The Evening Messenger is a new daily paper published in Washington, N. C., by L. B. Cox & Co. We do not see why a live town like Washington should not have a daily, and we hope our young friends will be able to make the Messenger a success.

The young gentlemen of the town gave a most delightful entertainment last night at the home of Mr. C. F. Lowe. There were about fifteen couples present and all seemed highly pleased. We wish we had time and space to give a creditable report.

We would have published the specifications for the bridge at Peacock swamp if they had been furnished us, but they were not, hence those wishing to make bids must call on the Register of Deeds for the specifications. The contract will be let next Monday to the lowest bidder.

It is with much regret that we chronicle the sudden death of Rev. T. B. Haughton, which occurred at his home in Williamston Wednesday night. Mr. Haughton was in our town on Wednesday afternoon as well as usual and the announcement of his death was a shock to his numerous friends here.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the thanks of Mr. Jno. D. Ambrose to the people of this town and county for the aid given him recently in building a new home in place of the one destroyed by fire. Mr. Ambrose seems very thankful to all his friends for the manner in which they have treated him.

If you want to "get on" the financial situation just tackle some fellow with the gable end of his pants out, who spends his time in sitting on the fence corners and attending cock hunts. He can tell you just how the government's finances should be managed, but he cannot man up to keep his wife out of the field, his children at school or meal in the barrel—Cherokee Scout.

The hard times brought the Democratic party into power; the same cause lately restored the Republican party. The same agency may defeat the Republicans two years hence. The people are striking in the dark; they know something is wrong. We hold that Democratic principles offer the only reasonable solution of the problem, and if the party will strike for genuine reform there is no reason to fear the consequences.—Webster's Weekly.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having in grippe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles. For sale by Plymouth Drug Co. 1m

The lowest prices yet known are now offered by H. Peal on buggies, wagons, road carts, farm carts, carts, wheels and all road vehicles. A full line of vehicles suitable for the trade kept on hand and orders can be filled at short notice.

THANKS RETURNED.

I take this method of returning my heartfelt thanks to the generous public for the aid so freely given me in my recent misfortune.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." This truth was never more fully illustrated than it has been in my case. A few months ago it was my misfortune to lose by fire my home and all its contents. Being very poor I did not know where to go or what to do for shelter for myself and family, but, thanks to him who cares for all, a way was provided. My neighbors and friends came to my aid and a temporary place of abode was given and on the site where stood my old home now stands a new one, placed there by friends. It is impossible for me to adequately express my heartfelt gratitude.

Yours gratefully, JNO. D. AMBROSE.
