A PHIGIMAGE TO ASLAND.

In most respects, Ashland has undergone me charge since the death of Clay. The old walks are there. The trees upon the place, around the dweling and covering a large space upon the sides, were planted by his was informed by his son, Mr. James B. Caly, that all the shade trees we saw there, with the exception of a row of venerable locuts, were set out by his father, and stood, still, as he planted them. The row of locuts, skirts a walk of a hundred yards long which was a great favorite one with Mr. Clay, where, with slow tread, meditative and absorbed, he walked daily, elaboratconcerns. In the library, a room of unique and original design, I noticed an article possessing much historic interest-a brassbound, mahogany writing desk, the very one used by Mr. Clay when Commissioner to Gnent. Among the paintings that adorned the walls was the celebratee picture of the Washington family, by Inman. Besides these, I noticed other articles of taste, which I had seen at the very beautiful residence of Mr. Clay, at the old Orchard tract, near five miles from St. Louis, when he was resident there.

Before leaving Ashland, I passed over to the residence of Mr. John Clay, to pay my respects to the widow of Henry Clay. LIFE IN NEW YORK.

The Times thinks that two-thirds of the anxious, worn, candiverous visages which flit up and down Wall-st., in agony, any of these days, belong to men, who start in life with two great objects; to be President of the United States or ted States at a time, and as the office great nation, and fix their whole atten-tion upon Mr. Astor's fortune. vase for Gov. Seymour the cost of which will be five thousand dollars.

A BATTLE INCIDENT. At the battle of the Thames, a laughable incident occurred, which is thus related by one who was in the engagement:

The Brtish General had formed his men in open order, with their cannon pointing down the foad, by which the Americans were advancing. Gen. Hattison immediately took advantage of this, and ordered Col. Johnson's mounted regiment to charge 8.00 at speed by heads of companies (so as to expose the least possible front) pass through the open intervals, and form in the rear of brilliantly executed by the battalion under the command of La. Cel. James Johnson, his brother, Col. R. M. Johnson, at the same time charging the Indians with the other battalion.

It happened that in one of the companies under James Johnson's command, there was a huge, brawney fellow, named Lamb; he weighed about 240 lbs., was a brave weight, and was mounted instead, upon a whose sides his long limbs depended almost to the ground, while his bulky frame ros high above the beast-looking not unlike an overgrown boy astride of a rough sheep.

When the charge was made, Lamb's pony took fright and broke into a run .-Lamb pulled until the bit broke in the animul's mouth, and all command of him was lost. The little pony stretched himself as to the work, lashed out of the ranks, soon outstripped all the file leaders and pushed no longer master of his horse or himself, and he was in a quandary. If rolled off he would be trampled to death by his friends; with him, so far a head of the jest he must be killed. Eithet way death seemed incvitable, and, to use his expression, he thought 'he'd jist any something they could tell his friends in Kentucky, when they

[Correspondence of the Petersburg Express] INTERESTING TRIAL FOR MURDER-THE ACCUSED ACQUITTED.

HICKSFORD, VA., Oct. 6, '57. Dear Express :- Yesterday our court room was the scene of an uncommonly interesting and important criminal pros-ecution. The case under consideration was that of the Commonwealth vs. Mac and Andrew, two slaves charged with the murder of Benjamin Edwards. As I have alluded to this case in several previous communications, and as most the British forces. This movement was of your readers are doubtless familiar with all its particulars, I deem it totally unnecessary to go into detail.

A little before noon the two prisoners were brought in and seated within the bar. The room was transually crowded. Every countenance seemed to be filled with intense anxiety. Soon the anxious crowd was commanded to be silent. Then commenced the examinman, and as good humored as big, - brave stient. Then commenced the examili- Dabney Cosbey, men proverbially are. The poor creatures were examined and cross examined until they scarcely knew where they were. Of course, nothing was done but what was sheerly neces-

At a late hour in the afternoon the tedious examination ended. And then came the oral combat. Col. J. R. Chamon in advance of the company. Lamb was bliss, and J. R. Thorp, Esq., spoke in behalf of the Commonwealth. W. T. Lundy of Hicksford, and A. C. Butts and J. Y. Gholson, Esqs., of Petersburg, if the horse rushed upon t'e British lines appeared for the defence. Their speeches were all listened to with great eager ness and attention. I forbear to comment upon so many able efforts. At the conclusion of the prosecutor's last speech the audience were all agog to know the denouement of the trial. Every one left his seat. Anxiety was depicted on every face. Presently it was announced that the prisoners were discharged And thus terminated one of the most interesting trials that has ever taken place within the county of Greensville.

BROTHERLY AFFECTION.

In the regn of Queen Anne, a soldier belonging to the marching regiment which To his surprise the lines opened right and by a court-martial, was sentenced to be New style Umbrellis, fine and common Canes with large evergreens, including the holly, with oaks, maples, and ashes—all casting left, and he passed through unhart. So shot. The Colonel and Lieutenent-Colo- &c., &c. Ladies For Setts and Gentlemens' For mand of the regiment descended in course to the Major, a most cruel and inhuman man. The day on which the deserter was of command and let him pass. So soon as to be executed having arrived, the regiment as is usual on such orcasions, was drawn out to see the execution.

It is the custom on these occasion to draw lots from the several corporals for this disagreable office; and when every one expected to see these lots as usual, they were surorised to find that the Major had given orders that the prisoner should die by the hands of his on brother, who was only a private in the same company, and who, when the cruel order arrived, was taking leave of his unhappy brother, and with tears fast flowing, that expressed the anguish of his soul, hanging for the last time about his neck.

On his knees did the poor fellow beg that he might not have a hand in his brother's death; and the poor prisoner, forgetting for the moment his petitions to Heaven, begged to die by any hands than those of his brother. The unrelenting officer, however, could by no means be prevailed on to revoke his cruel sentence, though entreated to do so by every officer in the regiment : on the contrary, he swore that the brother and he only, should be the executioner, if it were merely for example's sake, to make ustice appear more terrible. When much ime had been wasted in fruitless endeavors to soften the rigor of this inhuman sentence, the prisoner prepared to die, and the brother to be the executioner.

The Major, strict to the maxims of cruelty stands close to see that the piece was properly loaded; which being done, he directs that the third motion of his cane shall be the signal to fire. Accordingly, at the third motion, the Major, instead of the prisoner, received the bullet through his own head, and fell lifeless to the azine form, in handsome style, and will contain ground.

The man no sooner discharged the piece, than throwing it on the ground he exclaim.

"He that can give no m'rcy, no mercy let him receive. Now, I submit; I had rather die this hour for that man's death, than live a thousand years and take away the life of my brother."

No one seemed to be sorry for this unexpected piece of justice on the inhman Major and the man being ordered into custody, many gentlemen present, who had been witnesses to the whole affair, joined to entreat the officers to defer the execution of the other brother till the Queen's pleasure should be known. The request being complied with, the City Chan.ber that very night drew up a very feeling and pathetic address to her Majesty, setting forth the unparalleled cruelty of the deceased officer, and humbly entreated her Majesty's pardon for both the brothers.

The brothers were pardoned and dis charged from the army.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons London graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected son e the most astonishing cures that were ever known, Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when a sleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfuness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A CERTAIN DISEASE. When the misgnided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this pleasure finds he fins imbled the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that anill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat diseased nose, noctural pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, desiness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful ra-pidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a he scration till death futs a period to his dreadful suf ferings, by sending him to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns," To such therefore Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secresy; and, from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease. It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful complaint, owing to the un-skilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitu-tion, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of life mis-TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects, produced by early habits of youth, viz:— Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head. Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous irritability Derangement of the Digestive Func-tions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consump.

Mentally -The fearful effects on the mind are Mentaty — The rearring energy on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory. Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings. Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude. Timidity, &c. are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their declipton.

what is the cause of their declining health. Lossing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS. By this great and important remedy weakness of the organs are speedily ented and full viger restored. Thousands of the most Nervous and Debilitated individuals who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All impediments to MARRIAGE Physical or Mental Disqualifications. Nervous Ir-itability Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Dr

Young men who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging In a certain secret habit .-Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE. Should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a wears pilgrimage; the pros-pect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another be comes blighted with our own.
