LOVE IN A PRINTING OFFICE.

I once heard an old Jour remark that a printing office was no place for love making, and I have since experienced the truth of the observation-being perfeetly convinced that the flower of love can never bloom in the midst of types, stands and printing ink.

It was my fortune to sojourn a few days in the city of B-, Directly opposite the office was a pretty white cot-tage, with a rose bush clambering around the casement, and I was not long in making the discovery that the aforesaid white cottage, with rose shaded roses that clustered around the window. love in a Printing Office. THE TRI-WEEKLY COMMERCIAL ly alarmed, and apoligized in the best there was a "lurking devil in her eye," that told me there was mischief afloat.

As I stood surveying the black covering of her hand, scarcely able to surpress a laugh at the strange metamorphosis, she raised it quickly on high, and brought it down "kerslap" on my cheek. Before I could recover from my surprise the same little hand had again descended, and again, left its imprint on my other cheek. "Why, Laura," I exclaimed, "what are you about ?" "I think you told me you rolled ink on the face of the form," she replied with a laugh, and again her hand lit upon my tace taking me abroad slap in the middle of my countenance, and most a light step and a merry peal of laughter, she skipped through the door. She turned back when beyond my reach, without the slightest difficulty. "And so," thinks I to myself, "this is ove in a printing office. The 'devil' take such love?"

The next morning when the editor came to the office, I rather calculate he found things a little topsy turvey. However, that made no difference to mefor I had "mizled" long before day

I bore the marks of that scene for many a day, and now when I see a lady enter a printing office, I think of Laura, and keep my eyes on the ink keg-and although she was beantiful as Hebe, I would not attempt to touch her with a ten foot pole.

TAKE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. JOHNSTON permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise, but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers could not fail to fall into the hands of the many impude: '1' unlearned Imposters, with innumerable False Nam. '1' combined Quackshops, swarming these large cities, copying Dr. Johnston's advertisements or advertising themselves as p hysicians, illiterate shallow-brained fellows, too lary to work at their original trade, with scarce too ideas beyond the brute, who, for the purpose of Enticing and Deceiving, carry on five or six offices, under as many different False Names, so that the afflicted Strangtine excepting one, is sure to tamble headlong into the other. Ignoran Quacks with emermonallying certificates of great and astonishing cures from persons not to be found, who kee you taking large bottles of Liconica Waters and othe packages of fifthy and worthless compounds, cunningly prepared to impose upon the unfortenate and unsuspecting. Trifling month after month, or as long as the smallest ce can be obtained, and, in despair, leaves you with ruined health, to sigh over your galling disappointment.

It is this motive that induces Dr. J. to advertise, you are along a few of the country of the search of the reply. Fermons writing should state Lies and send that portion of advertisement describing a mytome.

NO LETTERS ERCEIVED UNLESS POST-PAID and containing a sould state Lies and send that portion of advertisement describing a mytome.
