Died in Texas.

A letter from Capt, Chas. Schuster Sept. 26th, announces the death of his wife, Sarah Morris Schuster, at 12:20 a. m., on that day. Mrs. Schuster, nee Sarah Morris, grew to womanhood in this town, then the leading druggist of the town. With the young people she C. J. Hofler vs. Cape Fear L. Co. was ever the life and center of attraction. In Sunday School and all church work she was always a willing worker, being a member of Grace | Pritchard & Swain vs. Davenport, Episcopal church. A friend, kind, affectionate and true, she made herself a favorite with old and young. C. W. Griffin vs. G. W. Biggs. Those who are left to remember her will breathe a sigh of pain as they read this notice of her death in far off Texas.

There in a strange land, yet surrounded by her devoted husband and children, and we dare say, many new made friends, her beautiful Christian life ended and hor spirit was wafted home to its God, and her remains were laid to rest in the rite of that church she loved.

Our heartfelt sympathies go out to the bereaved family in their distant home.

Adlers Opening Days.

Tuesday and Wednesday last were Opening Days at the store of Adler

To say that this occasion was a success but madequately expresses it, and that advertising pays, and pays well was fully demonstrated in dollars and cents.

Their display of Clothing, Millinery, Fine Dress Goods, Shoes and Ladies and Gents Furnishings was never surpassed in this town, and their reputation for carrying a line of goods superior to that carried by country merchants, in this section, has already extended throughout this and adjoining counties, as was demonstrated by the crowds from elsewhere, who came many miles to patronize this store. They came because they know they will get what they want, and at prices more reasonable than they would have to pay for goods of like quality else where, Patronize Adler Bros.
