POETRY.

I'M GROWING OLD.

The following beautiful stanzas first appeared in the Andover Advertiser, and were written, by a lady of New York city -However it may be with the frail physical frame, the heart, we are sure, that gushtes out in these lines can never "grow old."

I'm growing old - 'tis surely so; And yet how short it seems. Since I was but a sportive child, Enjoying children dreams!

cannot see the change that comes With such an even cace;

I mark not when the wrinkles fail Upon my facing face.

I know I'm ol ; and yet my heart Is just as young and gay As e'er it was before my locks Of bright brown turned to gray.

I know these eyes, to other eyes

Look not so bright and rlad As once they looked; and yet 'tis not Because my heart's more sad. I never watched with parer joy

The fleating clouds and glowing skies, While glistening tears of rapture fill These old and fading . yes.

And when I mark the cheek, where once The bright rose used to glow, It grieves me not to see instead The almond crown my brow.

I've seen the flower grow old and pale, And withered more than 1; I've seeh it lose its every charm, Then droop away and die.

And then I've seen it rise again, Bright as the beaming sky, And young and pure and beautiful-And felt that so shall I.

Then what if I am growing old-My heart is changeless still, And God has given me enough This loving heart to fill.

I love to see the sun go down, And lengthening shadows throw Along the ground, while o'er my head The clouds incrimson glow.

I see, beyond those gorgeous clouds, A country bright and fair, Which needs no sun; God and the Lamb do the most good to the greatest number. Its light and beauty are.

I seem to hear the wondrous song Redeemed sinners sing ; And my heart lesps to Join the throng To praise the Heavenly King.

I seem to see three cherub boys, As hand in hand they go, With golden carls and snowy wings, Whose eyes with rapture glow.

When I was young I called them mine-Now Heaven's sweet ones are they ; But I shall claim my own again,

When I am called away. Perhaps, when heaven's bright gate I've pas-

COLPORTAGE IN N C. BY AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

The hand of God continues to open wide an effectual door of usefulness to this humble Christian agency, which He is greatly blessing as it moves onward from door to door of rich and poor, supplying every one with plain gospel truth, "calculated to receive the approbation of all evangelical Christians," which is being the means of iustructing our ignorant never before reach ed, bringing sinners to Christ, and quickening Christians in duty, as the following may illustrate, the sequel of which has just been given me by those connected with it, with permission to thus use it.-Four years ago as I was thoroughly visiting a section, I was told of a secluded family in a swamp. To reach it, I had to walk half a mile on poles. As I drew near the miserable log hut, they discovered me and showed great restlessness And as I laid down my big saddle-bags, all present showed increased uneasiness, which I quiet ed as soon as possible by shaking hands and kind words, then took a sent on one of their stools. Here I found the parents and nine children in poverty, filth, wickedness, and ignorant to a degree most shocking. Only one of the children could remember ever seeing a book before, and not one ever heard a sermon or prayer before. After giving the Primer and other books, and instructing them an bour, with some difficulty I got the father to consent for some one to come and teach them twice a month. I then asked him why he had never sent his children to the public school. To which he replied, "Why, sir, do you reckon I have no better sense than to send my children to that house built for a trap to catch them in to have them bound out from me !" I explained, but to no seeming good effect.

When I started, two of the children asked me to come again; and John, 14 years old, walked with me to my horse; and as we shook hands, he looked at me with big tears in his eyes and said, "Mr. C, I want you to let me go and live with you."
I told him to return home then and he dutiful and industrious, and God would provide for him. A few days after, I told this case to a rich man who became deeply interest. ed in the boy, and in a few menths he succonded in getting him, and has kept him at a fine school, so that he now has a good education; and from reading the "Anxious Dec. 18.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London; graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Par-is, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known, Many troubled with ringing in the cars and hend when asleep, great nervousness, being plarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfurness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement mind, were cured immediately.

A CERTAIN DISEASE. When the misguided and imprudent votary pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that amili-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horris disease make their appearance such as ulcerated head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head. face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the from running away, that to guard against bones of the nose full in and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns." To such therefore, Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secresy; and, from his extensive prac-tice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America. he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid dis ease. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful complaint, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

By this great and important remedy weakness t he organs are speedily cured and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most Nervous and Debilitated individuals who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to MARRIAGE. Physical or Mental Disqualifications, Nervous Ir-ritability Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Dr Young men who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone—a habi when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage mapossible and destroys both rind and body, should apoly immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit.— Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE.

Should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

ANECDOTE OF JOHN RANDOLPH All who have read the life of this great man will remember the great importance

'HE founder of this Colebrated Institution offers the most certain, Speedy and only effects - biographer, Mr Garland, records the fact of his correcting Dr. Parish twice in his manner of pronouncing words, while the doctor was reading him a short article the day before his death, and that when the doctor hesitated about adopting Mr. Randolph's mode of pronunciation, the dying man exclaimed in his usual impatient and at solute manner: "Pass on; there cap be no doubt of it." This had seemed to me to be slightly colored by the biographer; but the accompanying in eident convinced me that it was but the ruling passion strong in death. When Tazewell was at the zenith of his fame, on one occasion he made
