HAS NEW IDEA IN SURGERY

New Yorker Confident of Ability to Graft Limbs of Dead on Bodies of Living.

Dr. A. L. Sorens, a New York surgeon, who astounded the world at the recent medical congress in London by stating that he would soon be able to graft the limbs of the dead upon the bodies of the living, will resume his experiments at his New York laboratories.

"So far I have only taken the limbs of dogs and grafted them on other dogs," said he. "The work is so new that I have to make the instruments to use, and that takes time and patience."

"The dogs on which I have experimented are today just as sound as though they had been born with the limbs grafted on them. When working upon the dogs I take one that has just died and immediately graft his limb to that of a living animal. But with human subjects that question of time is the most serious."

DIVERSIFICATION ON SOUTHERN FARMS

Some Reasons for Getting Away From One-Crop Idea.

VITAL PROBLEM FOR FARMER

Must Inaugurate a Safe and Sane System of Farming to Enrich, Instead of Wearing Out Our Lands—Cotton Exhausts Humus.

(By G. H. ALFORD.) There are two problems before us for solution. However, the most real and vital problem before us just at this time is to get our farmers to practice a safe and sane system of farming; one that will include crops to enrich instead of wear out our lands; one that will include plenty of good live stock to consume the surplus products and the leguminous crops that must be grown to enrich the land and to make manure to still further enrich the land—a system of farming that will grow the necessary corn, oats, wheat, rice, sugar cane, vegetables, fruits of all kinds, poultry, hogs, mules, horses, cattle, sheep and other live stock for home use and to sell at a price the people in our towns and cities can afford to pay.

The too exclusive culture of cotton has exhausted the humus, the life-giving principle in our soils; the washing of the clean cotton fields has gone on to such an extent that millions of acres of the best land in the cotton belt have been ruined. The too exclusive culture of cotton makes it necessary to send the money obtained for cotton north to pay for corn, oats, pork products, mules, horses and other farm products. The too exclusive culture of cotton has caused overproduction, thereby forced the price far below an equitable one, so that there has been but little more than a bare living for cotton farmers. The too exclusive culture of cotton established the credit system. As long as our farmers raise their supplies at home there is no necessity for the credit system. The too exclusive culture of cotton compels us to buy on credit and dump all of our cotton on the market in the fall in order to satisfy our creditors and thereby force the price down.

If these statements be true, why have the farmers in the cotton belt not practiced diversification more generally long ago? Many say that the farmers have been compelled to plant cotton to get credit, and at the low prices of cotton, which so long prevailed, were unable to get out of debt and go forward unhampered on an independent basis. This is no doubt true of many thousands of farmers.

There are, of course, numerous reasons for the too exclusive culture of cotton, but the argument used by most cotton farmers is that cotton is the most profitable crop to grow and that the larger the area in cotton the larger the profits. These cotton farmers usually show by figures that an acre of land that will grow 40 bushels of corn will grow one bale of cotton and that the cotton will sell for more money than the corn.

Now, come, let us reason together for a few moments. The success of any system of farming cannot be judged by the crops or the next earnings for one year or for five years. Our problems largely depend upon maintaining soil fertility, and for this reason any system of farming that causes a decline in the fertility of the soil is a shame and disgrace to our farmers. Our greatest asset is the fertility of our soil. Just in proportion in which our soils are worn out, in that proportion is our prosperity diminished. No living man has ever acquired the art of growing good crops of grain, grasses, cotton or vegetables on poor land. Poor soil always means small yields; small yields always means poor people, and poor people always means the credit system, very little education, uncomfortable homes, poorly equipped farms, and, in fact, all that retards civilization.

In passing, permit me to suggest that corn with peas in the corn and peas grazed by hogs, and oats followed by soy beans or lespedeza will take the place of a large part of the cotton, and that you will make as large net profits from the sale of these crops as you make from cotton. Land that will make one-half to three-fourths bale of cotton per acre, on the average, one year with another, will make 30 bushels of oats and 20 bushels of soy beans, or two tons of lespedeza hay. The oats and soy beans or lespedeza hay will sell for more cash than the cotton. And wherein these crops and corn and oats used in a rotation surpass any one crop system, lies in the fact that the fertility of the soil is increased while with the too exclusive culture of cotton the fertility rapidly decreases.

The most destructive and energetic insect that the world has ever known is gradually covering the cotton belt. There is one hope and only one hope for the farmers, and that is the diversification of crops. The adoption of a sane and safe system of farming—one that will grow grasses, leguminous crops, corn, hogs, sheep, cattle, mules, horses and some cotton will solve the boll weevil problem. The credit system is the curse of the cotton belt. It sweeps the earnings of toil from the masses into the coffers of the few. Some years ago the commissioner of agriculture of Georgia, after careful inquiry of several hundred, found that the average rates charged the farmers for extension of credit from April and May to October and November was 54 per cent. per annum over and above the cash price. Wives and children were compelled to work in the heat and cold from January until December to pay the 54 per cent. credit profits. Diversification of crops will abolish the credit system.

We are sending millions of dollars to other sections of the country every year to pay for pork products, mules, horses and other farm products. Diversification of crops will keep this money at home, our banks will soon be full to overflowing and the rate of interest lowered to say 6 per cent. because of the abundance of money. Then we will have the necessary money to pay good teachers better salaries to teach longer terms, to build comfortable homes and good roads and properly equip our farms.

Diversification is the only remedy for low-priced cotton. There is no sane man who does not know that we will get more money for 12,000,000 than we will for 15,000,000 bales. The history of the past 20 years is proof positive of this statement. We all know that large crops of cotton mean a low price and that a low price for cotton means poverty and wretchedness all over the cotton belt. This being true, why will our farmers and their wives and children toil in the heat and cold in large cotton fields to grow large crops of cheap cotton to pay for high-price corn, oats, bacon, lard, mules and other farm products with the profits of several middle men, supply merchants and railroads added?

The growing of every farm product necessary for home use will curtail the production of cotton, raise the price to at least 12 cents per pound and enable us to use the money obtained for cotton to build good roads, magnificent homes, churches and school houses and fill our banks to overflowing. Life on the farm will then be free, unfettered by the bands of professorial obligations and our position in the world made conspicuous by that independence which the farmer alone can enjoy in the fullest significance of the term.

Every farmer should raise his own farm-work stock. It is true that millions are sent out of the cotton belt each year for mules and horses, but this is not the main reason why your attention is called to this subject at this time. Probably one of the two chief causes of poverty in the cotton belt is the one-horse plow. The small mule and a turning plow is a guarantee of shallow soil devoid of vegetable matter. A shallow soil devoid of vegetable matter means small crops and poor farmers.

Farmers who buy their work stock never have enough for the economical production of crops. We have about one-fourth the horse power and earn about one-fourth as much money as farmers in some other sections of the country.

Farmers who buy feed stuffs to feed plow teams never raise sufficient farm work stock to supply their needs. We buy feed stuff and this is the main reason why we have about one-fourth as many horses and mules as farmers in other sections of the country. We can save the millions of dollars paid out for mules and horses each year and bring in millions from the sale of mules and horses, but a greater profit will come from securing in this way sufficient work stock for economical crop production.

ERADICATION OF QUACK GRASS

Badly Infested Field Should Be Plowed From Five to Eight Inches Soon as Crop is Removed.

(By ANDREW ROSS, Minnesota Experiment Station.) Where a field is badly infested with quack grass it should be plowed from five to eight inches deep as soon as the hay or grain crop is removed. All portions of the grass must be turned under. Within a few days the plow should be followed by a disk harrow with the disks set straight at the first time over to avoid turning any of the sod. The disking should be repeated once or twice a week for six or eight weeks and occasionally after that until freezing weather.

Short crop rotations are useful in keeping quack grass under control and when arranged so as to provide an opportunity to attack the quack grass at the right time they will permit eradication of the weed without losing the use of the land.

Good Plan. In the long run it is always a good plan to give a cow a dose of some laxative at the first symptom of under trouble.

Boys Prefer the Farm.

The farm boy has a tremendous advantage in the world. Early he is trained to self-reliance, to performance of duties, to regular labor. He has a sound body. He is eminently fitted to do the greatest things done in the world. He recognizes that the farm is the best place in the world in which to live. Ten chances to one he would prefer to stay on his father's farm. If the father can learn to make the farm pay well, if he can make it progressive, with hope of fine achievement at the end of the struggle, then most boys will stay. It is when the farm is stagnant, unprogressive, dead, almost hopeless, that the young man sets his face resolutely away from the farm.—Breeder's Gazette.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't Look Old! Try Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Gray, Faded, Lifeless Hair.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application, or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.

Unanswerable. Simeon Ford, New York's well-known humorist, said whimsically the other day, apropos of the death of J. Pierpont Morgan: "We learn from Mr. Morgan's life that wealth does not bring happiness. We know already that poverty doesn't bring it, either. What on earth then is a man to do?"—Argonaut.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 12.

JEALOUSY AND ENVY PUNISHED.

LESSON TEXT—Numbers, chapter 12. GOLDEN TEXT—"Love thy neighbor, love thy neighbor not thine, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly."—I Cor. 13:4, 5, R. V.

In order the events from Sinai to Kadesh-Barnea were: (1) The marching host, Nu. 10:11; (2) The fire of the Lord at Taberah, 11:1; (3) The lust after Egyptian flesh-pots, 11:4; (4) The complaint of Moses, 11:10; (5) The selection of elders, 11:16; (6) The two irregular prophets, 11:28; (7) The quails and the plague, 11:31, and (8) Sedition, chapter 12, which forms today's lesson.

Miriam's Leadership.

I. The Accusation, vv. 1, 2. This is not the first nor the last time a marriage has caused a family quarrel. Who this Ethiopian woman was we are not told, though we are inclined to believe that it was Zipporah (Ex. 2:21), and not a second wife whom Moses married recently. Of all people we would least expect jealousy to show itself in this family circle, among these the chosen leaders of Israel. Nothing so hinders the work of God, or gives more delight to the devil, than just such a situation as this one. It brings confusion and delay (v. 15). The occasion was not, however, so much the wife of Moses as it was envy of Moses (See Luke 22:24-26; I Cor. 1:11-15, and 3 John 9, 10). It may have been that Moses was culpable, for no man is perfect (Rom. 3:23), but Miriam and Aaron were not his judges. We must remember in this connection last Sunday's lesson wherein we had presented such a radical change in the form of government. Miriam and Aaron were desirous of having an equal place with Moses and because he did a thing they could not understand they criticised him (Rom. 14:3, 4; Jude 8).

II. The Arrest, vv. 4, 5. "The Lord heard it" (v. 2, 1 c). God hears what we say in criticism of those whom he has set over us. Instead of being jealous of the preference accorded to others we ought to rejoice (Phil. 2:3). Though we are free to admit such a course often proves the measure of his grace in our hearts. God did not let this matter stand nor run the course of idle gossip. He at once, and in person, came down to champion the cause of Moses (v. 5, see also 16:20, 21).

He Saw Jehovah. III. The Arraignment, vv. 6-8. Jehovah pointed out very clearly not only the difference between them and Moses, but also between Moses and all other prophets. They were prophets, so was Moses, and more. To the prophets God revealed himself in visions (see Ezek. 1:1, Isa. 6:1, Dan. 8:2, Luke 1:11), and many other similar instances, but with Moses God spake "mouth to mouth even manifestly," that is, others heard God's voice speaking audibly to Moses (Ex. 19:19 and 33:11). This voice was clear and distinct, it did not demand any interpretation. Verse 8 does not imply that Moses had a full revelation of the person of Jehovah, but he did have a visible manifestation of the similitude ("form" R. V.) of God (John 1:18).

IV. Judgment, vv. 9, 10. The departing cloud from off the tabernacle was a token of God's displeasure. Let us not forget that future time when it will be others who will depart (Matt. 25:41). The lifted cloud revealed to Aaron Miriam smitten with leprosy, that most terrible of all diseases, loathsome, contagious, incurable. Read the stories of Naaman and Uzziah.

Aaron's Sin. V. Intercession, vv. 11-16. Aaron in his appeal to Moses acknowledges his equal transgression with Miriam, his foolishness and his sin, and in turn Moses revealed his noble Christ-like character. Christ prayed for his enemies (Luke 23:34). Moses was not overcome of evil but overcame evil with good (Rom. 12:12). His prayer was an effectual one (James 5:16). Some have viewed this episode in a typical light. Moses representing Christ is rejected by his own people; the Ethiopian bride as the church, chiefly Gentiles; Aaron and Miriam as Jews opposed to any such union; the leprosy as divine judgment upon the Jews who are interceded for by those whom they oppose; the Christian church; Miriam shut out of the camp, the period of Israel's rejection after which period she will be restored to her land and her God in Christ Jesus.

This lesson is a great teaching of the jealousy of Jehovah for those upon whom he confers honor. We serve him by his appointment and he will defend us. We should think highly of any service to which he calls us and say with Paul, "I magnify mine office." God will not hold those guiltless who call in question the wisdom of his appointments or the rights of his appointees who do his work. Miriam and Aaron broke the tenth commandment by coveting authority. Let us beware of this form of sin. Such envy is not only a lack of love for man but also of God.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.
