before nor since the war has the First District had a more faithful or efficient Representative in Congress. Then why seek to remove it? Is it because of his vote in favor of an appropriation for fast mail service between Washington and New Orleans? In view of the fact that Democratic platforms, both State and National, have condemned Subsidies and trusts of all kinds, this vote, viewed frem a partisan standpoint, strictly construed, might seem irregular and undemocratic. But the question of fast mails for the extreme South was more of a sectional than a partizan matter, and as a Southern patriot and States an, Mr. Small cast his vote for the best interests of the South as he saw it. The South gets none too much of the monies appropriated by Congress, and when an effort is made by anybody or any party to benefit any part of the South by any appropriation, he is a narrow-minded Southern Statesman who would allow any sickly political sentiment to make him oppose it. We agree with Mr. Small in this matter of appropriation for fast mail service for the extreme South, and believe that the people of the First District who are Southern to the core, broad-minded, and patriotic will give him their endorsement by practically a unanimous vote for re-nomination. A New Combustible.

A company has been formed at Bern, Switzerland, for manufacturing a new kind of combustible from peat. The peat is dried under the influence of the electric current and then further treated so that under the action of electric osmose a new compound, known as osmon, is formed. The most recent tests of the new combustible bring out the fact that it burns as well as coal and without giving any odor or smoke. The ash is very small. As it does not contain any trace of sulphur, it does not
