

THE NEWS.

Miss Emily Ross, an actress, aged only nineteen years, and Gustav G. Knob, committed suicide in New York about the same time. They were lovers, and the girl's mother objected to their marriage. The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Homeopathic Medical Society opened in Philadelphia. The Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company was formed by the consolidation of several Western lines as a part of the Pennsylvania's Western system. The barge Grace Nichols was run into by the steamer Alpha in the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, causing her to fill with water. First Lieutenant Fred D. Tolton, of the Second United States Cavalry, stationed at Fort Whipple, Arizona, died at his home at Bennington, Vt. The hands in the machine shop of the Richmond (Va.) Passenger Railway went on a strike because there were too many bosses. A new packing company established at Nashville, Tenn., proposes to slaughter cattle and hogs by the tens of thousands. A massacre occurred in the town of Ponape, in the Caroline Islands. Thirty-two Spaniards were killed by natives. Lieutenant C. M. Turner, of the United States Ship Omaha, committed suicide at Yokohama. The crew of the whaling bark Lagoda forced the captain to take the vessel to Yokohama, where she was condemned. Miss Maggie Mitchell was murdered in her barn near Indianapolis, Ind. Calvin Holden and Albert Dunham were sentenced to death, Anne Eliza Holden to twenty-five years' imprisonment for the Russel murder in Illinois. Lars Erickson is in jail charged with the murder of his father in Barron, Wis. The Massachusetts Democratic State Convention nominated William E. Russell for Governor. Hon. J. M. Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture, made an address at the Ohio State Fair at Columbus. Dion Boucault, the actor and playwright, died in New York. The Society of the Army of the Cumberland, in session at Toledo, chose Columbus as the next place of meeting. Gen. Rosecrans was elected president. Three men and a woman from New York have been arrested in Washington, charged with tapping the telegraph wires with the intention of beating the bookmakers on the races. The explosion of a pitch kettle caused a fire in New York city in which two men and thirteen horses perished. One hundred negroes were poisoned at a big dinner near Collirine, Alabama. Miss Georgia Smith, was fatally injured by a runaway horse near Dubuque, Iowa. Two girls were killed by a train near Harrison, Tenn. John Kiernan and John Cardial, two alleged train wreckers, were bailed at Troy, N. Y., in $20,000 for the two. President Palmer appointed the executive committee of the World's Fair—twenty-six members equally divided between the two political parties. Hiram A. Tuttle was nominated for Governor of New Hampshire and Samuel E. Merwin for Governor of Connecticut. Steel was cast at Chattanooga, Tenn., from Southern Iron by the basic process. Thieves tunneled under the bank at Dalles, Oregon, blew the vault open and stole about $10,000. The window-glass manufacturers will petition Congress for an increased duty on glass. The Society of the Army of the Cumberland held its annual re-union at Toledo, Ohio. Virginia Vaccarino, superintendent of the silk worm division of the Agricultural Department at Washington, has been swindled out of $30,000. F. H. J. Hein, a cooper aged forty-five years, of Portsmouth, N. H., murdered his three daughters, and a man whose name has been connected with that of Hein's wife, and then committed suicide. New York Union veterans will erect a $50,000 memorial monument in the National Cemetery at Gettysburg. Jacob S. Beach, clerk of the Superior Court of Glynn county, Ga., was shot and seriously, but not fatally, wounded by Major John J. Spears in a quarrel over a land sale. The Knights of Labor strikers on the New York Central Railroad are disgusted with the aid they are receiving from the order. Annie Thorne, of New York, attempted to commit suicide in Philadelphia by taking laudanum. Mrs. Simon Obermayer, of Cincinnati, has sued for divorce, alleging that her husband eloped with sister Sophia, of the Red Cross Society. Mrs. Frances Constantine died in Philadelphia, aged 105 years. Electric Light Linemen Koff was killed on a pole in front of the Park Theater, New York, in the presence of hundreds of people just leaving the theater. Forest fires are raging in the state of Washington. During a fight over a girl in Grand Rapids, Mich., William Egan killed Patrick O'Connor. An Erie pusher engine at Susquehanna, Pa., struck four Italians, killing two and severely injuring the others. Jennie Hanley was fatally injured while attempting to escape from a burning building in Danbury, Ct. The schooner Comrade has been lost, with her crew of eight men, on Lake Superior. A bill has been filed to forfeit the charters of the Chicago gas companies. V. W. Hunt, the New York Central station master at Jordan village, near Syracuse, N. Y., was found drowned. The Western Union Telegraph Office and other buildings at Lynchburg, Va., were destroyed by fire. Eva Hamilton, received the news in prison at Trenton, N. J., of the death of her husband, Robert Ray Hamilton, and she will insist on her legal rights to the estate of the deceased. The Sugar Planters' Association of New Orleans will petition Congress not to put the sugar tariff schedule into effect until next July, so as to permit the present crop to be marketed without decline. The three-masted American ship Challenger, from Hartlepool for New York, was sighted by the steamer Normandie in a bad condition. Twelve sailors had been washed overboard, and four others had broken legs and arms from being thrown about by the terrible seas. Miss John Hallahan, aged eighteen years, was killed, and Miss Winnie Carmon and Charles Woods seriously injured by being struck by a train on the Reading Railroad, near Locust Gap, Pa.

POLYGAMY STILL RULES

The Utah Commission Reports the Need of More Stringent Laws.

Men Guilty of Having Plural Wives Advanced to Posts of Honor—Apostles Who Are Polygamists. The Utah Commission has forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior a report of its operations and proceedings for the year ending September 1, 1890. After reviewing the elections held in Utah since their last report, the Commission says: During the year there has been frequent expression of the hope that the church would, in some authoritative and explicit manner, declare in favor of the abandonment of polygamy, or plural marriage, as one of the saving doctrines or teachings of the church, but no such declaration has been made. There is little reason for doubting so complete is the control of the church over its people, that if such a declaration were made by those in authority, it would be accepted and followed by a large majority of the membership of the so-called Mormon Church, and a settlement of the much discussed "Mormon question" would soon be reached. On the contrary, in all the teaching in the Tabernacle and the church organs, every effort of the Government to suppress this crime is still denominated as a persecution and those charged with arresting and prosecuting the guilty are denominated as persecutors of the Saints. The church seems to grow more united from day to day under these teachings. At the General Conference of the church held at Salt Lake City in April last, Wilford Woodruff, President of the church, was chosen Proprietor, Seer and Revelator and President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saint in all the world, the first time since the death of John Taylor in 1887 that that office has been filled. At the same time George Q. Cannon was chosen as "First Counsellor of the First Presidency," and Lorenzo Snow as "President of the Twelve Apostles," all of them being disfranchised polygamists. The Council of the Twelve Apostles was completed by filling all vacancies. A large portion of the twelve apostles and the high dignitaries of the church are polygamists, and all are reputed to be open believers in the doctrine, and it is believed that no one ever is promoted to office in the church unless he professes a belief in it as a fundamental doctrine. It is the opinion of the Commission that nothing but a wholesome fear of the penalties of the law leads them to even make pretence of belief, and that there has never been any change in the gospel ordinances. The Commission is in receipt of reports from its registration officers which enumerate forty male persons, who, it is believed, have entered into the polygamous relation in their several precincts since the June revision in 1889. From these reports it is believed that each would give eighty-two persons thus reported as entering into the relation forbidden by law, and said to be forbidden by the church authorities. The belief is also expressed that only a small proportion of polygamous marriages are reported, as many of the registrars are members of the Mormon Church. The Commission recommends that the powers of the Commission be so enlarged as to authorize and enable it to issue instructions, which shall be binding upon the registrars of its appointment in the performance of their legal duties. The report also recommends the enactment of a law similar to the Idaho test oath law, "Believing that it would do more to put an end to the teaching and practice of polygamy than has been accomplished by the partial enforcement of existing laws." In conclusion the commission reports what it has in its last report—that in this matter the Government and Congress should take no backward or even wavering step, but should continue the active and vigorous enforcement of the laws and the improvement by the amendment of such as would make them more effective, and by enacting such other laws as experience may show to be wise and more efficacious to accomplish the desired end.

100 NEGROES POISONED.

Serious Termination of a Revival Meeting in Alabama. One hundred negroes were poisoned near Collirine, Dallas county, Ala. Eight of them have died. The latest news from the neighborhood is to the effect that many are dangerously ill, and their death is hourly expected. A big revival meeting has been going on a week at a negro church near the little town of Collirine, which is in a remote section of Dallas county, some twenty miles from Selma. The meeting was to close last Sunday, and it was decided to give a grand dinner to all who attended. There was plenty of food. One course of the dinner consisted of barbecued pork, a liberal supply of which was provided. There were not enough tables and dishes to feed the entire crowd at once, or the fatalities would have been much greater. Soon after those who ate at the first table finished, they complained of feeling sick, and in a few moments several of them were suffering severely. They decided that it was the pork that made them sick, and no more pork was eaten. All the physicians in the neighborhood were summoned, and at once pronounced the sickness the result of poison. The barbecued pork was examined, and the physicians found traces of arsenic in it. Everything possible was done by the physicians, but two children died in a short time. Next day six grown persons—four women and two men died in agony. No less than twenty others were in a critical condition and expected to die at last accounts. An investigation is being made by the coroner. The negroes in the neighborhood are much alarmed, believing there is an enemy in their midst who is determined to destroy them.

AN EMBEZZLER ROBBED.

A Fast Philadelphia Youth Fleeced in Chicago. A strange story came to light in Justice Prindville's court. A Philadelphia embezzler appeared against Eva Lowry. The woman was charged with larceny, in stealing $2,000 from George C. Yungler. Yungler is a self-confessed embezzler to the amount of $3,000, and a Philadelphia detective stood behind him while he told the court his story. Until August 27 he was head bookkeeper and confidential clerk of O. G. Hempsted & Co., custom brokers in Philadelphia. That afternoon he walked into Mr. Hempsted's office, and asked him to sign a check for $50, to be used in the business. The broker thoughtlessly put his name to the paper, and the clerk disappeared. The check proved to be a blank one—left so purposely—and the ingenious embezzler had business advice at once filled it out for $3,000. The firm's bankers readily cashed the check, and with $3,000 in his pockets, Yungler started on a tour of dissipation, which ended in his robbery by a courtier. His complaint to the police led to the revelation of the above facts. Yungler will be sent back to Philadelphia.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

Senate Sessions. 20TH DAY.—As soon as the journal of yesterday was read, Mr. Quay offered the usual resolutions of sorrow and condolence in regard to the death of Mr. Samuel J. Randall, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate at 2 P. M. adjourned. 20TH DAY.—In the Senate a proposition was made by Mr. Tye to take up the bridge bills, which occasioned the calendar and passed, and proceeded to address the Senate. Further eloquent and tributes to the high character of Mr. Randall and his honorable career in public and private life were paid by Senators Barbour, Plumb, Daniels, Blackburn, Cullom, Morgan, Gibson and Hisecock, and then, as a further mark of respect,