Obituary.

God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst Mrs. J. F. Harrison who passed from earth to that celestial Kingdom beyond the skies where none but the pure in heart are admitted at 11:45 o'clock Saturday morning Mrs. Harrison was of a kind and loving nature and was loved by all that knew her. She leaves besides her husband five children and many friends to mourn her exit from this world.

The deceased had been in ill health for several months but seemed to be improving until a few days before her death when she became much worse and gradually grew weaker until the final dissolution.
 The remains were laid to rest in the M. E. Church yard on Sunday evening at 3 o'clock. Rev. M. Y. Self performing the last sad rites in the presence of a large number of friends.
 The BEACON joins in heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved ones. "Blessed are the Pure in Heart for they shall see God"

A Royal Voyage.

Mr. W. C. Ayers having purchased a 16 foot gas-boat, the "Bettie C", at Washington N. C. One of his salesmen, Mr. Henry Gaylord having had some experience in Navigation agreed to go to Washington and bring the boat around through the Lower Sound to Plymouth. He went to Washington, Monday the 12th inst, and there secured an engineer a Mr. Wright and one 1 o'clock that night steamed down the Pamlico enroute for home.

In the Pamlico Sound on Tuesday he struck heavy waters and had to put in harbor from there until Saturday night the gallant little ship battled with sea from time to time, reaching Sandy Point Saturday night. Tuesday she started up the beach and went in North River for the night.
 Mr. Ayers and the friends of Mr. Gaylord here, as well as the friends of Mr. Wright at Washington were alarmed and feared that the little boat had been lost as no tidings were had from them.
 The boat not having been heard from Monday last, having been gone a week, Mr. Ayers secured the Rio Grande and manned by Capt. A. J. Newberry, a skilled Navigator and Mr. Clarendon Willoughby, they set out to search for the missing boat but had only gone as far down the Albemarle as the Railroad Bridge when they met the "Bettie" C. and found friend Gaylord as fat and happy as ever, none the worse for his rough voyage.

The two boats came into port about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and Mr. Gaylord met a happy welcome from all his friends who rejoice with his anxious wife that he had been returned safely.

Drainage Item.

While at Creswell the past week it was our pleasure, upon invitation from Mr. A. G. Walker, to visit the drainage work now being done by him for the benefit of his "Weston" farm property on Lake Phelps, and to view the work already done through the efforts of such men as Dr. W. H. Hardison, Alfred Alexander, W. T. Phelps, J. J. S. W. and G. F. Woodley and others upon the upper Scuppernon River.
 No pen can adequately describe the improvement this work has already accomplished; the premises must be viewed "before and after" to realize the immensity of the benefit so far derived, or to even dream of what the future development of this section will eventually mean when the drainage project is carried to final completion.

To say nothing of what the work has done for the farms along the river, the writer passed over the river swamp, on the public road, just above the town of Cherry a short while before the work was done. Then he had to get upon the buggy seat to keep dry and the punchon road was so full of holes that he expected every minute to be wrecked or for the horse to fall. To day the road-bed is dry, hard and smooth, and the run, instead of being an unsightly branch is today a navigable stream, oyster boats and like craft easily coming up to Cherry. And if the government could be induced to straighten out a few sharp crooks below this point boats of 50 tons or more could reach here and would place one of the best and most prosperous sections of the county within easy touch with the markets.

But to go back to Mr. Walker's personal work. We went up a canal cut at right angles from the river toward the North-eastern point of his farm. This canal is now about one and a quarter miles long, is cut 30 feet wide and 8 feet deep, and will be continued about one mile further. We went upon the dredge and gazed in astonishment at what lay before it. Behind lay a stream 30 feet wide and 8 feet deep; ahead lay a dense gum swamp, with trees up to 12 inches or more in diameter. To the uninitiated it looked impossible for this little machine to plough its way through such obstructions, but look to the rear and see the placid stream, with banks of stumps, logs, debris and earth on either side and the proof of its power lay before you.

Mr. Walker informs us that this work is being done at a cost not to exceed $2,000 a mile. There is a lesson in this to those interested in drainage, and we would advise such to visit this work, for they might learn much from Mr. Walker's experience.

'Tis a pity this work was not begun earlier, but we live and labor for those who are to follow, and we have full confidence in the assertion that within a few years this county will be one of the most wealthy and progressive counties in the state.

We heartily exclaim, Hurrah! for "Gus" Walker, and for all those who are lending helping hands in the development of our farm lands, for in these lie the future greatness of Eastern North Carolina.
