DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

Diamonds Improved by Radium.

The influence of radio-emanations on the constitution of matter is very curiously illustrated in some recent experiments made by Sir William Crookes. According to the results, if radium comes to be a common commodity among us some dismay may be caused to those who wear diamonds on finding that the carbon crystal under the influence of radium threatens to return to its less attractive form of graphite or crystalline black carbon. On the other hand, radium may turn out to be a "diamond improver."

It is well known that radium emanations possess the property of darkening transparent bodies upon which they impinge; and now Sir William Crookes has shown that this also holds good in the case of diamonds. The emanations not only convert the surface into graphite but alter the color of the body of the stone. It is therefore suggested that this observation may prove to be of commercial importance. For example, "if off color stones can be lightened their value will increase, while if the prolonged action of radium is to communicate to them a decided color they would be worth much more as fancy stones." This may add considerably to the business of the jeweler who, for a consideration, might undertake to submit "off jewels" to burial in radium for a season.—The Lancet.

We Are the Richest.

The United States constitutes the richest nation on the globe. Mulhall furnishes these figures: United States $81,750,000,000, Great Britain $59,030,000,000, France $47,950,000,000, Germany $40,260,000,000, Russia $32,125,000,000, Austria $22,560,000,000, Italy $15,800,000,000, Spain $11,300,000,000. These computations are based upon values as shown by real estate records, buildings, merchandise and railways, as well as the circulating medium in each nation.

THOUGHT SHE WOULD DIE.

Mrs. S. W. Marine, of Colorado Springs, began to Fear the Worst—Doan's Kidney Pills Saved Her.

Mrs. Sarah Marine, of 428 St. Ursula street, Colorado Springs, Col., President of the Glen Eyrie Club, writes:

"I suffered for three years with severe back ache. The doctors told me my kidneys were affected and prescribed medicines for me, but I found that it was only a waste of time and money to take them, and began to fear that I would never get well. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. Within a week after I began using them I was so much better that I decided to keep up the treatment, and when I had used a little over two boxes I was entirely well. I have now enjoyed the best of health for more than four months, and words can but poorly express my gratitude."

There is an anecdote concerning the Archbishop of Canterbury, who is now America's distinguished guest, told by Curtis Brown in Frank Leslie's Monthly: "No one ever called him good-looking. On one occasion, when he was Bishop of Rochester, a zealous, but somewhat maladroit cleric, intending to compliment him, remarked in the course of his speech: 'No one can say that our Bishop is ornamental, for—' But a roar of laughter, in which Dr. Davidson joined, prevented him from finishing the sentence."

HOUSEHOLD AFFAIRS

"CHINESE CHINA."

That the little Chinese cups of delicate shape and beautiful colors make lovely receptacles for pins, trinkets, etc., on one's dressing table has been proved by a young woman who has two of these pretty little trifles in her own room.

NOVEL LUNCH CLOTHS.

Decidedly novel lunch cloths are being introduced. They are of heavy linen, half bleached in some cases, and have borders of gay color—crimson, green and blue. Strips of solid color, like ribbon, an inch wide, make a very striking and unusual effect.

VEAL CECILS.

Chop fine sufficient cold veal to measure one pint; put in a frying pan; add one teaspoonful of bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of salt, one pinch of white pepper, one teaspoonful of onion juice, a small piece of mace and the yolks of two raw eggs; stir until the mixture is heated through, then stand aside to cool, form into balls, dip into beaten egg and roll in bread crumbs; fry in hot fat; serve with tomato or any brown sauce; cecils may be made from mutton, beef or any cold roasted or boiled meat.

NEW IRONING BOARD.

A woman has invented and had patented an ironing table that possesses some new features.

The thing is made in two sections, one of them being a portable standard and the other the table proper, with a sleeve to fit down over the standard and hold it in place when the process of ironing is to be undertaken. It is easy to handle for the reason that the two parts can be moved separately, and a special feature is the fact that the height of the table may be adjusted to suit the requirements of the ironer.

HELPFUL HINTS.

It is not too late yet, if the housewife has not changed conditions of living to suit the weather, to make some changes in the furnishings. Mattings at this time of the summer are reduced in price, so bedroom floors should have fresh mattings laid down to make them cooler, says the Ladies' World.

A length of fine weave matting laid under the sheets will make the bed cooler and less enervating for the sleeper thereon, whether child or adult. Baby sleeps well on matting of the finest weave, the matting to be carried up over a little flat bolster of curled hair.

BRAISED CALF'S LIVER.

Scald and remove the skin from a calf's liver with wooden tooth picks and fasten thin slices of salt pork over the rounded sides. Fry one slice of onion in salt pork fat and put it with the liver, in a deep granite pan covered with boiling water. Add one teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper, five whole cloves and one teaspoonful of marjoram. Put the pan in a moderate oven, cover closely and cook slowly about three hours. When tender lift the liver to a hot platter and put the liquor over the fire. Skim off the fat and add to the liquor a little flour mixed with cold water. Stir until boiling, season with pepper and salt and the juice of half a lemon, boil up again and strain over the liver.

CANNED PINEAPPLE.

Select for this purpose the sugar-leaf pineapple, which is longer than the strawberry and remains green even when nearly ripe. It is a pure white fruit with a shallow eye that can be easily peeled off. To test its ripeness pull one of the little spines sharply. If it comes out easily the fruit is in good condition for preserving. It is best to put up pineapples in moderately heavy syrup. A good proportion is three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of the fruit, measured after it has been peeled and cut into little cubes or torn into shreds with a fork. The choice Singapore pines that come canned in heavy syrup are cut in slices about a quarter of an inch thick, with the core cut out in circle shape, but this is not easily done in the ordinary canning. As fast as the fruit is prepared put into a large stone jar, layer by layer, with three-quarters of its weight in sugar between each layer. When all the pineapples are prepared put a cover on the jar and let it stand in the cellar or any cool place until the next morning. By that time the juice will have completely dissolved the sugar and a clear syrup will cover the fruit. Put the fruit and syrup in the preserving kettle, bring slowly to the boiling point, skim and cook slowly until tender, but not "mussy," then can at once. The time required in the cooking may vary from five to thirty minutes, according to the ripeness of the fruit.

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was fitful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—Mrs. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks Produce Displacements.

Apparently trifling incidents in woman's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during menstruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started. The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Mrs. Lelah Stowell, 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—You are indeed a godsend to women, and if they all knew what you could do for them, there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony."

"I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, womb trouble, nervousness, and excruciating headache, but a few bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy, and I do not know what sickness is, and I now enjoy the best of health."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can always be relied upon to restore health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for the worst forms of female complaints,—that bearing-down feeling, weak back, falling and displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, and all troubles of the uterus or womb. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in the early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. It subdues excitability, nervous prostration, and tones up the entire female system. Its record of cures is the greatest in the world, and should be relied upon with confidence.
