OLUME XII---NUMBER 109.

All night I wreatled with an angry spirit, And murmured at the world's d celt and wrong; My heart rebelled to see oppression's triumph, The weak forever trampled b; the strong.

But when 'hat dearest star that watches o'er us Softly unbarred the morning's rosy gate, One at my bedslie stood in shiuing raiment, And smiling on my trouble, whispered "wali !

"How long." I sighed, "how long shall haughty

"Wear royal robes and cat of royal bread, "While Trath from door to door unheeded wan-

"And has not where to lay her sacred licad ?

"If w long shall poble souls go forth at morning. "Fall of high hope and trust for bounteous sheaves.

"To learn that honors must be bought and barteret

"And lie down sorrowing with the Antur leaves ?

"Shall pride and mammon evermore be masters ? "The gi t d poor bow down to envious liste 1 Shall genius want, while sycophauts are laureled ?"-

But still serenely spake the bright one-"wait! And lifting up his hand in benediction,

His face grew radiant. lustrous as the morn,-With tender gaze his showy vesture parted, And oh I the bleeding side, the piercing thorn !

Then was I lifted up and ht my vision The workl beneath me floated far away; And oh, how petty were its toils and triumphs, Scen in the clear light of that uppler day ! "The victor has a nobler meed than glory" Fell on my car with music's golden chime-"It is enough to conquer with the spirit, The cro-s shall be a crown in God's own time !

My spirit willed its face in adoration, I dare not look upon that form sublime, But as it vanished in the breaking morning. Still fell the echoed music -"In God's time !" FLM.

EXCHANGE HOTEL. And it is bound to do justice to passengers in get-ing their meals—the Proprietor pledging himself to satisfy ail who may favor him with a call, or no

Passengers will find meals ready on the arriva of every train, with good Porters to attend to them ind check their baggage to any point which they may desire to have it checked.

The House is within twenty steps of the Ticket Office, where pisse gers can obtain their Tickets without any trouble, and be in good time alter getting their dinner or supper, as there is considerable baggage to change. Passengers will please bear in mind that there is a house in front of mine, rented by the other house to keep off opposition, which is called the New Weldon Hotel, but gentlemen and ladies will please recollect that his house has been built on iy some four, five or six years to my knowledge, and has been occupied by three different person-during that time, and has a new Proprietor at pres ent. This Old Weldon Hotel has been open for two months, and has not had a crowd but once since, but it is now increasing fast in popular fa-vor, as passengers find that the musis suit them and are always ready on the table when the trains arrive from any point. There are red bills printed by the other house with no name attached to them evidently designed to injure me and my House, but it cannot succeed, not withstanding the Pro-prietor and his men at the cars are particular in informing passengers that the house to the right is the best, but parsengers find that the house on the hill is not only the best, but that its table is more abundantly supplied with the best, and that the waiters are more polite and attentive to the wants of those who favor it with their presence

Please beer in mind that my honse is the newly opened EXCHANGE HOTEL on the hill, twonty steps from the Ticket Office. B. B. SEARS, Proprietor October 8, 1857. 58 11.
