

A. & M. COLLEGE.

In the development of North Carolina's industries, the North Carolina College of agriculture and Mechanic Arts is taking a fore most part. Its students are giving their lives to improving our farming, our trucking, our dairying and stock raising. They are rapidly making their way into our factories, our electric power-houses, and our shops. They are helping to build our roads, our bridges and our railroad. Indeed, they are just the man needed at this stage in the State's growth. We are glad to note that more young men than ever before are seeking, through this well-equipped institution, a place in our industrial progress. We call attention to the advertisement in this issue.
