DEFERENCE TO WOMEN. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, travelling in the Northwest,

There is only one fashion which I complain of, especially as a traveller, which is the extreme unmeaning homage that is paid to the sex, regardless of age and condition. Thus you will often see an old man of sixty or seventy turned out of his seat to make room for a nice, buxom, bread and butter Miss of fourteen or filteen, though he may have been travelling for successive nights and days, and she only a few hours; or, though he may be sick and she in the tullest enjoyment of good health. Such politeness is simply ridiculous; it is the absence of good breeding in a girl to accept it, and the height of self sufficient impertmence to demand it. A case of this sort occurred to myself .-After travelling some three nights and days in the cars, and having, as I thought, firmly secured my seat at a convenient distance from the stove, I found myself, after returning from what other bees rendered plastic by mixture of the conductor of the cars had called the saliva of the bee's mouth, and laid on "dinner," ejected from my seat by a the walls of the cell with the tongue very courle of way passengers, one a young much in the way a plasterer uses his trow- man of about eighteen or nineteen, the other a girl, to my judgment, about thirteen or fourteen years old. WOMAN'S IGHTS' CONVENTION.

The "strong-minded women" assembled on Tuesday, in the New York Tabernacle, according to previous announcement. The actors on the boards are pretty much the same old stagers that have figured there in years gone Ly. Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell, Lucretia Mott, Mrs. Ernestine Rose, Mrs. Nichols, Wendell Phillips, and a score of other philosopi ers and philosopheresses of the same description.

The presiding div nity was Lucy Stone, or rather (now) Mrs. Blackwell. Lucy favored her hearers with a long dissertation on Woman's Wrongs-in the main but a repetition of the old song, at the same place a year or two ago. A Mrs. Davis was disposed to treat the matter with a "woman's spirit," woman that "khew-her rights, and knowing, dared maintain them." The present condition of her sex, in this country, she pictured as one of the most degrading bondage, and, for her part. she was ripe for almost anything to get rid of it. With a patriot of the Revofution she was prepared to say, Give me liberty or give me death." This of course, "brought down the house."-The next speaker was a young hairy taced gent, with a French name, who launched into a furious Abolition tirade, and said nothing at all about Woman's Rights Women got indignant and called him to order. The hairy man took the hint and sat down-soonwith an audible protest, however against this attempt to control the "liberty of

A series of resolutions were presented for discussion, of which the following are a sample. "Resolved, That the Republican party, appealing constantly through its orators to female sympathies, and using for its most popular rallying cries a female name, is peculiarly pledged by consistency to do justice hereafter in States where it holds control.

"Resolved, That the monopoly of the Elective Franchise and thereby all the powers of legislative government by man solely on the ground of sex, is a usurpation condemed alike by reason" and common sense, subversive of all the principles of justice, oppressive and demoralizing in its operations, and insulting to the dignity of human na-

At the afternoon session, other speechwere made by the gentleman with the big beard, by Mrs. Jones, and Wendell Phillips. One of the most extraordinary events of the occasion was, that the gent with a long beard insisted on permission to pray, which he finally succeeded in doing in the following improved new version of the Lord's prayto be her grandfather." This at last

> HOTRIBLE DEATH FROM HYDROPHORIA We learn that on Monday of last week a young man named Henry belonging to his father about six weeks previous, as were also several head of canle, swine and a horse. Fears arising in the family that the dog might be man, he was instantly killed. Fearful of the consequences of the bite the young man received, medical aid was summoned and the ordinary woman, by Dr. Dunlop, of Riply, Brown prescription administered; and finding the Ohio Medical College, by Professor felt relieved, believing a cure had been effected, all was well, and no more thought about it until a few weeks since the horse that had been bitten at the same time and by the same dog became rapid and died from the effects.

After he was dead he was skinned, in which operation the young man that ad been bitten assisted, and by some mea is received a wound on one of his fingers, through which the virulent blood of the horse commingled with his own, and of course repoisoned his whole system. Several days after he complained of dullness and pain in the head and limbs, which, with the bewildered appearance of the eyes and dread of the sight of water, were the first symptoms of the horrible disease.

This was followed by a general prosration of the system, accompained by violent paroxysms, with a flow of saliva, which ended in his death as above stated. Although competent medical id was brought to service, yet nothing ould be done to save him, as the fatal pois n was so spread over the system by the singular circumstance related hat nothing could prevent it from doing s learful work. - Allentown (Pa) Reg

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons Londor i graduate from one of the mest eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and cleewhere, has effected some is, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has elected sent of the most astonishing cures that were ever known.

Many troubled with ringing in the cars and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bushfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement mind, were cured immediately. A CERTAIN DISEASE. When the misguided and improdest votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of his painful discuse, it too often happens that anili-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, detay ing till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, noctural pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, andes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head face and extremities, progressing with frightful in-pidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns," To such therefore, Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secresy; and, from his extensive practical in the first Dr. tice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortuna'e vection of this horrid dis-case. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall wictims to this dreadful complaint, owing to the sn-skiffulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitu-tion, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of life mis-TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences.

These are some of the sad and melantholy effects, produced by early habits of youth, viz:—
Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous irritability Dersagement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

Mentally —The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings. Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Soll-tude, Timidity, &c. are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of alinges, can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emeriated, have a singular apprannee about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.
