It is Believed That the Crews of All The Vessels Were Allowed to Depart from the Ships,

London.-The toll taken by the German submarine U-21 in its raid in the Irish Sea in the vicinity of Liverpool, stands at three ships-the steamers Ben Cruachen, Linda Blanche and the Kilcoan, the last a small vessel. The Kilcoan's crew was landed on Isle of Man by a coastwise steamer.

In addition a German submarine also torpedoed two British steamers in the English Channel near Havrethe Tokomaru and the Icarian.

The Irish Sea raider escaped and shiping interest confident she had returned to her base, ordered a resumption of normal traffic.

This under-water Emden is the vessel which last September torpedoed in the North Sea the British cruiser Pathfinder with a loss of 246 lives and later destryoed two British steamers off Havre. In addition to the three vessels she is known to have sunk she chased at least five other steamers. These include the teamer Graphic with 100 passengers and a crew of 40 and the smaller boats Atreus, Ava Kathleen and Edymion. All these vessels escaped in zig-zag flight.

The Graphic's captain had his passsengers don life belts and sent the steke hole so that the steamer could keep up a full head of steam. The captain also warned by wireless vessels from coming into the zone of the submarine's activity.

The Allan Line steamer Scandinarequired to pass the bill could not on board, learned of the raid of the lished. U-21 and put into Queenstown. After remaining in Queenstown for a short time the steamer proceeded for Liver pool.

Campaign in the Carpathians Vital te Both Sides Russians Are Attacking Austro-German Forces.

London.-With the armies in France and Flanders recuperating after strenuous fighting of earlier days of the week and no local actions being recorded, interest in the war situation has been transferred to the Russian offensive in East Prussia and the attempt of a strong Austro-German army to dislodge the troops of Emperor Nicholas from their positions in the Carpathians.

In East Prussia a Russian offensive has developed in the extreme north, where renewed fighting seems to confirm a belief that a definite effort to advance north of the Mazurian Lakes younger sister, Agnes, made her debut district, where previously the Russians and without regard to whether the were defeated has been decided on by the Russian General Staff.

More vital to both sides, however, is the campaign in the Carpathians, where southwest of Dukla Pass the Russians have delivered an energetic attack. According to their account of the combat they compelled the Austro-Germans to retreat, leaving behind ammunition and stores. This attack, according to military observers, indicates a Russian attempt to turn the flank of the Teuton Allies. If it would have serious consequences for the large Austro-German army in and
