A NEW DAY FOR NORTH CAROLINA,

We have had important elections in North Carolina to settle vital questions, but the most important in the life of this generation settled the matter of suffrage and made ident of the Adams County Telephone North Carolina a prohibition State. When the future historian comes to King's New Discovery: "It saved my life write the history of North Carolina he will show that the passage of the cough,—when everything else failed."

by King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough such as the cough such as the sore such for the educational revival and the and the weak spots in throat, lungs and spread of temperance which did chest. Soid under guarantee at Spruill & Bros. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle free, more for the progress and uplift of the people than anything in the entire history of the State. If the suffrage amendment had been defeated the mighty impetus to'ednontion that has distinguished this decade would have been wanting, and the driving out of the saloons and stills would have been left for Carolina on a higher plane and the given the high privilege of bequeathfrom the curse of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

The sweeping victory yesterday is all that could have been desired, Of course every temperance man would have been glad to have seen his county give a majority for State Prohibition but that was too much people of Washington county that I will to have expected, and so every tem. be a candidate for the office of Sheriff, perance man has the right to feel subject to the action of the Democratic that the victory is full, complete, ample. The majority is so large as ago I asked for this nomination and was to make the victory decisive.

The experience of those counties and since for the Democratic candidases in North Carolina that for a long term of years has given prohibition

THE Prohibition campaign East and Yancey in the West, were so large as to show the entire satisfaction of the people with the worklad with very nearly as full a ing of probibition. What these counties have found in their experience the whole State will find a its larger experience after a fair trial of for of a sober citizenship. This the new law that goes into effect on Journal he keeps in his office a large the first day of January.

The campaigh has been e'uca-It has been waged on a high plane, with no appeal except to the conscience and the reason of the people, with no reference to politics and parties, and time will show all the good men who yesterday voed prove a lasting blessing to North to accumulate a collection of these Caroling. The men who have led telltale pins, a lightning arrester Gats and his associates down to the smallest child who has marched in a procession, deserve the lasting thanks a period of years it has been determonwealth. - N & O. 1881. THEN and NOW 1908.

In snming up the vote in this old State on the liquor question we find quite-a comparison, we compare the vote of 1881 with that of 1998, just twenty-seven years. How the people have changed in that period.

In 1881 North Carolina registered Against Prohibition

For Prohibition Majority against

In 1908 the State east a very large vote, but at this writing it is impossible to give the correct vote, but it is safe to say that the Prohibition majority is fully 40,000.

In 1881 Washington county cast ier part of the above vote as follows;

Against Prohibition 1,467 For Prohib tion 134, Majority against 1,335

In 1908 Washington county regisered the following vote; For Prohibition 445. 387.

H. H. Adams, a Baltimore street railway man, has a clever method of finding out where linghtning is likely to strike one of his cars.

According to the Street Railway scale map of the system, and whenhas been damaged by lightning, he tional and will have lasting results sticks a pin in the map at the point where the car was at the time.

It is astonishing how quickly a record of this kind will show up the locations that seem to be especially susceptible to lightning discharges. In the course of the senson a few points will have a miniature forest of pins grouped around them, while long stretches of track will show no

Economy in Uritish Army. A certain regiment, quartered at a considerable distance from the heart trouble when the fact is that the point from which its stores are sent to it, is obliged, according to its equipment list, to have forty-eight fusees, presumably for the ignition of fuses connected with explosives. It was found upon an occasion not long ago that the regiment was short of these fusees and this was duly reperied to the proper authority. Accordingly two boxes of fusees were despatched, and as they are looked upon as explosives they had, according to regulation, to be packed in a large copper receptacle of considerable weight and forwarded specially to the headquarters of the regiment, where they were duly unpacked, taken in charge, entered on the list as having been received, and the empty unnister or box returned to the stores headquarters. The size and weight of the canister are such that it is ustimated the cost of its journey to and fro may be anywhere between five and ten shillings; the two boxes of fusees, on the other hand, might have been purchased locally at a penny each .- Saturday Review.
