

TO LIVE FOREVER.

Thomas Edison has perfected a storage battery which he says will last indefinitely and revolutionize the present propelling power.

Prof. Munyon says it is only a question of time until a remedy is discovered that will supply the waste of the human body, so that one may live on almost indefinitely, barring accidents. This seems almost too good to be true, but nothing seems to be impossible in these days when we consider the flying machine and the wireless telegraph.

Prof. Munyon has certainly revolutionized the practice of medicine. He does not believe in building hospitals for consumptives. He says that consumption can always be traced to a cold. Cure a cold and you prevent consumption. His Cold and Cough Remedy will break up almost any form of a cold in a few hours and positively prevent Bronchitis and Pneumonia. To convince the medical world and people in general of the truth of his claims he has distributed millions of vials of the Cold Cure, absolutely free, from the leading newspaper offices throughout the country, and the cures that have been reported from its use have been most astonishing. These little sugar pellets contain no opium, morphine, cocaine or any harmful drug. They seem to relieve the head, throat and lungs almost immediately.

In order that no one may be deprived of this remedy he has placed it with all the druggists throughout the United States for the small sum of 25 cents, or sent postpaid on receipt of price, and with each bottle he gives this guarantee: "If Munyon's Cold and Cough Cure does not do all that is claimed for it, I will refund your money."

There are four advantages in taking Munyon's Remedies. First, they are absolutely harmless. Second, they are pleasant to take. Third, they relieve almost immediately. Fourth, they cost nothing unless they give satisfaction.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

Another Operation Avoided. Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."

Mrs. ALYXIA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

GARDEN, FARM and CROPS

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE UP-TO-DATE AGRICULTURIST

Seed For Hens.

Provide a little in which seed may be scattered so that the hens will come from the roosts early in the morning and scratch for their breakfast. Before going to roost at night, they may be fed a good ration and they will digest all their crops can hold before morning.—Farmers' Home Journal.

Need of Phosphates.

Phosphoric acid is an essential constituent of productive soil. Work at agricultural experiment stations in Wisconsin, Ohio, and Illinois has shown that in fifty-four years the cultivated soils of those states have been depleted of one-third of their original content of phosphoric acid, or at an annual rate of about 20 pounds per acre. Even if the loss has been only one-half this amount it would require 6,000,000 tons of phosphate rock annually to offset this depletion in the 400,000,000 acres of cultivated lands in the United States, but allowance for increase in the soil cultivated or in the agricultural yield.

There were 2,265,000 tons of phosphate rock produced in the United States in 1907, and of this amount 900,000 tons, or about 40 percent, was exported.—Indiana Farmer.

Late Hatched Chicks.

Birds that are to be exhibited the following winter should be gotten out in April and May that they may have ample time to mature but otherwise I have found that chicks hatched at almost any season of the year will not come in amiss, if you have the facilities for taking care of them. I have also found from experience that late hatched chicks are less expensive than the very early ones; the weather is warm enough to allow them to run out considerably more, and the chick will pick up a much larger percent of its food than those hatched much earlier. Not only this, but where brooders are used, it is not necessary to run the brooder in the day time, after June 15, saving about half of the oil expense, and this alone is quite an item where a large number are in operation. I have yards made especially for summer chicks. These yards are full of very large plum trees, making an almost complete shade, that protects the little "balls of down" from the burning rays of a summer sun. Shade is very essential to the little fellows until they are about three weeks old. Before this time they are too tender to stand the sun in July or August, and if exposed to it, a number of them will succumb to its burning heat.—Successful Poultry Journal.

Cow Testing Plans.

Wisconsin seems to have originated cow-testing plans that should accommodate every class of dairymen who desire special services of such organization. Here are the several plans: The "one dollar a cow plan" and the "fifty cents a cow plan." In the former the Dairymen's association furnishes a man to do the work of weighing and testing the milk of the individual cows in the herd at an expense of one dollar a cow for the year. There are generally 26 members in each association, so that tests can be made once a month on each farm.

Under the second plan the farmers themselves weigh and sample the milk from their cows for one day each month and bring the samples to their creamery or cheese factory where they are tested by the operator at an expense of 50 cents a year per cow. The associations in Wisconsin at present are generally organized on the fifty cent plan, and are all under the supervision of the State Dairymen's Association.

These associations originated in Sweden about eighteen years ago and Scandinavian and North European countries. Denmark alone now has 430 associations and the net profits of Danish dairy farmers have been increased over 75 percent and in some cases more than 100 percent.

In the European countries the associations are organized by the farmers, who hire a young man to visit their herds one day each month and weigh, sample, and test the milk of each cow for butter fat. The feed of each cow is also weighed and an accurate account is kept of the production and feed consumption.

The European testing associations are aided by a small government grant for each cow, but are otherwise private co-operative enterprises managed by the farmers themselves. Michigan was a pioneer in taking up this work in America, and at the present time such associations are in operation in most states where dairying is an important industry, and also in Canada.

The College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin has charge of the official tests of pure-bred cows in the state which have been conducted for brothers of live stock since 1893. Six or eight men are steadily employed in this work. The work for the year 1907-08 is fully described in a recent bulletin, No. 172, of the Agricultural Experiment station, University of Wisconsin.

Buttercups.—A New Breed.

In the Rhode Island Reds it was thought the maximum yield of eggs was to be found. The "Rocks" were outbraked by the "Hamburgs" and in turn the "Hamburgs" had to give way to the "Reds."

Our experience with the "Reds" has been a very satisfactory one in every respect. But now comes a rival to the "Reds" that bid fair to bear away their well earned laurels. These newcomers are known by the name of Buttercups given them from the very peculiar comb that adorns their heads. This comb differs from that of others very much. It is an appendage on the top of the head resembling a cup or saucer the edges of which are marked like the buttercup flower, hence the name.

A sea captain, while loading his vessel with oranges and lemons in Sicily, procured a lot of poultry for use on the vessel while on voyage home. A number of the hens laid so continuously that he reserved these for landing, with a view of testing them.

Mr. James Dumaresq, learning of this took an interest in the breed and found them very promising. While Mr. Cleveland was president Mr. Dumaresq was consul general to Italy, and having ample opportunities to further investigate the merits of the breed he found them even superior to his home experience. At the expiration of his time he returned and began improving his stock. He imported from Sicily select strains to add to his pens. Unfortunately Mr. Dumaresq died early last spring but his work of improving is now being carried on by enthusiastic hands and we will soon have the new breed in many sections.

A few of their claims of unusual merit are here given: The first and best claim is the great number of eggs produced, as high as 300 eggs per year per hen being not unusual. They are non-sitters and lay practically the entire year under proper treatment.

The eggs are uniformly large and white in color.

They mature very early and begin laying while yet young. A pullet hatched on May 1st, began laying August 15th following, being but 3 1/2 months old.

They acquire their best egg producing qualities at from 2 to 3 years of age.

Mr. Dumaresq made a test of the time the hens would lay and found some instances where laying was continued up to the sixth year.

The plumage of the male resembles that of the "Reds," but the flight feathers and mane and tail are black. The rose comb is superseded by the buttercup comb. They weigh from five to seven pounds. The hens are buff red with spangled facings similar to the Golden Hamburgs. Their weight runs from 4 to 6 pounds. The legs are unlike any other breed in color, being of a willow green cast. The chicks are hardy and vigorous. They are active foragers on range and require but little feed when out. Unlike other Italian breeds they are tame and docile. Bodies are plump and are excellent for broilers but not so good for roasting on account of size. Small bones and golden yellow flesh are characteristics.

Twenty-five Buttercups can be kept on range and fed sufficient to keep fifteen Leghorns. While all these good traits go to show their value yet the one chief claim we repeat is their yield of eggs. We are not a breeder, have nothing to offer but expect in due time to exhibit some of the finest fowls to be found.—H., in the Indiana Farmer.

Notes.

A half broken horse is worse than one not broken at all and is a dangerous animal.

In the cultivation of orchards the best results are derived by keeping the ground up nearly all the time.

Don't neglect the herd boar during the summer. He should have a small pasture and be well fed though not fattened.

Hogs will make the most of skim milk and every dairyman appreciates their aid in the profitable use of this by-product.

It is cheaper to keep the herd up all the time than to neglect it for a while and try later to bring it back to condition. The cow won't make up for lost time.

To successfully train and manner a colt we must early gain its confidence and can only do that by kindness. Then patient persistence along definite lines will accomplish the desired result.

When your bedroom is too warm all night for you to get any good sleep, how much do you feel like work next morning? Just so with your horse. Let him sleep in pure, cool air and profit thereby.

Castrating is best done when the pigs are young and while still suckling their dam. Make the incision in the scrotum low enough for proper drainage and apply some antiseptic to keep the wound clean. Keep the pigs out of filthy mud holes at this time, as infection may result.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but brass. Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate examinations and offensively repugnant examinations.

It is a common occurrence nowadays to hear a man remark with disgust: "It is impossible to have good painting done these days; either the paint is not good or there are no good painters." This, however, is not true. There is good paint, and there are good painters. But the question is, bringing them together.

One cannot expect a satisfactory painting job without pure white lead. There is a way to make sure you are getting pure white lead without testing it. See that the keg bears National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark, which is a positive guarantee of purity. However, any one can test white lead. ECZEMA BURNED AND ITCHED.

Spread Over Hand, Arms, Legs and Face.—It Was Something Terrible—Complete Cure by Cuticura.

"About fifteen or eighteen years ago eczema developed on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and to my legs and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was eczema. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further. I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled since. C. Burkhardt, 230 W.
