SHOCKING CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA. Jacob Willets, Esq, of Flushing, son of Samuel Willets, Esq., the well known hardware merchant in Pearl street, died on Sunday last at 4 o'clock P. M. of hydrophobia. The circumstances connected with the case are peculiarly affecting .-Eight weeks ago Saturday last, a dog came into Mr. Willets' vard and attacked him. His hired man, noticing the occurfore he could get the dog off, Mr. Willets was bitten severely in the hand. The dog immediately disappeared, but soon after proached by the servant, and was killed by him, with a gun. No unpleasant symptoms were manifes-ted until last Friday morning, when Mr. Willets complained to his wife that his arm felt heavy and painful. Dr. Hedges, of Flushing village, was at once sent for, who, upon learning the circumstances of the bite, was at once convinced that the disease was a clear case of hydrophobia. The best medical advice was obtained from the city, but all was of no avail. Mr. Willets was thirty-nine years of age, and surrounded with a young and interest-
