THE Kinston Free Press has sussmall to sustain it.

HON. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN when asked for a sentiment appropriate to the 4th of July, shouted a whole volume in a very few words:

"The political wrongs which today oppress the multitude grow out of man's disregard for his brother. Christianity and democracy unite in declaring that no citizen has a natural right to injure another citizen, sinking. and that a good government will neither enable nor permit him to do go. This fundamental maxim can with great propriety be emphasized on the Fourth of July."

He also reports the landing of cisms have been made, and our the first expidition of soldiers on the Phil-American soldiers and sailors have ippine Island, proven equal and superior to the Spaniards. Dewey's victory gave us. hope, Shafter's charge on the enemy expected. at Santiago, and Sampson's wonderful victory gives us confidence.

There seems to be but one barrier in the way of the American army and navy, and that is the officials at Washington. Give Dewey, Shafter, Sampson and Lee the power to conduct the war, and war will soon end.

IT is not our purpose to abuse the citizens of Plymouth, yet a little abuse is needed, for on the question of education they are too slow, too selfish and too stingy.

When we think that a town like Plymouth, instead of having the best high school in Eastern Carolina, has comparatively no school, it caures us to blush with shame, as it should every citizen who has any pride in his town and in the rising generation.

Why is it that Plymouth has no school? It is not the fault of the town, but of the people. More than once an effort has been made to form a stock company to build an Academy, hire teachers and establish a good school, but sad to say every effort has been defeated by one cause or another until those who would be glad to have a good school here have given up almost every hope,

Once more the BEACON appeals to the citizens of Plymouth, in the name of the town, in the name of justice to our little ones, to build an Academy and establish a school that will give the children of this town at least an equal showing with the children of other towns.

WAR SITUATION.

LAND FORCES GALLANT FIGHT.

On Friday July 1st the land forces in Cuba under Gen. Shafter, charged on the Spaniards near Santiago, driving them from their breastworks back into the city. The fighting was resumed on Saturday, which was the fiercest yet, and resulted in the heaviest loss to both sides, the Americans losing in killed and wounded about 1,000 men. The American forces were under fire, not only of the land batteries and troops, but also of the fleet which lay in the harbor. But with all this the fearless Americans forced their way into the enemy's breastworks within half a mile of the city where they stopped. Here it was that Gen. Shafter demanded the surrender of Santiago, which at the time was refused, whereupon Gen. Shafter notified the commanding General of the Spanish forces that if they did not surrender by 10 o'clock Monday morning he would bombard the city, and he asked that the citizens of foreign countries and all women and children be notified to leave the city by that hour.

A NAVAL BATTLE.

The Spanish fleet under command of Admiral Cervera, which had been bottled up in Santiago harbor for six weeks by Sampson's fleet, made a dash for liberty Sunday morning. The fleet came out of the harbor with the determination to escape bowel regulator for everybody the year or die in the attempt, but the American round. The trap, or to escape after they were out, and Free Press was one of the best papers their appearance on the open sea was the of the State, but the town was too beginning of a naval battle that should test the navies of the two countries, and in less than two hours every ship in the Spanish fleet was either on the bottom or upon the shore. It was completely annihilated. Admiral Cervera together with 1,300 of his men were taken prisoners, while hundreds were killed or drowned on the fleet, yet the Americans lost but one man, and not a single ship was distroyed or even injured.

The Spanish fleet consisted of seven boats all of which were demolished near the har. bor, except the Cristobal Colon, which was chased 45 miles to the west where she surrendered but had to be beached to prevent
