GREATEST OF ALL WEALTH.
AMERICA'S GARDEN SPOT.
ALFALFA AND FREEDOM.
KILLERS FOR HIRE SCARCE.

Our crops are worth billions every year. That's encouraging. In our mines and oil wells, are hundreds of billions stored away, and that's encouraging.

The unused water power of this nation is worth tens of billions, and other tens of billions for irrigation afterward. That's encouraging, and also the fact that in the atmosphere above there are endless billions worth of nitrogen, which can be brought down by electrical power.

But there is a greater wealth, and its figures more important.

One single city, New York, has for the first time in its history MORE THAN ONE MILLION CHILDREN ENROLLED IN ITS PUBLIC SCHOOL CLASSES.

That is the REAL wealth of today, and the real power of the future.

Take away these children, and this country, with all its mines, water power and fertile soil, would amount to as little as it did when a few Indians possessed it and spent their time murdering each other.

At the Genesee, N. Y., fair Lieutenant-Governor Lowman arranged to ride one mile on the back of a five-ton elephant.

The farmers' countless laughed, as they saw 150 pounds of human being carried by 10,000 pounds of elephant.

A 10,000-pound elephant will carry on its head one mahout, to guide the big beast, and in the howdah on its back an English gentleman eager to kill a tiger without giving that tiger a chance to kill him.

Consider the gap between Kubler Khan and Automobile manufacturers who gives you for a few dollars a little machine that will carry seven people forty miles an hour, carrying more than its own weight in freight.

If our progress in THINKING had equalled our progress in LEARN-ING, we should be better off than we are.

Riding over the desert lands, destined to be the world's most beautiful garden, from Colorado to Arizona you could not resist buying land, hoping to live there some day, at the end of your mighty dollar hunt in the East.

Nothing grows until you irrigate. And when you irrigate EVERYTHING WILL GROW.

Do you put fertilizer or lime on Mojave Desert alfalfa? Not an ounce of either. Alfalfa roots go down eighteen feet through soil washed down from mountains made up of lime, minerals and centuries of growing and decaying bunch grass, grease wood and sagebrush. You cut your alfalfa seven times a year for fifteen or twenty years; then plant it again, irrigate it, and Nature does the rest.

The soil also produces democracy. Any man with a hundred million dollars who thinks he is better than some other American should go there. He would gather valuable information.

Going through that country every brown golden hill in the distance more beautiful than any palace or castle, under a magnificent blue sky as big as the country, you care nothing for news that comes out of human swarms in the East.

Your only hope is that the Government will know enough to provide the flying machines necessary to take people to that land and to protect it.

John, Hubert, official executioner at Sing Sing prison, quits his job after killing 140 in the electric chair. For this he has been paid $21,000—$150 for each killing.

Will the retiring executioner ever meet, on the other shore, the 140 that he sent on ahead? If so, what will they say to each other? Thank him, very likely.

It is difficult to find another executioner, because he must be a trained electrician, willing to kill for a living. It should be not difficult but IMPOSSIBLE to find such a man in a civilized state.

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

Tuberculosis Germs Not Inherited.

Most anybody nowadays can write or speak intelligently of tuberculosis. My little neighbor, a lad of ten, not yet in "Junior High" refers gravely to "T.B." when conversing with his play-fellows; the learned scientists and the statistician bewilder us with technical facts. What to do with the disease however—to combat it successfully—remains a dark and unfathomable secret. We have found out to a certainty that its cause is a definite bacillus, a living, virile organism, shaped like a rod, multiplying by dividing itself into shorter sections when each individual reaches maturity. Colonies assembled produce peculiar tissue-growth—tubercles,—nature trying to ward off the intruder. When the bacilli develop destructive power within the tubercle, its walls break down, and general tuberculosis results.

The outstanding fact to be remembered in tuberculosis is, it is communicable. People do not inherit germs—they are acquired. A child may be infected, and harbor the bacteria for years without symptoms. Let him get influenza, or pneumonia or even a severe "cold" and the tubercle bacilli awaken to do serious mischief. This brings up a positive conclusion: All tubercular patients should be subjected to rules of quarantine. They should be taught to save and burn all expectorated matter, and should sleep alone, using individual bed-linen. Their towels should be kept separate and sterilized by boiling.

The germs when dry, blow everywhere! A dozen school children racing along in their glee inhaling millions of these deadly germs! If there is an ordinance in YOUR town against spitting on the sidewalk, make it include the entire street at your next meeting!
