THE ELECTIONS.

We have arrived at a period in our history, more perilous than any heretofore known or even that a great and powerful party, under that influence, would boldly avow the purpose of destroying the rights of the South, and make it a prime article in their creed to repudiate the Constitu-

States have been faithless in regard to the Compromises. But in respect to these, it is in proof that of all the Compromises, including that of the Tariff of 1883, the North has repudiated and disclaimed them, to all the extent in their power.

In this view of the subject, it is surprising that any southern citizens or party, can even name tional, as a part of their creed either in proposing case in Virginia and Maryland. a renewal, or expressing regret at their repeal.

A plainer proposition cannot be thought of, and none more in accordance with the principles of the Constitution than that adopted by the Democratic party, that the citizens of every territory should decide for themselves, whether they will have a slavery or an i-slavery Constitution. This lone, besides its constitutionality, is consistent with common sense and reason.

For this the South is now contending - for this the National Democracy throughout the Union is struggling-it is not for Southern Rights in the 30th ult. say abstract that we contest, but these rights as guaranteed by the Federal Constitution.

While it is demanded of Southern Legislators that they shall vote for the admission of free States into the Union, it is claimed by Northern if he would under any circumstances vote for the admirsion of Kansas into this Union with a conatlitation tolerating slavery, Mr. Senator Wilson of

And now it remains for the Southern people with the issues and the consequences fairly before them, to say if they will sustain their princisecurity of our lives and property. Is not this question of sufficient value to be asserted on every occasion? Shall we compromise so vast a subject in one case, with the intention of asserting it MR. BUCHANAN AND THE BANKRUPT LAW. in another? We hope not. It should never be lost sight of in any election, and we submit to our as it is to oppose Mr. GILMER or Mr. any one in his unconstitutional position?

The election of Mr. GLMER would be bailed by the Black Republicans as a political triumph, and even a small majority for Mr. BRAGG would be counted upon as a retrocession by North Carolina. from the only groud upon which she can politically exist or be socially secure.

Shall we not then, without cherishing bitter feelings or personal hostility towards our fellow citizen, Mr. Gilmen, avoid a breach of political trust, and esape the reproach of foul dishonor, by bringing out the whole strength of the democratie party and its friends on Mr. BRAGG? The friends of the constitutional Union throughout the country, are looking towards us with intense anxiety and with ardent hopes that North Carolina will be a "name and a praise" among her sister portment in the opening of the contest for all great successful exemplar of civil and religious liberty-and not by solving the problem adversely, as to the capacity of the people for free government; be instrumental in causing the sun of political liberty and civil freedom, now culminating a glorious meridian, to set in this Wes-

CAUTION.

M. J. D. STROTHER, of Fairfield, S. C. writes to the Winnsboro' Register, that he found among his negroes, in the heart of his place, a Peddler with his pack on his back. The writer says that unlicensed Peddlers not only travel the high road through the District, but are found going the by paths of the neighborhood, into the plantations and even at the negro quarters. The writer further says: " Abolitionism is abroad, and we do not know in what way it may appear amongst us, as probable as any other way these very Peddlers may be propagating that very thing, at this time.

It was only on Thursday last that we stated to our readers that northern agents would do what has been thus early devel.

It would be well for the southern community to keep a good watch in this matter. The Peddler above alluded to was arrested, but on the way to the Magistrate he effected his escape. Had all been fair. why should he wish to avoid an investigation?

We were satisfied, as our readers know, that things of this sort would soon come to imagined. We have so long been deceived by the light. We do not present our impressions anti-slavery politicians, that we hardly expected with the idea of creating any alarm-but we will not fail to notice any movement that indicates the action of the Black Republican party, who are determined on our ruin. Their object is very apparent to our It is shamelessly urged that the Southern mind, and we will present our views should further occasions warrant it.

Every one who has taken the pains to make an mpartial inquiry in regard to the state of political parties and the tone of public sentiment, must know that the contest is between Mr. Buchanan, the candidate of the Democratic Constitutional party on the one side, and Mr. Fremont, the Black Republican sholition candidate on the other. No candid, well-informed man will venture to express the opinion that Mr. Fillmore stands any chance to be elected by the people .-Every vote, therefore, given for Mr. Fillmore weakens Mr. Buchanan and strengthens Mr. Pre mont. It seems that when Mr. Vick was about to leave North Carolina in company with Mr. Haywood on a Northern pleasure tour, he was requested by the State authorities to take with him a negro who had been sentenced to banishment from North Carolina for a glaring outrage upon the laws of that State. Mr. Vick consented, and on his arrival at the hotel in Philadelphia, he registered his name Vick and hog!" servant. MILHEIM. Centre Co., Pa., Oct. 9, 1850. I not only take , leasure, out doem it a duty owe to suffering humanity, to certify publicly to the great power of your Compound Syrup of Wild therry. I was taken with a violent cough, and bloody expectoration, great wasting away of my flesh, all the symptoms of fixed consumption. Af ter trying various remedics without any relief, and hearing of the great virtues of your Syrup, I commenced its use, and to my great satisfaction, and astonishment of all around me, my cough began to abate, appetite improve and in fact I have come as healthy and fleshy as ever. Some welve months have elapsed since the disease was first arrested, and I have every reason to believe that it is completely eradicated from my system.
