Washington, Special.-Wood pulp and paper-making experts in Uncle Sam's employ have begun preparations for what will be probably the most thorough-going investigation ever made by this or any other counry looking toward a solution of the so-called white paper problem.

That congress wanted to get at the bottom of things was shown when it made two appropriations amounting to $44,000 for wood pulp experiments, the agricultural bill giving $14,000 and the sundry civil bill an additional $30,000. This is more than four times as much as has ever been allowed for similar work, and all of the money will be available for use by the de-

BLEACHED FLOUR CASE.

Jury Finds That Flour Was Adulterated and Misbranded-Victory For Government-Peroxide of Nitrogen Used in Bleaching Process-Wail of the Millers.

Kansas City, Mo., Special,-The jury in the bleached flour case handed in a verdict that the flour seized was adulterated and misbranded, 28 charged by the Government.

The verdict was returned in the Federal Court after seven hours' deliberation by the jury which for more than five weeks had listened to testimony for and against the charge of the Government that 625 sacks of flour, bleached and sold by the Lexing Mill and Elevator Company, of Lexington, Neb., and seized while in the possession of the purchaser, a grocer at Casel, Mo., were adulterated and misbranded.

The outcome is a complete victory for the Government, which prosecuted the suit under the Pure Food and Drug act. The Government charged that the four was adulterated in that it was bleached by the Alsop process, which makes use of nitrogen peroxide. Misbranding was charged in that the flour was labeled a fancy patent, whereas it was not made of first grade, hard winter wheat.

Millers say the bleached flour decision will handicap farmers of the Southwest to the extent of $16,000,-000 a year. They say the old differential of 5 cents a bushel in vogue in Chicago and St. Louis markets before bleached flour came in will soon reappear, and that farmers of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska will lose 5 cents a bushel on their present crop, while flour made from hard winter wheat soon will be selling at 25 cents a bushel less than
