Aid of Everyone Interested in Fight Against Ravages of Tuberculosis Is Assured.

Churches, schools, labor unions, fraternal orders and other organizations to the number of 200,000 at least will be asked to join the anti-tuberculosis workers of the country in the observance of the Fourth National Tuberculosis day, which has been designated for December 1, according to an announcement by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The movement will be furthered throughout the country by more than 1,000 anti-tuberculosis societies working through various state organizations and the National association. Personal appeals will be made to clergymen, school principals and leaders of various organizations urging them to set aside a definite time during the week preceding or the week following December 7, for a lecture on tuberculosis.

ECZEMA ON HEAD AND FACE

Reedy, W. Va.—"My baby boy when three weeks old took the eczema on the head and face. It broke out in pimples and first they looked like blisters and a yellow water would run from them. His head was perfectly raw and his hair was all gone. Everybody said he would never have any more hair. As the sores spread his hair came out. The breaking out itched so badly that we had to keep gloves on his hands to keep him from scratching his head and face. It caused disfigurement. He couldn't rest at night it burned and itched so badly.

"He was treated for eight months and he got worse all the time. So I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In two months he was completely cured after using the Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) G. A. Dye, Jan. 7, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Interesting Beginning.

A fair graduate was conversing with a young gentleman who had been presented to her after the commencement exercises.

"Well," she sighed happily. "I am an A. B. now. Of course you have a degree?"

"Yes," he replied, "but I am only a B."

The fair grad pondered. The degree was puzzling.

"Why, what is that?" she asked.

"Bachelor," he said.—New York Times.

New Ideas for Handy Boys

By A. NEELY HALL

Author of "Handicraft for Handy Boys," "The Boy Craftsman," etc.

HOW TO MAKE A SCOUT KNAPSACK.

One of the finest achievements of the Boy Scout movement is the interest it has awakened in "hikes" to the fields and woods among city boys who have spent most of their lives surrounded by paved streets, with little or no opportunity of visiting nature's workshops.

The best "hikes" usually require a day's time, so the lunch proposition must be taken care of or the hikers will be pretty well starved out before the tramp is over. Of course a boy can't carry a bag of lunch in his hand, for he needs both hands for other purposes, and a coat pocket is too full of other things to permit of crowding it in. Therefore, food must be "packed" in some other way, and the best scheme is to have a regular knapsack that can be strapped upon the back army fashion in which to carry it. A knapsack is not difficult to make, as you will see by the illustrations, and if you can get your mother or sister to do the sewing on the sewing machine, that will be bag, such as is generally used for carrying small things in. The regular army knapsacks are usually provided with four of these little sacks, measuring between 3 and 5 inches wide and about 5 inches deep. To make one, take a piece of light weight canvas or drilling, of twice the width desired for the finished bag, and stitch along one side and across the bottom; then make a hem across the top for a draw string, for which a piece of heavy cord, knotted at the ends, should be used. Sheaths for knives should be made as shown in Fig. 5, out of leather or pieces of heavy canvas.

For a short hike, it is not likely that you will carry much more than a package of lunch, unless you add a tin plate, knife and fork and tin cup. The matter of packing is not important. But if you take a small outfit along, it will be necessary to pack carefully in order to get everything in, and make the load carry easily. The weight must be evenly balanced, by a careful distribution of heavy things, and solid and pointed articles must be placed in the front of the knapsack so they will not rub against you and "wear a hole in your back."

Jeweler's Night Bell.

Under the jeweler's letter box and doorbell was a second bell labeled, "Jeweler's night bell."

"Kindly explain," said the visitor. "Is the craving for diamonds and wedding rings so insatiable that you have to get up at night to meet the demand?"

"It is not the prospect of making a sale that gets me out of bed after midnight," said the jeweler, "but the misfortunes of my fellow man. About the working hours are those who have a piece of jewelry that they can't get off and don't care to wear until morning for fear of blood poisoning. These accidents happen pretty often. Every doctor and police officer in this part of town knows that I can be routed out in an emergency case, so all rings that must be filed off swollen fingers, all earrings that must be removed from inflamed ears, all necklaces and bracelets that must be taken from bruised necks and wrists without delay are brought to me."—New York Times.

Do Animals Reason?

Incidents reported from the New York Zoological park would seem to indicate that certain animals can reason. When Carl Hagenbeck, the noted Hamburg animal trainer, visited the zoo not long ago he suddenly appeared near the cage of the big lion Sultan. This lion formerly lived in Hamburg, but Mr. Hagenbeck had not seen him for more than a year. Sultan was taking a nap, but when Mr. Hagenbeck pronounced his name in German the lion leaped up as if he had been aroused by a blow and recognized his former trainer, and licked his hand. That the big orang-outang in the park has reasoning powers has been demonstrated. One day a rope was lowered into the cage. The animal seized it and tied it into a knot and fastened himself with it to his swing. The knot was as dexterously and as well tied as if done by human hands.

Art Tamed the Tigers.

A privileged few may have seen the interesting sight of a sculptor making his studies and models from life for the statues of the two tigers which guard the entrance to Nassau hall at Princeton. The studies were made for the most part in the animal houses near the arsenal in Central park, New York. At first considerable prodding by the keepers was necessary to induce the zoological samples to come forward when the sculptor wanted them. After a time, however—that is upon the sculptor's solemn word—the beasts got so that when they saw him set up his stand, they came forward of their own accord and lay crouched, as he wished. The tigers had learned to pose.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

If you were busy being glad, And cheering people who are sad, Although your heart might ache a bit, You'd soon forget to notice it.

APPETIZING DISHES.

A most satisfying and good looking dish is this: Brown a few slices of onion in a little butter, then add a half cup of cold cooked rice, and when well browned three slightly beaten eggs and a half cup of milk. Stir until the eggs are cooked, sprinkle with a slice of finely minced boiled ham, and serve at once.

Cream Cake.—Bake cake in two layers, and put together with sweetened whipped cream which has been flavored with a cup of peach pulp put through a fine sieve. Flavor with a few drops of almond.

Coffee Junket.—For a simple and dainty dessert, and one which is easy to make, junket certainly stands high in favor. One tablet dissolved in a tablespoonful of water and added to a quart of milk is sufficient to thicken that amount. Reserve a half cup of milk, and pour boiling hot over two tablespoonfuls of ground coffee; let stand until well infused, then strain. Warm the remainder of the milk to a blood heat, not hot or the rennin will not act on the milk; then add the dissolved tablet and the coffee infusion, stir well and put in sherbet glasses to set. Serve with whipped cream on the top of each glass.

Macaroon Fancy.—Select as many large macaroons as are required, with a few sponge cakes. Arrange the sponge cakes or lady fingers upright with a macaroon for the bottom of the little box. Stick them together with boiled frosting and serve them filled with a preserved strawberry and whipped cream filling. A little gelatine may be added to the fruit to make it keep its shape, if so desired.

Hast thou plenty? Then rejoice, Rejoice and freely share. Hast thou scanty store? 'E'en then A little thou canst spare. And hast thou only bit or crumb, A donor yet thou mayst become.

SOME PRETTY SUMMER SALADS.

A pretty and unusual salad is made by using a shapely cucumber for the salad dish. Cut a slice from the side to make a stable dish, then cut an oblong from the cucumber, using the pieces removed and cut in dice with the diced pineapple and bits of broken nuts. Garnish the top with minced parsley, and place the cucumber on a lettuce leaf. The dressing used may be French, boiled or mayonnaise.

Another pretty way of serving cucumber is to peel it and pare in rounds, as one does an apple, keeping the pieces as long as possible. Wind in rose shape, place a center of a spoonful of yellow dressing, and one has a pretty flower on a lettuce leaf.

Cheese and Tomato Salad.—Arrange a cup of head lettuce and put a slice of ripe tomato on it. Then a round of well seasoned cottage cheese another slice of tomato and a small ball of cheese on top of that with a stuffed olive for a garnish.

Green Pepper and Cream Cheese Salad.—Cut green peppers in halves, remove the seeds and white pulp, and fill with seasoned cream cheese which has been softened with cream and seasoned with a bit of chopped chives. The peppers may be served whole if small, or cut in slices after being thoroughly chilled. The slice will be the white cheese with a rim of the pretty green or red of the pepper.

Tomato and Pineapple Salad.—Peel a firm, shapely tomato and cut it in eighths, keeping it together at the blossom end. Open out like a flower, arrange on lettuce and fill the center with chopped pineapple and celery. Add the dressing just before serving. Slices of red radish placed in overlapping slices with a bit of chopped onion on lettuce leaves with French dressing makes a most dainty salad.

Quicker Action Needed.

HOW TO CURE ECZEMA, ITCH AND ALL SKIN DISEASES

Don't suffer any longer with eczema or any other skin trouble. Just apply Hancock's Sulphur Compound to the parts affected and it will stop the itching at once and cure the trouble permanently. Many sufferers from skin troubles have written us that the Sulphur Compound cured them after everything else failed. Mrs. Evelyn Garst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek. It would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of cancerous nature. I used different preparations, but nothing helped it. One bottle of Hancock's Sulphur Compound cured me completely." To beautify the complexion, remove blackheads, and pimples use Hancock's Sulphur Ointment. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.
