GENIN'S OBERON HAT.

A New summer style for young men. Genia has the pleasure of calling the attention of young men to an entire new fabric, intended specially for their use, and which combines the flexibility of the soft hat, with all the lightness and sentillating properties of the straw. The material is felt, of the finest texture; the color a dark fawn or umber; the crown moderately low, and the brim which is wide enough to hide the face, without being too wide to be elegant, has a leaf like turn on either side which is peculiarly graceful.

The fabric is lighter than a straw hat, and the it gives to the touch as readily as the soft hat, is so classic that it springs back to its true shape as soon as the pressure is removed. A shower that would spoil the straw hat does no damage to the Oberon, and in point of durability, will compare favorably with any summer style ever introduced in this country.

The Oberon may be termed the connecting link between the cost and silk hat combining the merits of both, without the defects, reing sufficiently elegant for dress purposes. For sale at the Hat and Cap Emporium 34 Market st.
