

ACCIDENT DUE TO A CUSPIDOR

Mother of Young Baby Stumbles And Falls. Serious Complications Set In.

Duffield, Va.—In advices from this place, Mrs. J. L. Johnson says: "When my baby was about a month old, I stumbled and fell over a cuspidor, and contracted such pains in my back, I could not stoop over without falling to the floor.

I got terribly weak, and was very uneasy about myself.

My case was certainly a serious one. I was so delicate that most people thought I was going to have consumption, and I thought so myself.

Finally my husband advised me to try Cardul, the woman's tonic. I tried it, and am confident that it saved my life.

The pains in my side and back have disappeared, and all of my friends here say that I am looking better than I have done for a long time.

I recommend Cardul to all of my lady friends, as I believe it will help them, just as it did me, if they will only give it a trial.

You may use this letter in any way you wish. I feel so grateful, for if it had not been for Cardul, the woman's tonic, I believe I would by this time have been in my grave."

Try Cardul for your troubles. It will help you, as it did Mrs. Johnson.

City Built on Secure Foundation.

Naples is built chiefly of a soft volcanic rock called tufa, which is easy to work and yet shows remarkable resistance to compression under the weight of buildings. Nails can be driven into it without difficulty but it stands the strain of use in high walls as well as much harder materials.

A Confession.

Startled by convincing evidence that they were the victims of serious kidney and bladder trouble, numbers of prominent people confess they have found relief by using KURIN Kidney and Bladder Pills. For sale by all medical dealers at 25c. Burwell & Dunn Co., Mrs., Charlotte, N. C. Adv.

ARCTIC SKEPTICISM.

"Did you see the janitor?"
"Yes, I told him it was as cold in our flat as at the north pole."
"What did he say?"
"He merely looked supercilious and asked for my proofs."

Bright Brass.

A great time and labor saver, in keeping brass, copper and other metals bright and shining, either indoors or outdoors, in any kind of weather, is to clean and scour in the usual way, and give them a coat of negative varnish, to be obtained at a store. Many ornaments which lack luster are also improved by one application.

FLY TO PIECES.
The Effect of Coffee on Highly Organized People.

"I have been a coffee user for years, and about two years ago got into a very serious condition of dyspepsia and indigestion. It seemed to me I would fly to pieces. I was so nervous that at the least noise I was distressed, and many times could not straighten myself up because of the pain."

Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.

"My physician told me I must not eat any heavy or strong food, and ordered a diet, giving me some medicine. I followed directions carefully, but kept on using coffee and did not get any better.

"Last winter my husband, who was away on business, had Postum served to him in the family where he boarded. He liked it so well that when he came home he brought some with him. We began using it and I found it most excellent.

"While I drank it my stomach never bothered me in the least, and I got over my nervous troubles. When the Postum was gone we returned to coffee, then my stomach began to hurt me as before, and the nervous conditions came on again.

"That showed me exactly what was the cause of the whole trouble, so I quit drinking coffee altogether and kept on using Postum. The old troubles left again and have never returned."

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville, in pkgs.

The Word of Life

By REV. H. W. POPE,
Superintendent of Men,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"Holding forth the word of life." Phil. 1:16.

In writing to the church at Philippi which he had just founded, Paul urges upon them two things: First: That they be blameless and harmless, or in other words, that they live a consistent Christian life. Secondly: That they form the habit of holding forth the word of life to others.

Paul then goes on to say that if these Philippian church members were satisfied simply to set a consistent example, and did not also engage in personal effort to help the unsaved, he should consider his labor upon these as well high lost. The ease with which one can do this work, and the blessing which usually accompanies it, makes it almost inexcusable for us to neglect it.

On one occasion I handed a little card to a man asking if he would like something to read. On it he saw the word Christian, and at once he said with a sneer, "Christian, yes, I have neighbors who are Christians, and I have some who are not, and the latter are more neighborly and more honorable in business every time." "That may be," I said, "but remember that it is not their religion which makes your neighbors mean and dishonorable, but the lack of it, and it is not fair to blame Jesus Christ for what does not belong to him."

Then I added, "It may be that you do not feel the need of a Savior now, but the time will surely come when you will feel it."

"I guess I need him enough now. My wife died about a year ago, and since then I have lost my daughter. My home is broken up and I haven't anything left to live for."

The man's voice trembled, and the tears began to come. I saw that I had touched a tender chord, and I said, "My friend, if there is any one on this earth that needs Jesus Christ, I think you are the man." Then I held up Christ as a comforter and told him how willing Christ was to come into his sad heart and make it glad, and into his desolate home and make it bright with heavenly hopes. Then, taking it for granted that he did not know how to find Christ, I went on to explain the way of salvation. Then I said, "Now my friend, with this understanding of what it is to become a Christian, are you willing to accept Christ as your Savior right here and now, and give me your hand on it?" "Yes sir, I am," he replied, and he grasped my hand heartily. Then we removed our hats, and I prayed, and he prayed, after which he gave me his name and told me all about himself. This was at a county fair in the midst of noise and confusion. Horses were racing, fairs were shouting and the merry-go-round was in full blast. And yet in the midst of that surging crowd this man with bared head was confessing his sins to God and inviting Jesus Christ to come into his heart.

It is a great aid in opening conversation with strangers to have with you a variety of leaflets or gospel cards. You can hand one to a person saying, "Would you like something to read?" If he does not express an opinion, you can give him another, saying, "This one is a little different," or "Here is one which I think you will enjoy." By this means you gradually become acquainted, and by and by you can give him one which presents the way of salvation plainly, and ask him if he has accepted Christ as his Savior.

Sitting in a hotel in Denver I was reading a newspaper. By my side sat a young man talking with two others. Soon he uttered an oath. Taking out a little card entitled, "Why Do You Swear?" I laid it down on the arm of the chair between us, and went on reading. He picked it up and read it. As soon as his companions left he said to me, "My friend, that is the best thing on swearing I ever saw. It is an awful habit I know and I ought not to do it, but you see I am a newspaper man on the Chicago Inter Ocean. I am thrown in with a rough crowd and I cannot seem to overcome the habit." He then went on to tell me about himself and we had a long heart to heart talk. Remember he began the conversation, and he did most of the talking.

When we have ascertained one's real position, the next thing is to lead him to accept Christ. The main object is not to lead people to give up their bad habits, or to attend church, or even to join the church, but rather to accept Christ as their personal Lord and Master. We should then show them from God's word that they have forgiveness of sins and eternal life (Acts 10:43; John 3:36).

They should also be instructed in the duties of the Christian life, especially the duty of confessing Christ publicly, and the habit of daily prayer and Bible reading.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 6

JACOB AND ESAU.

LESSON TEXT—Gen. 27:28-34. GOLDEN TEXT—"Jehovah is a God of judgment; blessed are all they that wait for him." Isa. 30:18.

Jacob is one of the great figures presented to us in the book of Genesis. His birth and purchase of the birthright are recorded in Chapter 25, and in chapter 27 we have presented his great sin.

It is absolutely necessary to read carefully all of this chapter before we can properly present this lesson. Moses did not record Jacob's deception because he commended it, but rather as a warning to all who read and ponder thereon. The Bible spreads before us the sins of God's people as well as their virtues, which ought to be a comforting thought to us all, who are sinners "saved by grace."

I. The Deceit, vv. 22-29. Lying, duplicity, profanity, and compounded felony, are presented in the preliminary verses to that section selected for our study. Jacob's conscience rebelled (v. 12), yet he gladly listened to the voice of his unwise mother who thought she knew best how to circumvent God's will; see ch. 25:23, 25, 28. This mother's foolish ambition and teaching had developed a self-seeking, deceitful son. By nature Jacob was unlovely and the greatest lesson we can learn from his life is that he, a "cheater," should by the grace of God be transformed into "Israel," a prince, he that hath power with God.

A Rough Man.

We first have presented the temperamental difference between these two brothers, then the story of the birthright, and lastly the stolen blessing. Esau was a rough man of the chase, cunning, clever and skillful as a hunter. Jacob was a plain man, viz., one who inclined to the conventionalities. He loved a settled, quiet home life, for he "dwelt in tents." Again when we consider the episode of the birthright we have set before us another illustration of the great contrast of these brothers. We do not value birthrights as do the Orientals, and further, we must remember this is the story of God's development of a chosen race. Esau mastered by his appetite, governed by selfish instincts, gladly and flippantly spurns—"despised"—his right. He denied his responsibility to the future of that race of whom Abraham was the first, and virtually said that nothing was of value that did not serve this present lifetime. Jacob, on the other hand, estimated this birthright at its supreme value, as of the highest importance.

From Bad Stock.

Subject as Jacob was to the rule of a seeking, scheming, mother, yet we must remember that she, too, was actuated by the same high estimate of the value and the importance of the birthright. Her mean manner of seeking to accomplish her purpose did not succeed, but, in fact, delayed the desired end for Jacob had to fly for his life. Let us look at Rebekah. She came from the same stock as Laban, who was a fraud, a cheat, and a liar. She taught her son to follow those same methods and had to smart for it, for she lost his companionship through long years, and never saw him again. Is it ever right to do wrong? God's word tells us no, see Rom. 3:8. Rebekah was more concerned with her partiality than with the purposes of God. (Ch. 25:28) Jacob's conscience was aroused as we see from v. 12, though it was probably not so much fear of the error of the act, but rather fear of being caught.

God would in his way and in his own time have given Jacob the promised blessing without the aid of his deceit. As it was Jacob engineered his brother's hatred, was separated from his home and endured multiplied suffering.

II. Esau's Sorrow, vv. 30-34. Esau had sold his birthright and sought to regain it. Now he is too late to secure the blessing that should accompany his birthright. The brothers bartered for the birthright. One brother secured the blessing and with it, banishment. The other brother lost both birthright and blessing and gave vent to a bitter cry. (Heb. 12:17.) Esau was himself to blame. What a wrecked home partiality and deceit brought forth. Rebekah's anticipation (v. 45) was never fulfilled and her conduct with that of Jacob well deserves the censure and the punishment inflicted.

RECORD OF WORK WELL DONE

Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign Fruitful of Results for the Good of All Mankind.

Some comparisons showing the progress of the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the last eight years and the present needs of this movement are made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in a brief report of its work recently issued. During the eight years of its work, the national association has assisted in the organization of over 800 state and local anti-tuberculosis societies located in almost every state and territory of the Union. Over 500 hospital and sanatoria have been established; with more than 30,000 beds for consumptives. About 4,000 dispensaries, with more than 1,000 physicians in attendance and at least 150 open air schools for tuberculous and anaemic children, have also been provided. Laws dealing with tuberculosis have been passed in 45 states, and ordinances on this subject have been adopted in over 200 cities and towns. An active field campaign of education against tuberculosis has been carried on in 40 states and territories by means of lectures, exhibits, the press, and the distribution of over 100,000,000 pamphlets on the disease.

PIMPLES CAME IN BLOTCHES

Morrison, Tenn.—"For one year I suffered from a very severe attack of acne or pimples, accompanied by eczema. It first showed itself by the formation of small red, rather hard pimples which were not only disfiguring, but were painful. They also appeared on my neck and chest. Their itching was often so intense as to cause insomnia, and they very often caused pain and burning. I tried several so-called 'sure cure' remedies, but they did little or no good. Several months ago I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and wrote for a sample.

"I found them so soothing that I at once purchased a twenty-five cent cake of Cuticura Soap, and a fifty cent box of Cuticura Ointment. After using them for about a month, all of the itching and the pimples had entirely disappeared." (Signed) John Finger, Dec. 30, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

His Deceased Relative.

"I see you have met with a loss, Henry," she said, glancing at the band of crape on his hat.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply.

"Was it a near or a distant relative?" inquired the lady.

"Well, kind o' distant," said Henry. "bout twenty-five mile, ma'am."
