NORTH CAROLINA RAHLROAD.

We learn from a gentleman just returned from Greensboro', and who was in attendance at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the above road, that Mr. Fisher was re-elected President. C. P. Mendenhall re-elected Treasurer, and that all of the old Board of Directors were re-elected with the exception of Gen. Alex. McRae of this town, who declined serving; and that Ralph Gorrell, Esq., of Greensboro', was elected in his stead. The affairs of the Company were represented to be in a prosperous condition. The meeting adjourned on the 10th inst .- Herald of Yesterday.

FOUND. A correspondent writes to us from Black Creek, Wilson county, N. C., that on the night of the 9th nd about 12 o'clock at night. It had been placed in a small black hair trunk, the hair being to rned inside. The child was taken care of by Me A. II. Aycock, and he requests the parents to take it away, as it seems to be in a very precarious condition. The following morning the tracks of two persons, one of whom wore india rubber shoes, were found and traced from Black Creek-towards Stantonsburg, for nearly seven miles. The trunk bere evidence of having remained in the rain the previous evening, and the child was nearly exhausted when it was found. -The trunk was marked on the bottom "H. G. Jolly, Washington, N. C.," as though bought by him at the North, and sold to some other person. The owner's name had been marked on the top.

The parents of this innocent child should be ferreted out, if possible, and made to suffer for their brutal conduct .- Journal of yesterday.

A REMARKABLE PHYSICIAN. A correspondent of the Carolinian, at Columbia, S. C., writing from Hagarstown, Md. under date of June 7th, speaking of the various physicians in that vicinity says:  * One of whom is Dr. Dorsey, over eighty-five years of age, still with the mental and physical vigor of one in the meridian of life in for his highly esteemed professional services. Dr. Dorsey is said to be longer in practice than any man in America. From a registry of births which he has kept, it appears that he has officiated at over more than 12,000. I regret much that owing to my feeble health, I could not spend more time in hearing from the Doctor, a history of his wonderful experience. He is rather tall and stout, and uncommonly broad in the lumber region of the sanguineous and lymphatic temperaments, equal with a slight mixture of the billous. We have often heard of the above remarkable and much esteemed gentleman. Only a few weeks ago we published a paragraph taken from one of the Hagerstown papers, giving a brief obituary of the Doctor's horse, which died recently at the age of forty-seven years. The animal, like its owner, was remarkable, and being peculiarly attached to it in his life, he mourned its demise with no ordinary feeling."

EFED WITH GLASS. The London Art Journal says: "It will startle many to learn that arrangements are in progress for covering with glass, or rather for putting into a huge glass case, the house in which Shakspeare was born, at Stratford-on-Avon. The houses on both sides have been taken down, and the monument now stands alone. The object of this course is to protect the house against the effects of weather, and the further influence of time. We question, however, the taste of the arrangement, and fancy it will be a step from the sublime to the THEORY OF HAIL.

The late disastrous hailstorms in the neighbor ing counties, having created a world of talk and no little wonderment, a hint or two on hail itself, may not be inopportune. A Northern scientific remarks that it is ebicfly restricted to the temperate latitudes, and in these, is most frequent during spring and summer. Within the tropics it seldom falls at a lower altitude than from 1500 to 2000 feet above the level of the sea. The explanation usually given of this fact is, that the temperature which increases downward to the surface of the earth, is constantly so high in those regions that | the church; and being fearful of his life he armhail never descends to a lower altitude than above | cd himself, and, being attacked on Sunday, he wind which invariably accompanies and ushers him. The testimony taken on the inquest shows in a hail storm, is attributable to the depression | that, on the appearance of Austin at the church of the temperature which the hail communicates | he was attacked by three young men, who struck to the lower atmosphere in its fall.

A terrible affray occurred yesterday, in Americus, against sundry persons on the one side, and Harvey W. Shaw and Wm. Shaw on the other, which resulted in the death of Harvey W. Shaw, and the shooting of Wm. Shaw in two or three places, though not fatally. The difficulty grow out of an assault, made the day previous, at the Americus Depot, by II. W. Shaw, on Charles W. Hancock, Esq., who was about to leave for the Milledgeville Convention of to-day. Hancock was suddenly collared and thrown over the Railroad track and very much bruised, clothes torn. &c. He therefore returned home, and it is said, himself and friends armed thenselves to meet the Shaw party, also armed for conflict. During the day Shaw was arraigned before the Mayor and fined $20 and costs, for the offence committed, which was paid, when on leaving the Court-house Hancock met Shaw and commenced a verbal assault upon the latter. At this moment a pistol our country. He rides at all times night and or gun shot was fired by some unknown person. doy, in obedience to the many calls that are made and Shaw escaped to his house, followed by an excited crowd, when about a dozen shots were fired with the result stated.

Mrs. H. W. Shaw, during the melec, rushed into the street and fired three discharges with a revolver at Mr. McBain, without doing any damago. When her busband fell, saying he was a dead man and asking for his children, Mrs. 8. fainted and was in a very critical condition when the train left at 2 P. M. yesterday. Two pagroes. Litt Young and Allen, both well known in this city, have been arrested and lodged in jail, on a charge of shooting from Shaw's house, during the fight. They were in the service of Shaw. We understand that the assault of Shaw on Hancock arose out of some remarks of the latter, in defence of a German before the Mayor, for a misdemeanor of some sort, impeaching the credulity of Shaw, the witness against the accused. Altogether, it is a deplorable affair, but one from the peculiar circumstances of the case and the antecedents of this man Shaw, which might have been expected. Ever sluce the horrible suicide of Dr. Perkins in Shaw's gambling House, the Americus community have been much exasperated sgainst Shaw, and the least violence on his part towards the humblest citizen, was enough for the popular outbreak which has just occurred .- Macon Cilizen, July 8.

A LONG JOURNEY.

Samuel Clay, Jr., of Bourbon County, Ken tucky, has returned from Mexico, where he has been purchasing mules and horses. He succeeded in purchasing about three hundred mules and forty horses, which he drove to Illinois, through Texas, the Indian Territory and Missouri, a distance of about two thousand miles. The stock is now upon the prairies recruiting. When they are fat enough they will be driven to New Haven, Connecticut, and then shipped to the West Indies, which is certainly a very roundabout way to reach the West Indies from the Rio Grande. The messenger who brought the news reached St. Mary's on last Saturday. His name is Vellaindeer, an old French trader, whose statements are perfectly reliable. He stated to Capt. Dixon, Col. Carpy and others, that eleven days before, he had left Col. Sumner, who told him that he and sent one hundred soldiers and fifty teamsters little in advance of his main body, when they were attacked by a large body of Cheyennes and Arrapahoes, and all were slain; that he intended to proceed directly in pursuit of the enemy, and would not pause till be had revenged the loss of his compatriets, and punished the savage hordes who had butchered them.

A MAN SHOT BY A SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER.

The Washington Star gives an account of an af fray which occurred on Sunday week in Fairfax county, Va., Manuel A. Austin, a student at the Virginia Theological Episcopal Seminary, near Alexandria, is teacher or superintendent of the Sunday School at Mount Carmel meeting house and situated near what is termed Ball's Cross Roads, in Alexandria county. At this church, on Sundays, gangs of young men have repeatedly congregated to insult the children and teachers as they passed by. Young Austin had even been threatened with death if he persisted in going to ntioned without being melted. The squall of shot one of his assailants, Jas. H. MARRIAGE ON THE CARS. The Memphis Appeal of a late date says: 'On the down train of the Memphis and Ohio Rail Road, Mr. V. B. Sevier, of Brownsville, was united in wedlock to Miss E. T. Westbrook, of Shelby county. The knot was tied by Rev. Albert Thomas. The fair one, whose parents were opposed to her marrying so young, had informed her betrothed by letter, that she would be found at a certain point on the road and true to her promise, she was there."

MULES INSTEAD OF HORSES.

They are substituting mules for the more aristocratic horse in the omnibus lines and for express wagons in Cincinnati. The Commercial says they are equally tractable: look not handsomely but well enough; their first cost is twenty to forty per cent. less than that of horses; they consume forty per cent. less food; are thirty-three per cent. more durable; are precisely adapted to the boulder pavements, and move with a steadyunyielding celerity-in hot weather especiallythat recommends them highly to all who have not tested their merits. SUICIDE OF A PROBABLY INNOCENT MAN. ARRIVAL OF THE ANGLO SAXON.

In the case of John Mowatt, who hung to the bars of his cell at the Cambridge street jail, the coroner's inquest held yesterday develops some remarkable facts. It appears that Mowait was arrested about a week since on the charge of one Jeremiah Hart, that he had robbed him while n Broad street, in the night time, of $12. Mowatt, however, declared his entire innocence .-Upon being searched, the sum of $26 87 was found upon him, but no $2 bill found of the deomination of those which Hart said he had lost. Mowatt was taken before the police court, where, upon the testimony of Hart, who swore without besitation that Mowatt came along and took the money from him, he was committed to jail to wait the action of the grand jury in the matter. Hart was also detaided as a witness. At the jail Mowatt continually asserted his innocence, tating that he was from Webster, Massachusetts, where he had a wife and two children, and that he was on a visit to this city, when thus suddenly rrested on so serious a charge. It was the general opinion of all conversant with the case, that ne was innocent of the rebbery, and he would probably have been discharged next week by the grand jury finding no indictment, but the anxiety of this situation probably worked upon his mind, se as to cause him to take his own life. The jury returned a verdict of death by suicide while laporing under a temporary attack of insanity. Boston Post, 10th.

SUBLIMITY.

A northern paper gives the following specimen of sublime language, uttered by an itinerant ven-

"Oh that I were an eaglet I would seize Coumbia's fleg unfurled, and soar aloft until I reached the upper air. I would wave it o'er the thrones of tyrants, an emblem of hope and promise to the down-trodden, and hang it from the ceiling of the skies. I would steal the nectar from the gods, and suck from every cloud ambrosial sweets, and when I descended again to earth would make them into soap."

The above will do very well for a cold climate, but it pales before the bold and brilliant conceptions of itiperants of a more southern latitude .-The editor of the Mobile Tribune listened to one few weeks ago who was engaged in selling Patent Salve. He had a crowd around him who seemed to doubt the truth of his extravagant asertions, whereupon he fired up and exclaimed-"Could every man be transformed into an artst-the heavens into canvas-the mighty oceans nto p in-could we have the stars for scaffoldsthe midnight darkness for drapery and gloomthe lightnings flash for tinge-the thunder for shricks, groans and cries - the countless drops of rain for tears-the howling wind for sighs-and could we, with pious Joshua, command the glowing sun in the East, and blushing moon in the West to stand still till the laboring artists dashed upon the cauvas the sufferings relieved and the blessings conferred, by this salve, it would fill heaven's expansive blue from pole to pole, wear out every brush, tire every artist and fail to give you a full view of the great benefit of this wonderful compound to the human family."

GREEN HAIR.

The Bulletin de Therapeutique contains the urious case of a worker in metals, who has rought in copper only five months, and whose hair, which was lately white, has now turned to a decided green. Chemical analysis has proved that his hair contains a considerable quantity of acetate of copper, and it is to this circum that it owes its change of color.

THE USE OF LANGUAGE. A corrain Tipperary gentleman, whose name is too familiar for me to print, once called upon a countryman in Paris, and after ringing stoutly at the bell the door was opened by a very smartly dressed "maid," whose grizette cap and apron mmediately seemed to pronounce her to be French. "Est Captain-est Monsieur O'Shea ici ?" asked he in considerable hesitation. "Ah, sir, you're Irish," said she, with a very significant fall of the voice. "So," he afterwards said, "my French showed that I was English, and my English that I was Irish."-Macaulay.

CAPTURED.

Elsbury Johnson, for whose arrest Gov. Bragg offered a reward of three hundred dollars, was pursued and captured in Carter county, Tenn., last week, by Henry E. Lane, of Henderson county, where Johnson stands charged with rape, and was brought back and lodged in jail at Hendersonville. So we learn by the last Herald of Truth.

WRITING MACHINE.

An ingenious piece of mechanism, designed to enable a person to record his thoughts of observations while traveling in the cars, or any place where ordinary writing apparatus cannot be used, has been invented by Mr. Benjamin Livermore, of Hartland, Vermont. The paper on which the writing-or rather printing, for it resembles the telegraphic system of printing-is impressed, is coiled around two cylinders, which revolve as the lines are completed, and the letters are worked by a set of keys. No ink is required, the letters being colored by a prepared blue paper, against which the writing paper is pressed at each movement of the keys. The machine works with great accuracy and much facility, and is very compact, not exceeding four inches in length by about two and a half in width. It can easily be carried in a side pocket, and can be used without taking it from the pocket. By it a blind person might be learned to write. Altogether it is one of the most ingenious affairs we ever examined. Boston Journal.

A Canadian jury in a murder trial last month. resorted to a "toss up" to decide whether the verdict should be murder, manslaughter, or simple assault. The result was for manslaughter, they agreed to fight six against six, across the reported disagreement and were discharged.

VALUE OF HORSE FLESH. A pair of horses were offered for sale in Cincininnati, last week, for $370, but the purchaser thinking the amount too large, offered sixteen cents a pound. The horses were taken to an adjoining hay-scale, and weighed 2350 pounds, making their value $876.

A HEROIC WOMAN. Among the noteworthy incidents of the Mont real steamer disaster was the saving of her two children by Mrs. Bloomfield, whose husband is in he employ of the Grand Trunk Company at Toronto. She held to a rope with one hand, keeping the head of one child above water with the other, and holding the other up by fastening her teeth in its dress. So heavy was the load that two of her teeth gave way, and were lost, yet she still retained her hold. At last a boat came towards her, and men were screaming around her to be taken aboard. She could not scream, but a man seeing her situation brought the boat to her, telling them she needed aid most. Then her strength gave way at the prospect of relief and safety, and she came near drowning ere she could be lifted into the boat. She is a light, delicate

> CASE OF CHARLES II. MARSDEN. Before Judge Sprague, in the United States District Court. Captain Marsden flogged a seaman for stealing things from the cabin, which kind of punishment is prohibited by law, however slight it may be or however deservedly given . The learned Judge said :- Many of our sailors go to sea to avoid the penitentiary or prison, and are often guilty of stealing clothing from their fellow seamen, where a new supply cannot be obtained, and the captain must punish such conduct. How only remains for him to put the convict in irons or confinement, and the consequence is that those who have been robbed and left in a destitute condition are obliged to do the work of the robbers, who have thrown the stolen articles overboard to avoid detection; and the robbers are obliged to be fed and kept in idleness. In consequence of the trying and unfortunate condition in which our captains are placed under our flogging law, and in consequence of the expense of defending themselves for a mere technical breach of law while in the performance of their duty, the learn

During this time it is not to be supposed that he was idle, or that his mind dwelt only upon horses and bricks, for shortly after we hear of his entering one of the high schools and in a very short time after emerging with its highest honor. Next we hear of him as Principal of a very respectable Academy at Clarksville; again he has taken to reading law. and varies its tediousness during the winter by attending to the duties of Professor of Vocal Music at the Hudson River Institute at Clavarac. and within the last month we find him graduating at the Law School at Albany, and admitted a member of the Bar in that city. The name of the young man is Orrin L. Abbott.

A character in Mrs. Hents' story of "Love after Marriage, lays down the law thus: 'If a man is not ugly enough to frighten his horse, he is handsome enough to marry."

T'WILL ALL BE RIGHT. There's happiness within this world, If we have friends to love us-If we have one whose golden smiles Beam like the hopes above us. Let sorrow mark us with its blight-If we are loved, 'twill all be right, There's much of comfort in this life : And much of perfect pleasure, If we have one whose profered love We prize as sacred treasure. Let trouble exercise its might-This blessed love will make it right.

What though the heart is bending down With keen and heavy sorrow; Hope on-the grief we have to-day Shall turn to joy to-morrow; Have faith! though now life is not bright-If we are loved, 'twill all be right.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF

RIV. JAMES R. DURBOROW.

Paster of Berlin Circuit, Bultimore Conference.

Ald., have testified to the following EXTRAORDINARY CURE.

Point or Rocks, Friderick County, Md. Dr. Swayne.—Dear Sir.—Believing it a duty I owe to the public, and in justice to you. I have thought proper to make known one of the most extraordinary cures, in my own case, that has ever been truly recorded. In the month of October last I was afflicted with a severe gathering in my breast, which formed a large abscess, and also communicated to my Lungs and very much afflicted them, and discharged large quantities of corruption, external and internal. My breath could als pass through my Lungs and out through the cavty of my breast with apparent ease, attended with violent cough, day and night, loss of appetite, and extreme debility, so that my physicians thought my case entirely hopeless and beyond the power of medicine. I remained in this wretched condition for a long time, until I was wasted to a mere skeleton, and there seemed to be no hope for me; but having read in the public papers of the many wonderful cures performed by your COM-POUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, I immediately sent to Baltimore for five bottles and commenced its use, and to my great satisfaction and my anxious tamily, the abscess or opening in my lungs began to heal, and the cough subsided and on using ten bottles I was restored to perfect health. I believe, that to your valuable medicine, under the blessings of Divine Providence, I am indebted for this great change, and I am happy to say, that I am now enjoying as good health as I Over five years have clapsed, and I still remain a perfectly hearty man at this date, June 2d, 1856. I have not had a day's sickness for the last is months. Please accept my grateful acknowledg-Yours, very respectfully, THOMAS DIXON.

The Subscriber is well acquainted with Thomas Dixon, and can testify that the he has been affected as above represented. I regard his recovery almost as a miracle. He is a worthy member of Society.
