NORMAN THINKS LEGISLATURE TO REDUCE TAXES

Representative Says Body More Conservative Than Usual

That the present session of the general assembly will find some method to effect a reduction of property taxes was the belief expressed last Saturday by Zeb Vance Norman, Washington County's representative, who spent the week-end at his home here. Mr. Norman said it was rather early yet to get any line on the type of legislation to be expected from the present session, but certain general trends of thought are easy to distinguish, and there seems to be an almost universal determination to effect a reduction in tax rates.

Another noticeable feature even this early in the session, the Washington County representative said, was that the legislature was going to put its foot down on any proposed bond issues, for permanent improvements being authorized by the assembly. On the whole, Mr. Norman said the legislature was composed of capable and substantial men, perhaps more conservative than the usual gathering.

The governor's message was almost universally approved, although opposition to some of the reforms sugsuggested by Governor Gardner, to become effective July 1, 1931, has a SUPERIOR COURT good chance to be enacted into law, Mr. Norman said. This saving of $4,-000,000, it is thought, will be reflected in the reduction of property taxes, probably by being added to the equalization fund and returned to the counties in that manner.

Mr. Norman suid he doubted if there was enough sentiment to secure a general sales tax at this session, alis possible, he said that there may be biles, radios, electric refrigerators, and such items, but he does not look for a tax on cigars, cigarettes, candies, etc. The proposal to ad one more cent to the gasoline tax has a number of friends, but there will probably be opposition to this, and it is too early to make any forecasts, Mr. Norman

Several Recommendations Made As Result of Investigations

The Washington County jury, selected here Monday, made its report to Judge Harris in superior court Tuesdav' afternoon, several recommendations for improvements being suggested as the result of investigations conducted by members and committees of the jury. An unusual feature was the report of a thorough investigation made of all school trucks in the coun-

The trucks were found to be generally in good condition, although a number were without proper lights, and several had broken window glasses. Brakes were reported weak on three trucks, and two had no horns. The jury reported that the county had a full-time mechanic to look after the trucks, and that repairs are made as rapidly as possible by this man.
