FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1894.

THE Williams-Settle election case from North Carolina, has been side-tracked until the next session of Congress.

THE Tariff bill rests heavy in the hands of its manipulators. Coal, iron and sugar are the main features to be regulated. What or how it will be settled is a question.

It is observable that the people are this year scrutinizing rather more closely than usual the character of aspirants for office. Men having a weak spot in their armor who happen to obtain a nomination will probably find that they had better not have subjected themselves to the ordeal. Popular men of good character will be the favorites.—News-Observer-Chronicle.

WE believe the nomination of Wm. M. Bond for Solicitor in this District was the best thing the Democrats could have done, for in the coming campaign the party need fearless men as Mr. Bond to meet the enemy on the stump. In this time of political dissatisfaction it takes men of nerve to face the fight, and we believe Bond to be a man with nerve, pluck and energy. He will enter to win or a fight to the finish.

At the close of the Judicial Convention which was held in this town on the 2nd inst., Mr. John H. Small offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention has learned with deep concern of the continued illness of Hon. J. H. Blount, the present Solicitor of this District. That after twelve years of faithful service, we cheerfully bear testimony to his ability as a lawyer, his integrity and zeal as a public official, and his loyalty and magnetism in the social relations of life. That we wish for him a speedy recovery and restoration to his family and friends. That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Blount.

THE NEGRO IN THE NORTH.

Atlanta Constitution. Governor Hogg, of Texas, genial, observant and good humored, has been traveling around a little in the North. He has seen several things that attracted his attention, and noted the absence of others that aroused his astonishment.

In New York the other day he innocently asked a Sun reporter why it is that there are no negroes sitting as members of the constitutional convention. The reporter scratched his head and asked for the time to file an answer. Whereupon the genial governor of Texas lifted his eyebrows and made this remark:

"Why is it that there are no negroes in your Legislature, and I understand there are none in the Legislature of Massachusetts. Yet from the New England country come all the complaints that the negro is not having a fair show. If he is a good man to make the laws in the Southern States why isn't he a good man to send to the Legislature of Northern States for the same purpose?"

It is very funny about the North and the negro. When he is out of sight—away down South, for instance—he is an object of great sympathy and veneration, but when he is on hand—personally in evidence, as it were—he is something less than a cipher. Politically he holds the balance of power between the two parties in several of the Northern States, but he is not allowed to hold any political office. He has demonstrated that he is a good artisan and a pretty fair workman—he is not permitted to come in competition with white men at the North.

Only in one particular does he receive the same treatment in both sections. When makes a hearty assent to a white woman at the North he is lynched with as much certainty and celerity as he is at the South.

But in all other matters the treatment the negro receives in the two sections is entirely different. In the South all trades, callings and professions are open to him, and he is frequently elected to office and installed therein. No wonder Governor Hogg was astonished.

ROPER RIPPLES.

August 7th.
Mrs. Lou Walker who has been quite sick is convalescent.
The colored Baptists are holding a series of meetings this week.
Mr. E. L. Herrington's family who have been so sick, are said to be improving.
There will be a revival commenced at the Methodist church here in the near future.
It is rumored that the old pine mill will shut down in a few days, until September the 1st.
Mrs. Dr. Hallsey who has been away on a visit to Bath is expected home tomorrow and the Dr. is all smiles.
Mr. J. L. Savage received intelligence last week that his mother, who lives at Whaleyville, Va., is quite sick.
The Rev. Mr. Merritt is expected back this week and will fill his appointment here next Sunday morning and night.
Miss Mary Woodley is expected to leave for E. City this week to visit her brothers, who are prosperous business men of that town.
Mr. A. G. Walker and family, of Creswell, stopped over at Roper Hotel last week in going and returning to and from Bell Port.
We learn that the school at the Roper Academy will be conducted this Fall by the Misses Savage to commence the 1st of September.
Squire Henry Downing, who has been ill for some time, died yesterday morning. His remains will be interred in the family burying ground.
The Roper Lumber Company locomotive engine no. 9 from Gilmerton Va., is at the Roper Machine Shops here for repairs under the supervision of Master Mechanic Cherry.
Mr. L. K. Moore, formerly of Roper, but now an attache of the N. & S. R. R. at Norfolk, passed through our town last week with his wife on their way to Bell Port, and return.
We wonder what has become of the early train promised by the N. & S. R. R., to make the trip from Roper to Norfolk and return same day. It was said the schedule would take effect the 1st of August.
Mrs. T. W. Blount and party, who have been spending some time at Bell Port, returned yesterday morning, much delighted with their stay, and think Mr. Tuly, the proprietor of the hotel, the right man in the right place.
Mr. J. W. Gaylord has the prettiest colt in the county, and I expect might say State. He is training him to perform many funny tricks. Mr. Gaylord, though they call him the "old widower," expects to capture some young lady and call her his own just as soon as the colt is large enough to drive.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures a Perfect Cure.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is an excellent medicine. I had eczema in my left leg for fifteen years. Part of the time my leg was one mass of scabs, and about every week corruption would gather under the skin and the scabs would slough off."

The Itching and Burning sensation made me suffer indescribable agonies. I spent a great deal of money for different remedies but did not get relief. About a year ago, leading physicians advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so and have taken five bot-
