FAIR ARRANGEMENTS PROGRESSING

Monday Night Meeting Attended by Directors From all Parts of The County

One of the most enthusiastic meetings of the fair association ever held was conducted here Monday night at the court house when directors from all parts of the county attended and took an active part in the meeting.

The temporary officers, who are in principal W. R. Hampton, president, T. J. Swain, secretary-treasurer, were made permanent. Last year the offices of secretary and treasurer were made separate but at this meeting it was decided that matters could be expedited by combining the two offices under one head.

Directors are all working over time in preparing for the occasion and it is practically certain that the fair this year will be a huge success. Plans are being perfected to extend the fair grounds so that the base ball park will be included. Two entrances will be made. One entering the exhibit hall and one entering the base ball grounds at which place parking space for automobiles will be reserved. A special officer will be on duty in the parking space and cars will be checked and taken care of in an efficient manner.

Progressive farmers all over the county are arranging their exhibits which will be entered according to plans that appear in the premium list. The premium lists will be distributed in a short while.

Saturday, November 8th, has been designated as Colored Day, and a committee of progressive colored citizens has been appointed.

Wednesday will be School Day, and more information on this subject will appear later.

The office of the secretary and treasurer of the Fair Association has been established in the business office of the Roanoke Beacon, and all who have business with the fair can transact it with Mr. Swain at this place.

COTTON ASSOCIATION GAINS 10 NEW MEMBERS DAILY

Raleigh, September 22.—An average of ten new members for every day is the record made by the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association, said T. W. Chambliss, Director of Information, last night. Contracts are coming to the Raleigh headquarters by every mail and many of these are from farmers who are landlords.

The Association has now over 35,500 members and the spirit of loyalty shown by these men, according to their letters, is stronger than at any time during the life of the Association. The cotton crop is considerably later this season than it was last year but the deliveries of the new crop by the membership indicates that the receipts of the Association will be exceeding satisfactory. Warehouses are reporting steadily growing receipts and members of the Association are expressing their satisfaction with the Association advances on the new crop.

SIX HUNDRED FARM BOYS TO JUDGE FARM CROPS AT STATE FAIR

Raleigh, September 22.—Over six hundred farm boys who are students in the agricultural high schools of the State will spend two days, October 16-17, at the State Fair to judge livestock and farm crops. Coming from eighty schools and representing sixty counties, these boys were selected from over three thousand contestants in local high schools.

This is the fourth annual judging contest for vocational agricultural high schools and it will bring together the largest number of farm boys ever assembled in North Carolina for such an occasion, says Roy H. Thomas, State supervisor of agricultural education, who has charge of the program for the boys.

A consolidated vocational agricultural high school display, put on by the high schools of the State in which vocational agriculture is taught, will be one of the features of the State Fair this year, Mr. Thomas announces.

Probably the most interesting of all the exhibits in this display will be the one in which the farm shop work will be shown. Boys from the various schools will give demonstrations in this section.

Liberal prizes are offered for all contests. Over two hundred dollars in

ADVERTISING EASTERN CAROLINA

EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION

Announcement was made recently by the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, Inc. officials that a contract had been let for an advertisement to run in every weekly paper in Texas, for one time as an experiment. This contract according to the statement of the officials calls for the ad to run one time in 95 different weekly news papers, within a month's time. It is not known just what the total circulation of these 95 papers is, but a very conservative estimate would put it at about 200,000 families. It is true that every weekly newspaper is read by five different families, this means that 1,000,000 people will read about Eastern North Carolina's advantages, or 200,000 different families. A similar contract is being sought in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Kansas.

According to the plans announced for the new membership campaign for the week of Oct. 6th, every town in the 46 counties, and there are about 120 of them, that becomes affiliated with this organization, will be furnished the name of every inquirer who comes into headquarters at Kinston. The local town can then send whatever local advertising it may have to induce new people to come and settle. The Industrial Bird's Eye View of Eastern North Carolina that the sectional organization plans to publish this fall will carry every town that has as many as a dozen $10.00 memberships or the equivalent thereof. When this publication is out, it will be a complete "Prospectus" of the industrial advantages of Eastern North Carolina and every town will be there for inspection. This is a very liberal proposition that the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce is making to the towns of the district and should be taken up by every one of the 120 towns or more. "When they find out what we have, they are coming", a prominent citizen of Johnston County said recently. This is the way to inform them and it is the best and cheapest way we can have.

money will be given in the livestock contests and the same amount has been allotted in the crop judging. The boy who makes the best score in judging livestock will be given a pure bred Jersey calf by the department of animal husbandry of State College.

The boys will be guests of State College while at the Fair. One of the features of the entertainment will be the banquet on Thursday evening, Oct. 16. At this time the farm boys will be the guests of President D. C. Brooks. Mrs. Vanderbilt, president of the State Fair, will be one of the speakers at the banquet.

Get your exhibit ready for the fair. Everybody will be glad if you win a prize.
