicitude o'er her couch, or bail with paternal kiss, the advent of the new-born pledge of love. She was alone-alone-and madness took possession of her soul.

On Sunday night, the inmates of a house on State street, where Fanny Bennettfor such was the name she had assumedboarded, were alarmed by the smell of fire, ment. and on hastening to the third floor, they found that it proceeded from her room -Bursting open the door, a dense smoke was observed to fill the interior, arising from a quantity of wearing apparel which was slowly mouldering, having been ignited from a charcoal furnace, the embers of which were glowing and emitting their deadly vapor. Stretched upon the bed lay the forsaken girl insensible, and in a short time longer her broken heart would have ceased to throb with shame and anguish.

and ere long she was pronounced out of danger. Since which she has exhibited a him-treble murderer! the slayer of innocence !- the murderer of his confiding victim and his own offspring! Where is retributive justice, that such a villain remains unpunished.

COURTING BY PROXY.

not be certain, but either way, it most certainly must be delighted.

Years ago, and it shames my modesty to say it, I fancied I too, in common with Eve's daughters, possessed a lover. Captain. One all my own. Shall I tell you why and how I thus appropriated him?

I had the "Sorrows of Werter," and more-had experienced a double portion of my own sorrows, had sympathized with "Dorcasana" until my excited brains conjured lovers in country bumpkins-and heard music in the schoolboy's corn-stalk fiddles. I had tried "tricks, and dreamed dreams. No wonder then, is it, that one so prepared, should have esteemed a lover as any thing less than a mircle?

My first tangible impression of my good fortune was through the Post office. Ah! how I blessed the inventer of Post offics. My epistle was sealed with a "love of a motto," and addressed with a profusion of flourishes. The super scription was unmistakable. All right without, how could I dream that it was otherwise within?

My foolish heart twittered a trifle, as my eye devoured the fervent protestations of some smitten swain, and pride was flattered; for the Criter dared not (only think of it ?) tell his name until certain his surt was not rejected. I wore that billet on my heart for days, (and, if you'll believe it, the spot it covered is warm still with something of the same emotion that imparted caloric in that sunny hour, and longed for another liliustrated; lately published. Received and for sale at S. W. WHITAKER'S. of those same blissful confessions.

I need not say how anxiously I waited from day to day for another similar missive. It came-and another. Romance fed the flame, and curiosity fanned it to a perfect blaze. Watching the moon, (by nights, of course,) and wandering in shady groves and by murmuring rills, became favorite occupations. Poetry, too, was vouchsafed to me, and had I but suffered a relapse, no doubt I should have deemed myself a poet born.

Inditing toye somers became a pastime, and "sighing like a furnace" the only relief my pent up spirit experienc- CHAMPION SAFE OF THE WORLD, ed, in trying to east off a portion of its much they remind me of -, but I anticipate.

My lover preserved his incog., while I grew more furious in my "eternal devotion." Could I but see the hero of my dreams, the author of my billet doux, the idol of my heart; could I but whisper his loved name to the winds and be certain they would bear it to his earsbut no! his bashfulness could not be overcome; and poor I was doomed to wait many days, if not weeks--with but a suspicion of who was my true

Every gent, who had the good manners to blush in my presence, became Orlando-for the time, and the focus, in which, my affections concentrated. I sought by sentimental sighs, and soft words designed for their ears alone, to draw out the secret, and rove myself too disinterested and generous to treat their love unkindly.

The art of dressmaking, and the art of dressmaking, are dressmaking, and the art of dress a light on the whereabouts of her seducer, the eyes of common mortals. So alone until, at length, the fruit of the fatal error I sighed in secret and pined openly .-Esculapius was appealed to in vainanother god understood my case betterthe shafts of Cupid had pierced my heart, and were rankling there. They needed the soft hand of the unknown to pluck them thence, and why-Oh, why -should he avoid me?

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL. DR. JOHNSTON.

HE founder of this Celebrated Institution ofal remedy in the world for SECRET DISEASES.

Glects, Strictures, Seminal Wankness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyanepais, Nervous Irritablity, Disease of the Head, Taroat Nose or Skin 1 those serious and neciateloly disorders arising from the destructive habits of Touth, which destroy both body and mind. These sured and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brillient hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN.

Especially, who have become the victims of Selits.

Especially, who have become the victims of Selitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brillians intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of elequence, or waked to acutacy the living lyre, may call with fells confidence. MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or Young Men, contempled marriage, being awareof Physical Weakness, Canic Debility, Deformities, &c., should immentely consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfebalth.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a paycleman, and confidently rely upon hisskill as a physician.

Da. Johnston is the only regularly Educated Physician advertising to core Private Complaints. His remedies and treatment are entirely unknown to all others. Prepared from a life spent in the Great Hospitals of Europe and the First in this Country, viz: England, France, the Blockley of Philadelphia, de., and a more extensive practice than any other physician in the world. His many wonderful cures and most important Surgical Operations is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.—Those who wish to be specully and effectually relieved, should shun the numerous trifing imposters, who only ruin their health, and apply to him.

OFFICE, No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK St., left hand side going from Baltimore street, a few doors from the corner. Fail not to observe his name and number, for ignorant trifling importers, attracted by the reputation of Dr. Johnston, lurk near.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London; graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of wisoss life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and eisewhers, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and hand when asieep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfuness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A CERTAIN DISEASE.

When the misguided and improdest votary of

When the misguided and improdent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of his painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, detars him from applying to those who, from editeation and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their sppearance, such as ulcerated sore throst, diseased nose, noctural pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes sore throat, diseased nose, noctural pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, desiness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful repldity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secresy; and, from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful complaint, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of life miserable.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, vis:—
Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Palns in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous

tions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings. Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of allages, can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Lesing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

By this great and important remedy wonkness of the organs are speedily cured and full vig or restored. Thousands of the most Nervous and Debititated individuals who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to MARRIAGE Physical or Mental Disqualifications, Nervous Irritability Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Dr Johnston.

Johnston.

Young men who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when slone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit.—Such persons, before contemplating

Should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubin happiness. Indeed, without these, the journet through life becomes a weary pligrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind become shadowed with despair and filled with the melan choly reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.
