The Hartford Times of Saturday gives us some very interesting details relative to the late and preceding elections in Connecticut. "It appears by the official canvass, that there were 80 325 votes polled at the late Presidential election, in Connecticut, an increase in the aggregate which surprises everybody, and the inq iry is frequently made, where did all these votes come from ?-There are many who believe that there is really no such actual number of legal voters in the State. The aggregate vote For President in 1852 was

13,545 Gain in four years,

"The aggregate vote last Spring, for Governor, was 66 715, or 65 votes less than at the Presidential election in 1852. The gain of votes in this State in seven months, (from the first Monday of April to the first Tuesday of Novembe, 1856,) is Southerners for high prices. 13,610 votes.

Democratic vote in 1852.... " Spring of 1856,....32,704 " Fall of 1856,....34,995 "The Democrats have this fall polled 1.546 more votes than they ever gave in any previous election. They now give within 5 votes of 35,000. These are National men, a party of principle, firm in the maintenance of right. The Fillmore voters, also claiming to be National men, number 2 615 These added to the Democratic votes, make an aggregate of 37 610, polled by National men, though the 2 615 Fillmore voters may differ from the Democrats on other questions. The section alists gave 42315 votes, or 5.105 more than all others, or 9 000 more than that party, or the factions that make it up, ever before polled. These. to some extent, have been secured from men who thought the Brooks outrage was enough to turn their suffrages; from those who have been led to believe that intolerable outrages have been committed in Kansas, with the sanction of President Pierce; and by many who have listened to mini ters of the gospel, who have become much enlisted in polities on account of the slavery question, and have persuaded themselves that the Democrats were in favor of extending slavery, and have, in terms as direct as they cared to use, so informed their parishioners, almost weekly. But a four years administration of James Buchanan will scatter these delusions and false ideas, as the first term of Thomas Jefferson scattered the idle stories that bibles were to be burned by the Democrats, and churches destroyed. In addition to the strength gained upon these unstable issues and false representations, the Fremont vote was probably swelled by frandulent certificate votes, and illegal votes upon names upon the registry. if fraud was not practiced is counting. The great increase of votes for that party cannot well be accounted for in any ather way.

"The aggregate population of Connecticut has not very largely increased during the past four years; and it is well settled that only one vote can be polled a six of population, in a community like that of New England. It is rare that a greater proportionate vote than this is polled .-Now, allowing one vote for every six of population in the late contest, and we have an aggregate of 481,950; this, under the last apportionment, would have given Connecticut fire Representatives in Congress with a large fraction over. The increased vote of the last election, (13 545 ) over the largest vote ever before given in the State, would, if it was an honest increase, require an increase in the population of screaty-one thousand two hundred and seventy-a much larger number than has been the actual increase, probably."

A VERY INTERESTING CASE.

The following certificate appears in the Hartford Times, and although the election is over and things becoming quiet, or ought to be so, it is such a precious morceau that we must give our readers a taste of it. It very highly illustrates the political morality and moral honesty of the Fremont party:

On the Friday or Saturday preceding the Presidential election, I, Patrick Buily, a workman at Colt's Pistol Factory, went to the Halls of Record in Pearl street, where the Board of Sciectmen were in session for the purpose of making freemen, and on applying, in my turn, was asked by Allyu S. Stillman, first Selectman, "whether I could read?" I answered in the affirmative.— Stillman produced a volume of the Statutes of Connecticut, and pointing to a passage, told me to read it. I did so, reading correctly, but mispronouncing one word. Stillman shut the book. tation 5 miles from town. On Monday I procured a private note from a Fremonter, who works in the same establishmont, addressed to Stillman, and stating that I would, if admitted, "vote for Fremont. This The Herald of Saturday says :- We received a ote I took to Stillman, who was at his office .letter from Paris yesterday, and were pained to Stillman said on reading it, "Is that so?" and told me that 'if I would come to him to-morrow [election day], when the Board was in session, at the City Hall, he would do all he could for me. DESIGNS OF WALKER

We have not inserted much matter relative to the movements of WALKER, for the reports have been most unreliable. A summary notice in the Buffalo Advertiser, relative to a quarrel which lately took place between Warker and Goicouria his brigadier, gives us developments of public importance, and we, therefore, present them to our readers :

"The precise policy which has guided the movements of Gen. Walker has theretofore been matter of conjecture. Writers for public journals, recollecting the example of Texas, which applied for annexation as soon as it had been wrested from Mexico by adventurers from the United States. have supposed that Walker would naturally follow this precedent. It has been constantly charged that he was secretly acting in the interest of the Southern States, with a view of extending the area of the slaveholding portion of the Confederacy. It has been supposed that Southern men looked with favor on his enterprise, because they expected that, in case of his success, Nicaragua would be a base of operations for an attack on Cuba

"The supposition that Walker looked forward to ultimate annexation to the United States derived little support from any exhibition he had made of his character. It cannot be doubted that he possesses pluck, ability, and determination; as little can it be doubted that the motive which impels him is restless and inordinate ambition. If he should succeed in gaining a firm foothold in Nicaragua, he doubtless expects, in the unsettled condition of that part of the continent, to subdue the whole of Central America and Mexico. Would a selfish man like Walker, who feeds his imagination with such such day-dreams as these, be likely to cherish the design of laying down absolute power, and exchanging the position of chief of a great country for the chances of promotion in what would then be one of the forty members of the Federal Government?

The quarrel which has just broken out between Walker and Gen. Golcouria, one of his chief and most trusted agents, lifts the veil which has hither-Who wish to repeal the law which carries out to concealed his designs. It would seem that, although he has it in contemplation to make a descent on Cuba, or at least purchased the support to prevent new States from coming into the Union of Goicouria by holding out this prospect, nothing can be farther from the intentions of the arch-fillibuster than annexation to the United States. The following is a copy of the contract which was entered into on the 11th of January last between Walker and Goicouria:

Gen. William Walker, Commander-in-chief of the army of Nicaragua, is willing to form the following agreement with Capt. F. A. Laine, appointed agent of Sr. Domingo de Goicouria, sole holder and depositary of the goods and chattels belonging to the cause of Cuba, consisting in money, a vessel, and munitions of war :

Firstly. Gen. William Walker pledges his word of honor that he will assist and co-opera e with his person and with his various resources, such Who says that the property of Southern people as men and others, in the cause of Cuba and in favor of her liberty, after having consolidated the peace and the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua.

Secondly, Gen. William Walker proposes and admits the understanding that the material and pecupiary resources of Nicaragua, as well as those which are in the possession of the revolutionary part of Cuba, shall be amalgamated together, making common cause together for the purpose of overthrowing the Spanish tyranny in the island and of insuring the prosperity of Central America, identifying thereby the interests of both

Thirdly. Gen. Walker requires a full exposition. manifestation, and explanation of the resource tailed statement and list of the military and mar- | Indicial Circuit. ine forces, as well as the remaining resources of the Spanish Government in the island of Cuba. Fourthly, Capt. F. A. Laine, having taken into consideration the contents of the three foregoing acticles, agrees to accept the contents of the said three articles only as a preamble of a contract to be made upon a more solid basis by the parties interested; and therefore binds himself by his word of honor to keep this agreement until he shall have fuller powers for its final arrangement. And having drawn out two papers of the same tenor in corroboration of this, we affix our signatures in the independent State and Republic of Nicaragua this day, January 11, 1856.

WM. WALKER. F. A. LAINE.

On the strength of this, Go'couria went himself to Nicaragua in March last, and devoted all his energies to forwarding the plans of Walker. About midsummer be came to New Orleans for the purpose of raising fuuds for Walker's assistance, and, failing of success there, he came North to New York. In August he received from Walker credentials as Minister to England, accompanied by the following letter:

GRANADA, August 12, 1856. My DEAR GENERAL: I send your credentials for Great Britain by Gen. Cazeneau. They are ample, and will be, I hope, not without result. If you can open negotations with England and secure for Nicaragua the port of San Juan del Norte you will effect a great object. It will be a long step towards our end. Without San Juan del Norte we lack, what will be in the end indispensable to us, a naval torce in the Caribbean sea. The commercial consequence of this possession are nothing in comparison with the naval and politi-

With your versatility and (if I may use the term) adaptability I expect much to be done in England. You can do more than any American could possibly accomplish, because you can make the British Cabinet see that we are not engaged in any scheme for annexation. You can make them see that the only way to cut the expanding and expansive democracy of the North is by power-ful and compact Southern federation, based on military principles.

The sooner you get to England the better it will be for us. If possible the treaty should be made before the middle of November. By that time the rainy season will be over and we can open the next campaign. We must have all our relations with Central America fixed before the last of April, and nothing will so much facilitate us as the settlement of the Mosquito question -Above all, this work is necessary for the work we have in hand after our Central American affairs are settled.

It is needless for me to impress you with the importance of this mission, for you no doubt feel it as deeply as I do.

I hope to hear from you every mail. Can you not make - write me a letter? Tell . - he must send me the news, and let me know whether "Cuba must and shall be free," but not for the Yankees. Oh, no! that fine country is not fit for those barbarous Yankees. What would such a psalm-singing set do in the island? Remember me to your family, and believe me

WM. WALKER. yours sincerely, Gen. D. DE GOICOURIA.

General Goicouria goes on to say : "This letter put a new face on matters altoether. It revealed to me for the first time Mr. Walker's hostility to the Democratic principles of America, and his design to establish a Southern despotism as a counterbalance to the U. States .-It entered into no part of my plans to forward any such scheme as this, and I very plainly perceived that Mr. Walker gave me credit for an 'adaptability' which I do not possess. It was evident that the annexation of Cuba to the United States was very far from Mr. Walker's ideas. It cannot be considered wonderful that I paused and did not instantly start for England.

"The next step taken by Walker was to revive | tria. slavery in Nicaragua, and that I heard of in October. This went still further to dissatisfy me .-It is quite unnecessary for me to deny the charge of any pseudo-philanthropy in regard to the black; posterously stupid."
