The Shepherd of the Hills.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" the dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's novel, which holds the record for the largest sales of any American work of fiction, which has been made by Mr. Wright, with the assistance of Elsbury W. Reynolds, will be seen at the MAJESTIC Theatre Wednesday Nov. 12th.

The scenes of the play are laid among the Ozark mountains of Missouri. It is a story of the hills and the simple life, yet it has plenty of excitement and an air of mystery that will hold the auditor from beginning to end.

The story has to do with the father of an artist, who tired of city life, goes into the Ozarks for peace and quietude. He learns of a grievous sin committed by his son, whom he mourns as dead. The son had visited the hills some years before, when he fell in love with a simple country girl. He painted her picture and when he went back to the city, deserting the girl, he earned fame because of the canvas. The girl deserted and broken-hearted dies leaving behind her a half-witted son.

It is to the home of this dead and wronged girl that the father of the artist comes, and here he is employed to watch the sheep. He grows to love the country and its people, and he and the half-witted boy, Pete, become friends. Then there is a love story running through the play that adds to its attractiveness. It is the love of a young giant of the hills for Sammy Lane, a girl of unusual qualities.

There are several characters whose quaint humor is a decided novelty. Taken as a whole, the play promises to prove a refreshing change from the general run of dramatic attractions this season.

Messrs. Gaskill and McVitty, the producers, are said to have given the play an elaborate mounting, the mountains of the Ozark affording an opportunity for some fine examples of the scenic painter's art. The cast has been selected for their peculiar fitness for each type.

ROPER NEWS.

The Epworth League held their social meeting for October in the music room at the Graded School last Friday evening and quite an interesting program was rendered.

Geo. W. Dixon, train master for the Roper Lumber Co. while walking over a train load of logs last Thursday missed his footing and fell between the cars, striking his face and causing painful bruises. The train was standing at the time, otherwise his injuries no doubt would have been much more serious.

Messrs. A. L. Booth and Fenton Reid, with Misses Dorothy Willy and Gladys Hornthal of Plymouth were in town Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. J. S. Leary made a short visit to Edenton Monday returning Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Millie Spruill left Wednesday for Pungo where she will teach in the public school at that place during the winter term.

The Episcopal Sunday School gave a Hallo'ween party to the members of the school and their friends Friday evening of this week at the vacant residence corner of Boush and Station Sts.

Cards were received here Wednesday of this week announcing the marriage Miss Annie Savage, formerly of this place but for the past few years, a resident of Norfolk, to Mr. L. B. Smith, on Tuesday, Oct. 28th. at Norfolk, at home after Nov. 3rd., 7 Colonial Apts. For the past several years, Miss Savage has been chief operator of the private 'phone exchange of the Southern Ry. at Norfolk while Mr. Smith is Chief Clerk for the same Company. Miss Savage enjoys a wide circle of acquaintances in Eastern Carolina and Virginia.

The last census report covering ginner's report to Oct. 18th shows 626 bales of cotton ginned in Washington County to that date this year as against 1494 for the corresponding period last year. It will be noted that this is less than half of last year's ginning and while the crop in this section is very late, it is now conceded that the crop is from 33 1-3 to 50 percent shor this year.

Mrs. L. G. Roper left Wednesday to spend several days in Norfolk shopping.

Miss Lula Cahoon visited her sister, Miss Annie Cahoon in Plymouth Wednesday of this week.

Miss Gladys Hornthal of Plymouth spent several days here this week the guest of Mrs. Ida Blount.
