Dies After Lingerin Illness.

After an illness extending over several years which caused his condition to gradually grow worse, Mr. Julius Norman, son of the late C. V. and Mrs. Lydia Norman, died at St. Regis Sanatorium at Salem, Virginia, Friday morning, August 17.

His remains were taken to Edenton and were placed to rest in the family burial plot in the Bay View Hill cemetery at that place on Saturday afternoon.

The deceased was a quiet, unassuming young man greatly admired by all that knew him. To the grief-stricken loved ones we offer our heartfelt sympathy.

Company I Enjoys Pic-Nic.

Last Thursday afternoon and evening the members of Company I, with the Ambulance Company from Edenton, enjoyed thoroughly a picnic and dance at Rea's Beach.

The company left here about five thirty with approximately fifty men and were met at the beach by the Edenton company of about thirty men and one officer.

A splendid picnic dinner was served at six thirty by a number of our town and county ladies who are enthusiastic supporters of the militia. Special arrangements were made by Captain Blount with the beach management for dance privileges for the men of his company who indulge in this pleasure.

The soldiers are to be complimented upon their orderly conduct and soldierly bearing, which contributed so much to the success of the occasion.

DR. J. L. Hassell Dies Suddenly.

Our entire section was deeply grieved last Friday morning to learn of the sudden death of Dr. J. L. Hassell, of Creswell.

Dr. Hassell was on his way to visit a patient near Woodley's station where he stopped to make an inquiry. He then drove off, when those standing nearby noticed that he stopped his car rather suddenly. They wondered at this and upon arriving at the car they found the doctor had died.

The deceased was well known throughout this section and enjoyed the admiration and friendship of all classes.

The funeral service and interment was made Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends and grief-stricken relatives.

An ice course was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests of the popular hostess.

Mrs. W. C. Spruill and children of Raleigh, are in the city the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Spruill.

Everything Ready for School Opening.

September 6th has been the day designated for the opening of Plymouth High School, and according to Prof. James W. Norman, everything is in shape to appear for the beginning of a very successful term.

He believes that each one of his corps of teachers is a graduate of some college of high class reputation, and come to this school splendidly equipped for the duties that will be given them. Some are known to our people and need no other recommendation, for through their service here they have convinced us that they are eminently qualified for the positions.

The following compose the faculty for the coming term: Prof. James W. Norman, city; Prof. L. C. Davis, Swansea, S. C., assistant; Miss Annie B. Collopy, Cookeville, Tenn.; Miss Pauline Lucas, city; Miss Mamie McIntyre, Troy, N. C.; Miss Elizabeth Stephenson Abingdon, Va.; Mrs. Kate Lea Owen, Yadkin College; Miss Annie Wood Harris, Elizabeth City; Miss Mattie Logan, Stapleton, Ga.; Miss Thomas Barton, Goldsboro; Miss Viola Stokes, Ayden; and Miss Miriam Barbage Com.

The public is invited to attend the opening exercises in the school auditorium, which will be held at nine o'clock Thursday morning, September 6th.

Farmers' Day at Rea's Beach

On Wednesday, August 29th, a farmer's picnic will be held at Rea's Beach at which time and place all the farmers of this section and other people likewise are urged to attend and bring lunch. It is hoped that the largest crowd that has ever assembled in Washington county will gather to enjoy this day with each other.

Splendid speakers will be there and the speaking will begin at 10.30.

Make your plans now to attend Wednesday, August 29th.

Better Possibilities For Local People.

Mr. Abe Adler has made quite an extensive trip through the north recently and upon arriving here just a few days ago he informs us that he has made a thorough trip through the markets that handle products such as are carried in Adler's Store. He advised us that he has never before bought goods as extensively as he did on this trip, and that the bargains he made will provide a cheaper market for the people of this section that use Plymouth as a trading place. He explains that he has so arranged his purchases that it will be much easier for him to keep a full stock of all articles, receiving a replenishing stock in a very short while after making an additional order.

Mr. Adler uses one quarter of this page constantly in order that he might keep the buying public in touch with the opportunities he offers from time to time.
