TO THE PATRONS OF THIS PAPER.

COURT will convene in this town on Monday, November 2nd. It is a little late this year, and as the weather has been very favorable for harvesting crops, most of them are in and marketed.

Our people have not had so much supplies to buy the past year, and as everything the farmer has to sell has been and is yet, selling at unheard of high prices, our farmers should be, notwithstanding the fact that cotton is a little short in some sections, in a prosperous condition and fully able to pay their accounts, and have something to lay up besides.

As we are not a producer, having to live directly from the markets and pay the high prices prevailing, while the price of our work has remained the same, it has been an unusually hard year with us. Now, as we have not been or sent a collector through the country this year, we have more unpaid accounts on our books than ever before. We believe they are all against good, honest men; we would not have sent the paper had we thought otherwise.

You are now in a position to pay these accounts, and we are not able to wait longer on you, neither have we the time to go and see you personally, nor should it be necessary. You know you have been receiving the paper promptly and that unless you have paid for it you are indebted to us for it.

Now, please do not wait for us to dun you, but send it in at once—with the money for another year, if possible. If you cannot get it to us before, send it court week. Either you or some of your neighbors will be coming then, but the mails are perfectly safe.

We thank you for the patronage given us during the past year. The paper is now one of the best established enterprises in the county, but there is great room for improvement, and with a little more help and prompt payments on your part, this could easily be made.

Take the paper yourself, pay for it promptly, induce your neighbors to take it, if in business advertise in

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Spruill & Bro.

it, and you will be surprised to see how soon and how much it would be improved.

Make this office your headquarters court week. You will find hook for your overcoat, a good fire to warm by, a safe and convenient place to leave bundles or meet your friends, and a cordial welcome will greet you. Just come right in and make yourself at home.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children. For sale by Spruill & Bro."

Society may not be an empty thing, but there are lots of empty things in society.

MORPHINE.

Can Morphine and Other Drug Habits Be Cured?

It has been long contended by physicians that there is no cure for the drug habit. This is true so far as the rank and file of the medical profession are concerned. The reason, therefore, is that they are ignorant of the full scope and nature of the disease; but fortunately for the cause of suffering humanity we have demonstrated that the morphine or other drug habits can be cured and guarantee an absolute, permanent and painless cure to those addicted to the use of drugs if they will take our treatment and follow our instructions. Each case submitted to us receives individual attention and treatment from an experienced nerve specialist. We do not detain you from business. We give immediate relief. Appetite for drugs is destroyed and appetite for food is restored. Write to-day for our free booklet and free trial treatment. All correspondence strictly confidential in plain envelopes.
